

Many Arrivals On Water Amur and Ramona From way-Tydeus From Liverpool via Orient.

The Nelson Returned Through Stern Port Yesterday Morning.

(From Friday's Daily) There were many arrivals waterfront yesterday morning. Amur, Captain M. reached port from Skegway... Tydeus came from Liverpool, Ontario, and yesterday afternoon... which sailed from Vancouver... the tug Lorne on Tuesday with... back to Esquimalt yesterday... with a foot of water in her... through a stern port that... been made sufficiently tight.

The British ship Nelson has the Straits Straits... four years ago she encountered... on the Oregon coast and... of the P. C. S. Co. The... was not brought to this port... the Valla Valla was... There are large sums awarded... across the line, and the... exception. Her owners paid... amount to the owners of... Valla for the service rendered... (The Nelson will have... required and placed in... condition at Esquimalt, and will... be long delayed. The... of the law, but the... condition of the stern port... vessel to return. Captain... informed of the situation... the Cape route, but... however, he put about and... to Esquimalt.

The Amur had a pleasant voyage... The first class passengers... Smith, formerly deputy... in the P. C. S. Co. The... Dawson; Dr. Alfred Thompson... the member-elect... W. Thibodeau, governor... and surveyor of the Yukon... Tadar, W. W. Chambers... Trowne, H. Young, J. Egbert... Brice, B. James, W. McKee... Schultz, W. F. Fairbanks, A... J. T. Ross, Miss Simpson, J... Mrs. Stanford, Mrs. McKee... Thompson said he has a long... for the Yukon legislation, but... above all other things, a change... royalty tax and a wholly... for the Yukon... Dr. Thompson wants the... to Esquimalt.

WHAT DO YOU WANT? Not having a watch, not even his chum has one, the possessor of a watch is a man. To all watchless boys, COLONIST says send four new subscribers for Remt-Weekly Colonist $1.00 each and we will give you one of the celebrated INGERSO WATCHES.

MEAN MEN CAUSE DIVORCE. Portland Judge Says Women Are Not to Blame. Portland, Ore., March 2.—Nineteen of the divorces in Multnomah county, and in practically the entire state are due to the meanness of husbands. The divorce laws of Oregon are none too lax. In fact, I am surprised that so many women should be abused because they are not men fit to be husbands. There is never a divorce granted without cause, and in many instances there is more than one good cause. Such is the opinion of Judge Frazer concerning the so-called "force" divorces. In many cases it is not taken advantage of. Although there are a large number of divorces granted here each year, there is a number of men who are in very few instances, in his opinion, the divorce law abused; in a great many cases it is not taken advantage of. Although there are a large number of divorces granted here each year, there is a number of men who are in very few instances, in his opinion, the divorce law abused; in a great many cases it is not taken advantage of.

Remember, if you take advantage of our offer you must act as the number of watches are limited. Address: The COLONIST, Subscription Dept., VICTORIA, B.C.

Doisoning Of Mrs. Stanford

Enough Strychnine In Medicine to Kill Over Six Hundred People.

San Francisco Police Exerting Every Power to Trace the Poisoner.

Rumor Denied That Secretary and Maid Are Now Under Surveillance.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The receipt today by Acting Chief of Police John Spillane of a cable from High Sheriff Henry of Honolulu, stating that there were no less than 62 grains of strychnine in the bottle of bicarbonate of soda which Mrs. Stanford took a dose shortly before death, has aroused the detective force of this city and every effort is being made to discover who placed the poison in the harmless medicine. The police believe that bicarbonate of soda is used by the owners of the hotel where Mrs. Stanford died, and that it was secretly dropped into the bottle by a person connected with the Stanford household. The bottle containing the bicarbonate of soda and death poison originally were purchased in Australia. But, according to Miss Stanford's discovery, the bottle was refilled in this city at a local drug store.

