J. Pierpont Morgan, the Second

Harvard.

talks like his father did, acts like his him in the millionaire class. father acted, and smokes big, black He knows every detail of the im-He spent years in the Morgan both in America and Europe.

They have four children, with whom young Morgan spends all the spare passed between them in the years negative public, says Mr. Paul, as "a prodigy of learning." He was often quoted as an example of natural gifts buried under an accumulation of excessive knowledge. The image of a Dryasdust, of a bookworm, of a walking diction-privilege of his acquaintance he and effective reader, he was anything

The Man Acton.

one took a stronger interest in the events of the day and the gossip of the hour. His learning, though vast and genuine, was never obtruded.

Always ready to impart information,

he shrank from the semblance of volunteering it. The force and orginality of Lord Acton's conversation are reflected and may be inferred from his epistolary style. In absolutely

The Passing of Winter Leaves

People Weak and Depressed.

As winter passes away it leaves

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale

People are an all-year-round blood builder and nerve tonic, but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength com-mences with their use and the vigor

There is just one cure for lack of double the value of the food we eat.

tonic at this season give Dr. Wil-

Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

pills—the pills that strengthen.

cheerfulness of good health

many people feeling weak, depressed tired.

blood alone can give.

quickly follows:

the complexion of

IN THE SPRING

The body

force and energy which lacks

such a diocese.

of the day.

criticism, but science.

IMPURE BLOOD

"No man had a keener zest for the society of his intellectual equals. No mind."

by Mr. Herbert Paul.

He looks like his father did at 46, ent of his father's millions that puts his father's eight years ago as the roy-ally nominated heir to the throne.

He is a member of the New York Jane Norton Grew became his wife Stock Exchange and of a dozen or more Young Morgan spends all the spare He hates sham, pretense and the time he can steal from the banking flashy ways of the new rich. James J. Hill, who has watched the He is six feet tall, weighs 200 pounds, young man closely and has been his and is fond of outdoor sports, being tutor in several branches of finance, particularly partial to yachting and says:

tennis in which he is expert.

"He's a chip off the old block."

Such was the writer of these letters to Mary Gladstone. Mr. Paul calls him "an international man," and no wonder, for "an Italian birthplace, a German mother, and an English father stamped him from the beginning as a citizen of the world," and he kept up

he tradition by marrying a Bavarian

To read these letters is to get into

[From Public Opinion, London, Eng.]

listener

LETTERS OF LORD ACTON A PRODIGY OF LEARNING

Lord Acton was an intimate friend urcongenial company he would mainmotive, though they move the same westing public against loss because of his death. For the past four years—counters upon the same board—learn—counters upon th most frequent correspondents was his daughter, Mary Gladstone. Some of the very interesting letters which passed between them in the years formered by a community of ed that the death of J. P. Morgan was no longer something to be guarded no longer something to be guarded no longer something to be guarded of the tremendous quarks. Perhaps Mr. Morgan did not against. Perhaps Mr. Morgan did not set those rumors going. But if he did set those rumors going. But if he panic of 1907—he has been lessenting to be guarded it is she had been obliged to take during the panic of the tremendous quarks. Perhaps Mr. Morgan did not set those rumors going. But if he panic of 1907—he has been lessenting to be guarded of the tremendous quarks. Perhaps Mr. Morgan did not set those rumors going. But if he did set those rumors going it was merely as an act of wise presented in getting the part of the tremendous quarks. 1880 to 1898 have just been published forehead, his deep, sonorous voice, his vision-by Macmillan (10s. net), introduced piercing eyes, and his air of vigilant amity repose, were the outward signs of good talker because he was a good He was backed and surrounded by ed to have been directed toward put Lord Acton was known to the genuine power. . . . He. was a such men as Henry P. Acton and His Students. "At Cambridge the Professor History was in perpetual contact with fresh minds eager to know and transmit what they acquired. those to whom he was a name and genuine students he was a mine nothing more. To those who had the information, and would give what who came to him, as his Cambridge appeared almost the precise opposite. Who came to him, as his Cambridge pupils came, for assistance and inof the world. An insatiable, systematic struction, went away not merely satisfied and enlightened, but moved by the profundity and touched of his knowledge, the generosity of as a reporter on the Tribune, and there beneficiaries. his temper, and the humility of his

