TEMPERANCE.

The time having arr ived when the practicability of carrying out the of Newcastle, held in the Temperance Scott Act is to be tested, it becomes Hall there was a smaller attendance than the duty of temperance people, and usual. The meeting was called to order of all others interested in the wellfare of the County, to lend their aid to be excused. Mr. W. C. Anslow was in carrying out the law. While all then nominated and appointed.

are more or less interested either Mr. Chas. Marshall, Sec'y of Trustees directly or indirectly in securing the acting as Secretary. sult from the faithful observance of the law, there are nevertheless many lowing who are indifferent-who take n interest either for or against th liquor traffic; while others wi be found willing to lend their aid keeping up the traffic, even thoug it be done illegally. To meet th opposition of those who are directl interested in the maintenance of th traffic, as well as to counteract th indifference of others, it is necessar that there shou d be united effort of the part of all who are in any wa associated in temperance work, n matter under what name that wor is being carried on. There should be a mass meeting of the friends reform, at which there should representatives from every distric in the County. At this meeting a matters in connection with the carry ing out of the law could be full discussed. Unless there is unite effort in this matter the law will b to all intents and purposes, a dea letter. It is the duty of those wh were mainly instrumental in fir setting the ball in motion in th County to see that it is kept moving and any efforts they may put fort in this direction will receive th countenance and support of temper ance workers in the various localitie With the decision of the Privy Cour cil, whatever it may be, we have now nothing to do. We have deal only with the Law as it not stands, sustained as it has been the Supreme Courts of New Brun wick and of Canada, and it is th duty of all law-abiding citizens lend their aid in securing its obse vance. Whatever may be its de fects, it is nevertheless scalculated advance the public good. To the Editors of the "Advocate." DEAE SIRS. — During a ramble the other day I called at a friend's house, and while there was handed a file of newspapers, among which I observed the "Miramichi among which I observed the "Miramichi Advance," a paper seldom seen in this sec-tion of the Province, and not very popular. In scanning its contents my attention was directed to a letter signed "More Anon," which opened the conversation with my host, and caused me to keep my ears open during the rest of my rambles through the County. As I am one of those somewhat interested in political affairs, I thought it would be a good pastime for me during my trip, and so made it the subject of discussion The following is the list of officers o St. John Lodge, No. 27, F. & A. would be a good pastime for me during my trip, and so made it the subject of discussion wherever I went, in order to ascertain as to how the public pulse was beating. Well, I went through two parishes, and among the names spoken of as likely to be in the field for the Commons, I did not hear any name more highly spoken of than that of John McAlister, Esq., and my opinion is that whatever the Parish of Addington falls abort of making his election certain, (if he J. should be in the field) the denciency will be more than made good by the votes in Dur-ham and Colborne. From the opinion con-erally expressed, it seems that neither Mr. Haddow nor any other oppenent of the pre-sent Government will stand any chance of success at the Dominion election. As a pri-vate citizen Mr. Haddow is well enough, but in this County his carer as a represenbut in this County his career as a representative is about terminating,—the people are tired of his determined opposition to the Macdonald administration, which does not agree with his stand as an "independent" at the last election; and in addition to this there is objection to that gentleman on acthere is objection to that gentleman on ac-count of the personal insinuations indulged The Rink is to be opened with a grand carnival on the 31st January.
