Full Face Profile.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Did you ever notice how very different the same person looks when you see him or her profile instead of full face?

At the little Inn where I sometimes spend part of my summers, two of us who were sitting on the veranda one day became quite interested in what we took to be a new guest. He was sitting in a corner of the veranda about fifteen feet away. The time was just after dinner of a summer evening, and while there was no bright sunlight, neither had the twilight begun to fall. "Who is that?" we asked each other. "He looks rather nice," we said. And then he turned. And behold, it was (as you have guessed) a young man who had been staying a full week at the Inn. As he sat on the veranda rail, we could see only his profile, and it was so absolutely different from his full face that we had both been deceived.

Her Mother's Profile, Her Father's Face.

Again I recently met a young girl, whose father and mother I used to know, and made this interesting discovery about her. Looked at full face, she was a perfect ingenue type, all innocence, eagerness and sweetness. But when you looked at her in profile you found to your surprise that her nose was aquiline, her chin very determined and the whole effect was one of dominance and aggression. The front face was her father's, a gentle, courteous, unusually sweet tempered and unspoiled person, the profile, her mother, a much more dominating and aggressive society matron.

Two Sides to Every Face.

Another discovery, which you have doubtless already made, is how different the two sides of a face may be. Almost everyone has a good and a bad, or shall we say a good and a better, side. Sometimes one cannot tell just why this is, and again, one can trace the effect to its cause. It may be that the mouth is a bit crooked, and the line is not so good on one side as the other; or it may be that the hair waves more attractively on the right than the left, or the eyes may be different. If you look closely you will be surprised to find how many people have one eye a bit different from the other.

And the Eyebrow is Only a Lesser Feature.

Faces are quite the most interesting thing in the world to me—their infinite variety, their play of expression, their alluring beauty, their fascinating ugliness, their likeness and unlikeness to each other, their vast possibilities when looked at as the indices of character. I can quote understand the lady in Stevenson's essay who said she could wonder herself crazy over the mystery of a human eyebrow. I think a book could easily be written on eyebrows alone. And this is but one of the lesser features of the face!

Household Notes.

Pineapple juice will remove cherry stains from the hands.

Reduce the quantity of "leftovers" by carefully planning.

Many people unable to eat other sweets can indulge in honey.

Wine dressing poured over fruit salad makes it very delicious.

In boiling vegetables, just enough water to cover is a good rule.

Canned consomme can be used for the basis of an excellent gravy.

Save all the discarded neckties—they may be useful for patching.

Hold a hot shovel over varnished furniture to take out white spots.

Never have the firebox of the stove more than three-fourths full.

Stand fruitcake batter in the refrigerator over night before baking.

White pepper is less irritating to the lining of the stomach than black.

When cutting layer cake, place a glass over the centre and cut around it.

Sun and cleanliness are two of the best preventatives of moths in woolens.

A good paste is made with grated potato and boiling water. Boil till thick.

Though it gives an inferior flavour, lard makes a more tender crust than butter.

An attractive dessert is different colored gelatine creams in layers in sherbet glasses.

Cold tea used on varnished floors or woodwork of any kind will give it a beautiful lustre.

Try dipping liver in milk before frying. It will fry a nice brown and will not be hard.

COME FIT TO THE TASK.

Come fit to the task, with an eye that can see

The goal in the distance whatever it be. Have your brain at its keenest, your strength at its best.

And your glad spirit eager to get at the test. Be ready for service, not weary and glum—

Too worn out to battle the trials that come. But, with eyes bright and shining, to duty advance. You can conquer by giving yourself a fair chance.

Don't burn out your strength in life's revelry gay; Too many have gone down to failure. Don't think you can sit up too late in the night.

And come to your toll at the top of your might. Don't think that your work doesn't call for your best. Or that yours is a goal you can reach without rest.

Neither glory nor fortune await you off there. If unto yourself you are always unfair.

The hand that's unsteady, the eye that is blurred. And the strength that resents when to action it's stirred.

Are ever the victims of failure and fear. They are lost when the problems perplexing appear. And the men who succeed are the clear-brained and true.

Who are ready for all that life gives them to do. For the most that success of a man ever asks is that he shall be ready and fit for its tasks.

OUR WONDERFUL LANGUAGE. "Did you call Edith up this morning to breakfast before the fish got cold?"

"Yes, but she wasn't down." "But why didn't you call her down?" "Because she wasn't up."

"Then call her up now and call her down for not being down when you called her up."

Misleading Names.

There are many mistaken notions that can be accounted for by the misleading names given to various things.

Nothing is more natural than to assume that India ink comes from India but it does not, any more than did Indiarubber. The first originated in, and comes from, China, and should be called Chinese ink, as it is in France, and the latter comes from Central and South America.

Camel-hair brushes are not made from the hair of camels, but from the tails of Russian and Siberian squirrels; and "genuine" French brist-root pipes are not made from the roots of briar, but from the root of a white heath, which reaches a considerable size, and is cultivated in the South of France for pipe-making purposes.

Silkworms are not worms, but caterpillars. Sealing-wax contains no wax; and sweet spirits of nitre do not contain any nitre.

Finally, if you think a centipede has a hundred feet, count them and see. You will find more than thirty feet on the largest size.

Milady's Boudoir.

THE FRESH AIR TREATMENT FOR BEAUTY.

The only sensible way to make your complexion healthy and pink is to fill your lungs the life long day with plenty of fresh air and so destroy all the waste and poisonous tissues.

Make it your business to fit up a small and inexpensive sleeping porch, and sleep out of doors all summer. If you live in the country and your house has a large veranda, turn this into sleeping porches and insist on the whole family sleeping out of doors.