Lord Acton's swift references to are glad of the excuse to dip once to be known as a literary woman. them, to books, and to passing events. more into the work of a writer of Canon Liddon was evidently a man Shakespeare as an asteroid is to the probably did not know that herself, and the made a great impression on sun. Now the comparison is felicitous certainly her own age did not thrust sun. Now the comparison of these objects of Acton. "Assuredly," he said, "Liddon inasmuch as both of these objects of is the greatest power in the conflict nature are heavenly bodies. More- her. A publisher who had bought with sin and in turning the souls of over, for the purposes of literary meta"Northanger Abbey" for ten pounds men to God that the nation now phor, they may be said to be of the repented of his bargain, and was too possesses (1885). He is also among all same light and substance but to differ glad to have back his money in repossesses (1889). He is also among all same light and substance but to differ glad to have back his money in rethe clergy the man best known to only in dimensions. Nevertheless the turn for the manuscript. When she numbers of Londoners. There must be a very strong reason to justify a Minister in refusing such a bishop to "One qualification ought ot be emembered. He is more in contact than other churchmen with questions Not only politics and Paget decoursing on the brevity of life in the and there is no trace of any conscious- literary inters excellently. and lights to relate how Owen was disdays of the patriarchs, and how beautifully Liddon baffled him by tural reason for a cookatoo to live ten French Revolution. Shakespeare took the school of Mrs. Radcliffe. She was blood and that is more blood. Food times as long as a pigeon. made, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too much of distinguished men in the the realm she holds in fealty to Apollo used to copy dot-engravings, punctilichurch. I name no names, but if I is a small one—one in which con- ously placing dot by dot in the right They give strength, tone up the did I might name Pusey, Wilberforce, stomach and weak digestion, clear Mozley, Church, Westcott as men who pimples, erup- there has been some tendency to tions nad boils, and drive out rheu- over-estimate, at least in comparison with Liddon. Not that he is their If you are pale and sallow, if you superior but that he seems to me to feel continually tired out, breathless have fallen short of his due as much of its life.

On the value of the continual of the continual of its life.

headaches or backaches, if you are confidence and fame." irritable and nervous, if your joints But the Bishorpric of London was ache, if your appetite fails and food given to Temple - not to Liddon does not nourish, nor sleep refresh "Temple is vigorous and open; but you. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will he is not highly spiritual or attracmake you well and strong. To build tive, or impressive as a speaker; he up the blood is the special purpose has an arid mind and a professorial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that note in speech and manner. But he

Is why they are the best spring also understands science. . medicine. If you feel the need of a Nothing steadies a ship like a mitre. John Morley.

liams' Pink Pills a fair trial and There are several references you will rejoice in new health, new Lord Morley in these letters. In 1880 strength and new energy. Do not let he writes:-"I hope you will not the trying weather of summer find quarrel with John Morley, for he you weak and ailing. Build yourself seems to be making the Pall Mall the paper in England." Three best Liberal paper in England." World Williams. years later he says:--John Moriey for Pale People, and do not be persuaded to take something else. If your dealer does not keep these Pills they will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

writes pleasantly, but says he still a kinsman's sick bed. She would write her exquisitely delicate prose with all her exquisitely delicate prose with all him that I would have hanged Mr. resources her English rival con Burke on the same gallows as Robes- centrates into a chapter.

Of Disraeli he wrote when he was ill:—"I who think that the worst part of the man was the cause, and who had gone out. You cannot think how or the man was the cause, and who had belte out. Of eighteen or liked him better than the mass of his much I owed her. Of eighteen or party, look with dismay on the twenty writers by whom I am connarrowness and the passion of these scious that my mind has been formed she was one. Of course, I mean ways who will succeed him. . . she was one. Of course, I mean ways, With a few allowances, a good deal not conclusions. In problems of life may be said for the Tory Leader who and thought, which baffled Shakes-made England a Democracy." when Lord Acton's little daughter died (1881) he wrote:—"She has taken with her one of the strongest fold but disinterested and impartially links that attached me to this world, observant sympathy. If Sophocles or but I do not follow less keenly the movements of the man who of all now living has the greatest power of doing like Manzoni, George Eliot might have had a rival."

His Great Ideal.

Lord Acton's great ideal was to write a History of Liberty. "Not indolence, but a procrastination which "Until George Eliot, I thought George Sand the greatest writer of her sex in all literature. I cannot resulted from cherishing an impossibly read her now. But that is individual high ideal, prevented it from coming taste, not deliberate judgment. She to the light." Mr. Bryce describes taste, not deliberate judgment. She how Acton outlined his ideal to him is as eloquent as one can be in French at Cannes in six or seven inspired that Chateaubriand, Lammennais, the unreal, unhealthy eloquence minutes. 'He spoke like a man inspired; Lamartine made so popular, that nobody but Hugo strives after now.

But she had passion and understood it, and deep sympathy and speculative thought, and the power—in less degree—of creating character.

