C.W.A. Collection

The members of the Child Welfare Association are making a house to house visitation on Monday for the purpose of raising funds to enable them to carry on the work in which they are engaged. To a very great extent the organization depends upon the philanthropy of the community. As we have already pointed out, the grants from the Government and the Municipal Council do not cover more than a quarter of the expenditure, and the growing demands made upon the services of the C.W.A. are steadily increasing its responsibilities.

The method of making the collection has been decided upon to enable as many as possible to help in the work, and a small contribution will be just as welcome from those who cannot afford more than the larger donations from others.

The calls for help in St. John's, it is true, are many, and the response is at all times generous in a worthy cause, particularly in a matter which concerns the interests of the community. No less generous is the voluntary aid rendered by the women of the city in such undertakings. They give freely of their time and services whenever called upon, and it is entirely due to them that such organizations as the Child Welfare Association can carry on its good work. On such an occasion as this an opportunity is afforded the public to show in a practical manner how fully their services are appreciated, and it is certain that it will be availed of.

That the work is succeeding in removing many of the existing evils is manifest, and the time, we are convinced, is approaching when, because of the educational value of the work, the demands made upon the Child Welfare Association will become less. That time has, however, not yet arrived, and to hasten it, the co-operation of the public is sought. The immediate purpose of the collections on Monday is to establish an endowment fund which will ensure the continuous working of the Association, and as any curtailment of its activities at the present time would undo much of the good work already accomplished, it is to be hoped that the members will meet with every success.

Fatal Accident at Corner Brook Mills

An accident which resulted in the death of Joseph Ruth is reported in a message received to-day by the Justice Department from Magistrate Scott of Curling. The message reads as follows: "Joseph Ruth of Summerside met with an accident at the Paper Mills, Corner Brook, by slipping into moving machinery which crushed one leg. He was removed to hospital where amputation took place but the man died shortly after."

The deceased is about 50 years of age and is married.

The Day of Atonement

Sunday evening, September 27th, commences for Jewish people all over the world the twenty-four hours of prayer and fasting called Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. It is the concluding day of the ten penitential days which began last Saturday on the New Year. These ten days are set apart from all others in the year as a period of reflection and soul examination.

A beautiful and solemn service is held in all synagogues that night throughout the world. The music that evening is striking and soul-stirring. The pulpit coverings are all in white to emphasize the sacredness of the occasion, and the opening melody is the traditional "Kol Nidre" which is known in all lands. According to tradition, and long believed, this melody arose during the days of the Spanish Inquisition. In order to save their lives, Jews outwardly practised Christian rites and professed that religion. Every Yom Kippur Eve during the hours of darkness, Jewish Christians, or as these secret believers were called, Marranos, annually pledged allegiance to the God of Israel.

The Day of Atonement traces back to the Bible, Leviticus XXIII. "On the tenth day of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement, a holy convocation shall it be unto you, and ye shall fast; and yet shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, and no manner of work shall ye do on this day; for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the Lord, your God." (27, 28). From Bible days to the present, wherever the Jew has lived, this solemn day has been most rigidly observed by twenty-four hours of fasting and withdrawing from all active commercial enterprises.

The following morning services begin early and continue until sundown without interruption. Frequently, a special service is held around noon-time for the children. Strangely enough, despite the feeling of awe and sanctity which clothes Yom Kippur in our day, there are Bible verses which indicate that originally it was an occasion for a Fall celebration. All evidences of social enjoyment have been dropped, and to-day the Jewish people in every part of the universe consider this Day of Atonement as an occasion of "Atonement" with their God. The service concludes at sundown with the blowing of the Shofar, or ram's horn, after which the people return to their homes and their several occupations.

Readers are reminded that the annual collection for the Belvedere Orphanage will be taken up at the R.C. Church to-morrow. We understand that at present there are one hundred and ninety children being taken care of by the good Nuns in charge, although the normal capacity does not exceed one hundred and fifty. This is a collection that should appeal to the very noblest ideals of our generous people and we feel certain that the total to-morrow morning will be handed over to the little Orphans will be in excess of last year's amount.

Death of Mr. W. J. Edmanson

A cable from Toronto this morning to Mr. Gerald S. Doyle announced the death there yesterday afternoon of Mr. William J. Edmanson, founder of the firm of Edmanson Bates Co., Ltd., manufacturers of Dr. Chase's Medicine. Mr. Edmanson was one of the most successful proprietary medicine manufacturers in Canada and was acknowledged the keenest and most progressive advertising man in this business in the Dominion. He was a great lover of Newfoundland having visited here with his family two years ago and planned spending some time here again next summer. Left to mourn are his wife and two daughters, Miss Edmanson and Mrs. A. W. Chapman, one brother James and one sister Miss A. Edmanson, besides a wide circle of friends in Toronto and many in Newfoundland.

Be it a dime or a dollar, give with a good heart to-morrow. Belvedere's fatherless little ones need your help. Sept. 26, 1925.

Silver Cliff Mine

Work at Silver Cliff which re-opened two years ago after the mines had been closed for nearly forty years, has been temporarily suspended owing, it is stated, to insufficient working capital. Those interested claim that there is no doubt about the value of the property, and the only question is to find funds for developing a sufficient number of ore bodies to keep the concentrating plant in continual operation. With this attained the mine, it is said, would pay handsome dividends. From the beginning the promoters were handicapped for lack of capital and another drawback was insufficiency of power. The latter was not remedied until April last and by that time the finances were running low so that very little mining could be accomplished. Efforts are now being made in the London and New York markets to interest capitalists and it is expected that within a few weeks the company will be again in a position to resume operations.

TURKEY READY TO REFUSE BRITISH

LONDON, Sept. 25.

Rushdi Bey, head of the Turkish delegation to the League of Nations Council at Geneva, is quoted as saying that the possibility of war between Turkey and Great Britain rests entirely with the latter country. Rushdi Bey declared, according to the report, that Turkey would not accept any decision either of the League of Nations or the Hague Tribunal that did not give Mosul to Turkey. The Turkish suggestion of a solution that might prevent a conflict is the demilitarization of the entire Mosul zone, but he declared that if English troops enter the disputed territory, all arrangements have been made for their repulse.

Rink Shareholders Meet

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the St. John's Skating Rink, Ltd., was held yesterday at the Rink. There was an exceptionally large attendance. The Directors appointed for the ensuing year are: W. A. Reid, David Baird, E. A. Bowring, L. E. Emerson, C. McK. Harvey and Hon. W. S. Monroe. Plans for the improvement of the Rink were discussed and several suggested alterations will be taken up at a meeting to be held next week. Mr. James Bragg has been appointed foreman of the Rink.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

Sept. 26th—Kept at home all this morning by reason of a great ache in my stomach and, methinks, from the ptarmigan I did eat last night, being that I had more perhaps, than I should have eaten. However, do recover somewhat towards lunch, albeit do not eat with the same heartiness that ever I do, being in good health. The news sheet filled this day with correspondence which Mr. McNelly, the attorney, publishes, and about the position of the Attorney General and divers firms that did have agreements with the Cabal. Mr. McNelly, it seems, did seek for Mr. Higgins' dismissal from office, which the Governor refuses to do, being that he considers the Attorney General's position to be in accordance with the constitution. No other news all this day and I coming home betimes, to bed, wearing my new bed suit, which I do much admire, being stripes of black and mauve.
