Dantsic, northeastern Prussia. A Fiery Speech in the French

Chamber. PARIS, July 17 .- The floors and galleries of the Chamber of Deputies were crowded today when Pourquery De Boisserin, Radical Republican, ascended the tribune to speak against the Government's anti-Anarchist Bill. The bill, he declared, was a retrograde measure, and more tyrannical in its provisions than any law enacted under the monarchy or empire. He denounced the parties of the Right and Center and the Socialists, the former for their connection with the Panama canal scandals and the Socialists for their teachings, and declared that all of them had contributed to the spread of the spirit of anarchy. The speaker's remarks elicited a storm of protests and denials. Pourquery De Boisserin declared the Republican Government had neglected to introduce and advocate legislation favorable to the masses. He concluded by heaping reproaches upon the Dupuy Ministry. At the conclusion of the speech the uproar in the Chamber was prolonged. M. Brisson (Radical) stigmatized the bill as a reactionary measure. It was not a Draconic law that was necessary, but it was rather a more thorough and effective system that was needed. With this improvement the existing laws would abundantly suffice. (Radical cheers.)

British Parliament. today Lord Salisbury formally moved the second reading of the Alien Immigrants neglect on the part of the Ministry, he declared, that the alien question had not been touched. When Lord Salisbury was in power the case agaidst alien immigrants was infinitely stronger than it is now, as immigration was much greater, yet the Conservative Ministers then opposed any special legislation on the ground that aliens were few, and that the right of asylum in England ought to be upheld. Lord Rosebery quoted copiously from statistics showing that immigration was now at a lower point than it had reached in many years. The bill, he said, had not the slightest chance of becoming a law, and it was therefore a waste of time to put it through the House of Lords. On the authority of the Home Office he could deny the allegation that any plot against a foreign Government or an official of a foreign Government had been hatched in England since the present Ministry came into power. He advised Lord Salisbury by all means to drop the measure. Lord Salisbury expressed regret at the Government's refusal to support the bill which was necessary legislation in the direction of protecting the workingmen against the competition of low-priced labor and also as a preventive of England's becoming a permanent asylum for Anarchist refugees. He declined to withdraw the President E. V. Debs, of the American

SENSATIONAL CLIMAX.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 17 .- There was a sensational climax late this afternoon to the troubles that have disturbed railroad circles during the past three weeks, when Railway Union, and his cabinet, Vice-President Geo. W. Roward, General Secretary Sylvester Keliher and L. W. Rogers, chairman of the executive committee, were tion of the injunction issued July 2 by Judges Woods and Grosscup, restraining them from combining and conspiring to hinder in the State commerce, traffic or the movement of the United States mails. The imprisonment of the chiefs of the railway union was not in any sense an arbitrary proceeding. An opportunity was afforded the defendants of presenting bonds for their appearance in court a week hence. This proposition, however, was rejected on the ground as emphasized by President Debs after the court had rendered its ultimatum that the principle involved was one entirely too serious in its nature to admit of the defendants availing themselves of any technicalities that might be regarded as loopholes. Bondsmen offered aid to the union leaders, but their overtures were declined and the prisoners suffered themselves to be taken to will remain until Monday morning of next week. In support of the contention of the Government that defendants violated the court's injunction . several scores of telegrams, which had been secured from a telegraph company under a ruling of the court, were cited. These are specimens of the whole: "To Court Head, South Butte, Mont .paralysis will follow."

"Potatoes and ice are out of sight. Save your money and buy a gun. E. V. DEDS." "To W. F. Smith, Grand Junction, Col. -It will take more than injunctions to mission was refused. move trains. Get everybody out. We are gaining ground everywhere. E. V. DEBS." Only a few of these dispatches had been of the injunction. At 4:30 Marshal Arnold escorted the prisoners to an open carriage, in which they were driven to the county jail. On their arrival at the jail the prisoners were Cheyenne and Rawlins are very bitter courteously received. The marshal did against the men who have taken their the introductory honors, and the prisoners | places. shock hands cordially with their new custodian. No feature of jail methods was, however, relaxed in their behalf. On the demand of the turnkeys they held up their hands and submitted to a search. They were deprived of all their valuables and then led to cells in the debtors' depart-

A REIGN OF TERROR. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 17 .- A second battle was fought at slope No. 4 of the Pratt mines simultaneously with that at No. 3, and the total number of dead reaches six, with at least a score wounded.