She could rise very high for a specific specific standow into the fuller with the far winding path of human progress from dim Climmerian shores of prehistoric shadow into the fuller yet broken and fitful light of the modern time.

It was as if She could rise very high, for a modern time. . . It was as if moment, and her best prose is like a passage from good poets. . . been suddenly lit up by a burst of passage from good poets. . . been suc She scatters over twenty volumes the sunlight. Morgan Fortified Immense Interests Against Death

John Pierpont Morgan is his name. He is a director of about thirty cor-He is 46 years old and a graduate of porations and an officer in almost as For Years Past He Had Been Transferring His Business to His Succeesors, Who Are Headed By His Son.

Bank in New York; more years at He avoids publicity with even greatthe head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact
the head of the Morgan interests in er success than his father—the fact the financial world, where he had been for many years an almost undisputed him to the partners, because he had him to the partners are a section to the partners are Pierpont Morgan's departure from gained an insight into motives that was not always so. "If J. P. Morgan were to die today," said one of Wall Street's most eminent men during a shaky day of the 1901 flurry, "every third bank in the Jnited States would turn over." ifications against the bogey of his them. It was comparatively easy market. Nothing ever happened. Some- event of an absolute deadlock. times the market paused. Sometimes he listened gave his judgment in lent flurries on the stock market. It there weak places in the organization was not always so. Morgan placed his great organiza tion in the hands of these younger men, and then let them run it. Now and then shrewd Wall Street observers Mr. Morgan began to throw up for- think he may have arranged a test for him, standing half-way in the shadow, Part of the work was to accustom to create problems for them to solve the public to rumors of his death. Without his instrumentalities being Every now and then an untraceable detected. He never interfered. No one rumor crept across an unbreakable dared appeal to him except in the went off a few points. More often brief, pregnant growl-and climbed merely stood still, hesitating as back by the aid of "Big Jack" Macthough in tribute to the man who had Dermott's arm into his armor-clad au-been its master, and then moved slowforward. So that speculators and and the art gallery in which he spent investors alike—and the two classes his better hours. So far as mortal man are widely separated in action and could provide he had insured the ineen grudged him down in the street.

took command of the Morgan offices. Of late years his every action seem Davison, the ting his house in order. The securiyoung vice-president. "J. P." had taken ties in which his personal fortune was from the First National Bank in those invested were of the gold-edged and trying days of 1907, because he had gem-set order. He brought over from learned to appreciate Davison's judg- England the enormous collection of ment and courage. Morgan added Wil- art objects from his Princes Gate liam H. Porter-"Silent Porter," as the house, and from the public museums banking world knew him-to the list in which they had been held, in order of Morgan partners. Porter had work- to save his estate the cost of the great ed his way to the presidency of the death duties which would have been Chemical National Bank. His judg- enforced by the British Government ment is respected in every gathering He arranged for their proper bestowof great bankers, although he has alal in the United States. The Metroways avoided the limelight. Thomas politan Museum of Art and the Na-Lamont had succeeded Davison at tional History Museum, both of the First National. Lamont began life York, were naturally enough the chief

The Coming Book On Jane Austen

[From T. P.'s Weekly, London, Eng.]

whom Tennyson said that she was to greatest of our literary women. tage of the asteroid, and to bring Miss she considered it magnificent payment, Austen into relation to Shakespeare is and her less brought her in altoto remind us of all that she did not gether less man £700. Yet Pride and have. We do not turn to her pages Prejudice" alone is worth many times for obstinate questionings; there is no its weight in gold, and it is one of the note struck of tragic passion; there are wonders of our literature that it no thrilling incidents that catch the should have been written by a brownbreath away; there are no deep or eyed, laughing girl of 21. sublime thoughts; she exhibits no have been an exceedingly self-identical mastery of rhetorical, planget speech, person who knew her own mind in ness of the vast strata of thought and hated, almost equally, the sentimental-

On the whole, if we are to compare oppressed loned songs; she went to dinner parties was glad to have lived in it. and balls and discussed her pariners. but seems to have had no romance. We find her talking brilliantly while sewing garments for the poor or tending a kinsman's sick bed. She would write

