CORINTH,

On Thursday an alteration took place between two neighbor farmers east of the village. It appears that Mr, B. had a dog which became a great nusiance to Mr. A. by trespassing on his premises. To disci-pline the dog, a shot gun was brought to bear upon the snimal, which started for home, making the air resound with his howls. Mr. B. rushed across to the stables of Mr. A. and acused him of shooting his dog, Mr. A. demed the mild accusation. Neighbor B. told him that he belonged to the Ananias tribe and dealt him a blow in the face. This aroused the pacific nature of Mr. A., and he seized his opponent and quickly disfigured his physiogomy and closed his visual organs. The case will come up before Squire A. L. Cook's court, where justice will be meted out.