Forty-two alleged miners were jailed this morning on a charge of murder; 50 more will be arrested. A monster citizens' indignation meeting is being held here now, and as the excitement is intense further trouble is feared. Military companies are arriving from various parts. Last night 700 troops were here.

Several attempts were made during the night to burn lroad cars in the yards here, but they were unsuccessful. An attempt was made to wreck the Louisville and Nashville passenger train, No. 4, by breaking a switch. A reign of terror prevails.

Two more were added to the number of victims of the casualty at slope No. 3 by finding this morning the dead bodies of a Mountain, and many of the buildings are Frenchman and a colored man. The former was one of attacking force and the latter a miner. The mines and railroad shops are guarded tonight by soldiers, with a heavy reserve in camp.

Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, got back from Chicago today. He eays if there is any coldness or quarrel between him and Debs he (Gompers) does not know of it. President Gompers says Debs'assertion that the strike is still on is true, and there will doubtless be more men who will go out in support of Debs and his strikers. They will be workmen, however, contiguous to localities already affected, and in trades in some way connected with the railroads or that the railroads are dependent upon. Mr. Gompers said the Federation intended to do all in its power to assist the American Railway Union in a moral way. There would be no pro rata financial assessment to give assistance to them, but the unions have generally given voluntary financial aid.

SPIRIT VS. SPECTATOR. Lively Wrestling Scene at a Seance in Bradford, Pa.

BRADFORD, Pa., July 17 .- Local spiritists are all torn up over an exposure made by one of their number at a seance at the house of James Campbell, on Congress Place in this city. The exposure was made Sunday night. About 30 members of the local spiritist circle attended the seance and paid $1 each for the privilege of conversing with the deceased individuals who were to come to earth through the influence of Medium Orens Steven's. The room was darkened, and at the proper time a tail, white figure appeared at the cabinet opening. The white spirit made a speech and disappeared. Then a baseball ghost, who said he had been killed in a hot game in Tennessee some years ago, appeared and jumped about the room, showing how he threw his curves. The phenomenal pitcher gave a specimen of his style in the presence of W. L. Dudley, a spectator. Dudley clutched the ghost and found it to be a very active individual still in the flesh. Dudley is a muscular man, but the spirit kept him hustling. Finally the spirit put a strangle hold on the investigator and got back to his cabinet. Great confusion followed, and in the excitement Stevens reappeared and said he was a Southern gentleman and could lick the man that had grabbed him. He thus acknowledged that he had impersonated the ghost of the ball-player, and still there were believers present who joined him in denonucing Dudley. Peace was finally restored and the next day the medium left town. Dudley will have him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses if he returns to this place. Stevens came here last fall from Indianapolis, and has lived in clover since. He is a Lily Dale star, and will probably appear there in his specialties during the summer.

Destructive Apple Tree Blight,

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y., July 17 .- A new and as yet unexplainable blight has struck the apple orchards of Wyoming and adjacent counties, which threatens the total destruction of the crop. The apple crop is worth $1,000,000 a year to the farmers of this part of the State. At the opening of the season its prospects were never brighter. Within two weeks a blight has spread over the orchards, causing the leaves to shrivel and turn yellow, and the young apples to fall to the ground. One farmer alone in this vicinity says his annual crop, in average seasons, of 1,000 barrels of apples is lying on the ground, the fruit having grown to about the size of cherries. Similar reports come from all parts of the apple district. This blight never appeared in western New York before. It is not the result of any worm or