There is word of a new book upon ered it one of the best rewards of Jane Austen by the man who is most fame that it brought her into acquaintance with great writers, she shunned function atended by the German Emtouch with some of the best minds of that day. We quote here some of competent to write it, and some of us literary circles and was not anxious Yet she is in her own sylere the She feeling that had been heaved to the ism of much of the fiction of her day surface by the earthquake of the and romance as it was practiced by all humanity to be his province, where- matter-of-fact, and reality was good as it is the note of Jane Austen that enough for her; so, just as the Brontes vention has the authority of the order, she copied life, achieving her decalogue, which is inhabited by well- effects by the notation of significant to-do people, in which girls look for- defails, and infusing into the result a ward to a good settlement as the main delicate satiric spirit which is always thing to be desired in life, and which too good-humored to lacerate. Goldwin she knows to the last delicate detail Smith finds a far-off hint of feminism in her sympathy, in "Emma," with the Shakespeare with Miss Austen it must think he hears in the reflection on the chiefly be in respect of the obscurity necessitated marriage of the profligate which covers both their lives. Yet even Wickham with the hare-brained Lydia here the comparison is not perfect. the first gentle tapping on a note that for we have enough information about sounds loudly enough in the fiction of Jane Austen to know that her novels our own day. But nothing could be were not written by Bacon. For one further from the truth than to conceive thing, we know that she was a wo- of Jane Austen as a revoltee. She man first and a writer after, and that came with an intuitive knowledge of her books were the biproduct of a the world into which she had been beautiful, happy, and beneficent life, born, and she liked it. It was a world first as a rector's daughter and then full of people with the most joyous as a mature maiden lady. She played eccentricities. She had experience of the piano and sang simple, old-fash- it for 42 years, and, when she died,

Master (who is trying to make good impression on his straight-laced aunt from whom he has expectation

To the Few Without Real Anti-Skids

(It starts to rain, or the street sprinkler gets busy, and you are in your car.)

Suppose the ordinary non-skids you bought are worn down in the centre of the tread. You are getting no more protection than if you had on the regular every-day plain tread. Yet you naturally desire to be safe.

Suppose you have on plain treads-in either case you immediately think of chains.

Suppose you are in a hurry, and have no time to stop for chains even if you are willing to cut your tires to pieces using them. You then run your auto half on the brick pavement of the car tracks, and half on the wet asphalt, because you are afraid to run all four wheels on the asphalt at one time.

Suppose in making the various turn-outs from the car tracks you have one or two "near skids."

And

But-Suppose you equip your car with Dunlop Traction Treads and forever be free from the other "supposes."

Also makers of Dunlop Traction Tread Motorcycle and Bicycle Tires

Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Co., Limited Phone 2787 392 Clarence St.

"PUNCH" AND LIVINGSTONE.

On the burial of Livingstone in Westminster Abbey in 1874 Punch had Droop, half-mast colors; bow, bareheaded crowds As this plain coffin o'er the side is

To pass by woods if masts and rat-

As erst by Afric's trunks liana-h Tis the last mile, of many thousands

With failing strength, but never failing will By the worn frame, now at its rest with God, That never rested from its fight with ill.

Open the Abbey doors, and bear him To sleep with king and statesman chief, and sage, The Missionary, come of weaver-kin, But great by work that brooks no lower wage. He needs no epitaph to guard a name Which men shall prize while worthy work is known: He lived and died for good-be that

Let marble crumble; this is Living-THE KAISER'S REVENGE.

Queen Alexandra's wedding in March, 1863, was the first ceremonia He was then a small boy of 5 and of a fidgety disposition, so his uncles, the Dukes of Edinburgh and Connaught, were told off to sit next

Do You Wish to Improve Your Complexion, Hands or Hair?

If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair live and glossy, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin today the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. No other method is so agreeable, so often effective and so economical in treating poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment have been sold throughout the world for more than a generation, but to those wishing to try them without cost, a liberal sample of each will be sent free with 32-p. book on the care and treatment of the skin and hair. Address 'Cuticura,' Dept. 25D, Boston, U.S.A.

You will want to hear more of the

Blue Amberol Records

as soon as you've heard the first

In tone they are finer and clearer than any other records made. They are more lifelike. Play them once or play them 3,000 times and the result is the same, for Blue Amberol Records can't wear out. What's more, they are practically unbreakable. They are musical and mechanical triumphs. Your dealer will be glad to play them for you or we'll send particulars.

Thomas A. Edison, Inc., 100 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J., U. S. A. A complete line of Edison Phonographs and Records will be found at

WM. MoPHILLIPS, 189 DUNDAS STREET.
WILLIAMS' PIANO COMPANY, LIMITED, 194 DUNDAS STREET. CONTRACTOR AND ADDRESS OF

De Jong's Gloria Cocoa

IS A GLORIOUS BEVERAGE

DE JONG'S COCOA FACTORY, WORMERVEER, HOLLAND

him and keep him in order. The ser-linfant prince knelt down and bit his vice was long and presently he be- two uncles in the calves of their legs, gan to shuffle his feet. A warning not playfully, but in such deadly earnnudge admonished him, whereupon, est that they had much ado not to cry according to Bishop Wilberforce, "the aloud with pain."