You may have been humoring yourself with the idea that you cannot take cold baths in winter time; the shock is too much for your heart action. If your heart is strong, summer is a good time for you to get used to cold water. Perhaps when you once get accustomed to it you will want to keep it up all year around. It is worth while trying over the summer at least.

Taking cold baths may stimulate the desire for swimming, especially if you have a good natatorium or small lake near you. After you once learn you will find it a delightful sport, and it is as healthy as it is pleasurable.

This is only a small part of your exercise for the summer months. If you are seated all the time or most of the time at your work, you need movement exercise, to energize your muscles. You should count on five miles a day at least, and more when you have a half day off, or are on your vacation.

This will keep you strong of mind no less than of body. To enjoy all the pleasures of walking go in the parks and in the country whenever you can. Do not be thwarted in this desire because you have to take a trolley or a train to get there. You will be liberally compensated by this extra expenditure of energy.

SURE CURES.

There is a cure for every ill that gives your frame a wrench; a porous plaster or a pill, a capsule or a drench. No matter what disease you have, some delegate is nigh, to tell you of a healing salve that makes your anguish fly. Some learned physician has the dope—it costs one buck a throw—that will revive the springs of hope and abrogate your woe. Some ancient dame in humble garb can brew a magic tea, the essence of some mystic yarb, to cure your housemaid's knee. This being true, as true it is, why are we in the soup, with gout and mumps and rheumatism, with rabies, itch and croup? Why do we weep and suffer on, and beastly fills endure, when we can buy a demijohn that's guaranteed to cure? Why do we die before our time and fill the boneyard lot when there are remedies sublime, that always hit the spot? I button-holed the village doc, and asked him things like these; for I was full, from neck to hock, of every punk disease. "That's easy," said the doc, "you hick; men's judgment is so poor, they always wait till they are sick before they take the cure."

If cauliflower has dark spots it is not fresh. Pickled bananas go well with cold meats.

ENTENTE BLAMED.

LONDON, Mar. 24. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Hungary's adoption of Bolshevism is regarded most seriously by the Anglo-French press, chiefly as endangering the Entente's effort to build up Rumania, Polish and Czechoslovak states as bulwarks against the German domination of Central Europe. All three states are menaced by advancing Bolshevist armies, and the Entente, decided on by the Peace Conference, was intended to make Rumanians desist attacking the Hungarians, while it closed the gap between Rumania and Poland. According to a Vienna despatch, the Entente note, which precipitated the crisis, was dated March 19th, and directed the zone about 140 miles long and 40 wide, virtually shutting Hungary behind the rivers Theiss, Szamos and Maros, and including the towns of Grosewarde and Debrecz, and the whole country behind them. The note required the withdrawal of Hungarian troops behind the western boundary of the belt within ten days, and authorized the Rumanians to advance to the eastern boundary. The Entente note, which was issued by Allied troops, was received at Budapest, and caused the crisis. It is more probably due to the occupation of parts of Hungary by Czechoslovak forces, and the Rumanians, while the signs are not wanting that Germany is in collusion with the Bolshevists. Ex-Colonial Minister Dernberg, writing to the Berlin Tageblatt, says that Germany, threatened with dishonor instead of security on the west, must turn eastwards to satisfy her needs and realize her future.

NO FOOD UNTIL TERMS ACCEPTED. LONDON, Mar. 24. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Replying to a question in the House of Commons, Mr. McCurdy, Secretary of the Food Controller, stated that no food had yet been sent to Germany, except to areas occupied by the Allied Forces. He would not be sent unoccupied Germany, until the German Govt. had fulfilled the preliminary terms regarding shipping and finance. Some food was already at Rotterdam, in anticipation of the fulfilment of these conditions. About forty-five thousand tons of food stuffs had arrived in Germany.

IS IT A NEW MOVE.

AMSTERDAM, Mar. 23. Nothing developed to-day, to show that there was any substance to the reports that a menace of some sort was hanging over former Emperor William. In his retreat in the Von Bentinck Castle here, a severe attack of this evening, the latest hour when a telegraphic message could be despatched, nothing had occurred to call for the services of the strong guards which had been established about the castle. The guards continued, however, to perform their duties, although their watchfulness had been somewhat relaxed after the ex-ruler had stepped back across the draw bridge from his morning trick at log sawing.

LICENSE EXEMPTION.

LONDON, March 24. An order will be issued by the British Government exempting from the requirement of treasury licenses, all issues of securities by companies established in the United Kingdom, in cases where the issuing company certifies that no part of the issue is to be applied for capital purposes outside the kingdom. It was announced in the House of Commons to-day, by J. Austen Chamberlain, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Issue by British companies for capital purposes abroad, he added, are still subject to control.

DESPOTIC AND BRUTAL.

NEW YORK, March 24. Postmaster General Burleson's action in dismissing Clarence Mackay, as President of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, was characterized by Mr. Mackay as "despotic and brutal." In a statement issued here to-night on his return from Baltimore, where he was when the dismissal notice was served at the company's offices here last Saturday.

AUTO-AIRPLANE.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Mar. 24. Under automatic control, an airplane, capable of carrying a heavy load, and operated without a human guide, has made a trip of one hundred miles and landed at New York point it set out to reach, New York. Baker, Secretary of War, disclosed it in address here to-day. The device, which made such a flight possible, and which has been kept a secret, Mr. Baker said, is an automatic guide for airplanes, and was invented in the United States. It is designed as an instrument of war, and the Secretary