Large Amount of Poison. The finding of the large amount of poison in the bicarbonate bottle puzzles Mrs. Stanford's relatives and attorneys. It was estimated that the bottle contained about 475,000 grains of bicarbonate of soda, which has a crystalline appearance and looks like strychnine. It would require an expert to detect the presence of strychnine, but it could be done very readily.

Mrs. Stanford's Jewelry. Honolulu, March 2.—Mrs. Stanford had in her possession when she arrived here jewelry valued at about $75,000. This was found apparently intact and has been taken care of by Mr. Heckfeld. High Sheriff Henry denied the charge that "treasures" were taken from Mrs. Stanford's jewelry. Mrs. Stanford's secretary, Bertha Berner, Mrs. Stanford's secretary, and May Hunt, her maid, are under investigation for the purpose of taking measures to show respect for the memory of Mrs. Stanford.

Disturbances on the Don. Few People Injured and Population Is Unhappy. Bostov-on-Don, March 2.—There were some disturbances here today and a few people were injured. The population is increasing.

To Succeed Lord Milner. Lord Selborne Slated to Be Governor of South Africa. London, March 2.—It is stated by the London Daily Mail this morning that Lord Selborne has been decided upon as the successor of Lord Milner to be governor of South Africa.

Fix North Sea Indemnity. Amount Reported Between 75,000 and 100,000 Pounds. London, March 2.—The Reuter Telegram Company states that the compensation for the North Sea affair has been fixed at between 75,000 and 100,000.

Anna Held Cost $130,000. Husband Has Lost That Sum Starring the Actress. New York, March 2.—In the course of a lawsuit in the Supreme court today the statement was made by a witness that F. Ziegfeld admitted he lost $70,000 exploiting his wife—Anna Held for a star, and $60,000 in promoting the light opera "Red Feather," a total of $130,000, in a short time.

Czar Receives Stoesel. Former Commander Given Warm Reception by His Emperor. St. Petersburg, March 3.—Gen. Stoesel, who was given an audience by the Emperor yesterday, was very cordial and manifested a warm interest in the general, despite the statement of her husband's losses. She wore sable furs, the most of her costume being in harmony with the expensive wraps. The case was adjourned until tomorrow to permit McCoy to do a number of things at a theatre in Brooklyn, where he is playing an engagement.

IN THE U. S. SENATE.

Washington, March 2.—The Senate today passed the sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying about $68,000,000. Various amendments were offered to the measure and most of them were debated at length. There also was discussion of the pure food bill and Senator Dooliver made a brief speech in support of his resolution providing for the appointment of a joint congressional committee to investigate the question of railroad rates.

After the Railroads. Kansas State Authorities Include Santa Fe Road in Conspiracy Suit. Topeka, March 2.—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co. is to be included in Attorney-General Coleman's suit for conspiracy against the Standard Oil Co. Mr. Coleman said tonight that the Santa Fe was left out of the original petition by an error of the stenographer. He will at once file an amended petition to include the Santa Fe. The suit will thus be brought against all the railroads in the state.

Nebraska in Line. Lincoln, Neb., March 2.—The house today passed an anti-trust bill by a vote of 73 to 10. It has still to be considered by the Senate. The bill exempts domestic corporations in its provisions, and its author, Representative Jinks, said that, while it affected all foreign corporations, it was aimed especially at the so-called beef trust and the Standard Oil Company. Publicly, by the medium of complete reports to the attorney-general, and severe penalties for violation of the anti-trust provisions, are leading features of the bill.

Kuropatkin's Recall. Report That War Council Will Consider a New Appointment. London, March 2.—The Times' Russian correspondent, telegraphs that he has a council will be held at St. Petersburg about March 5 to decide whether Gen. Kuropatkin shall be recalled. He adds that Grand Duke Nicholas or Gen. Drahomiroff are mentioned as possible successors.

Objecions of the Upholders of Provincial Rights Not Removed. From Our Own Correspondent. OTTAWA, March 2.—As a result of negotiations which have been in progress all day, basis of compromise has been reached which will settle off the threatened seceding of the provinces over the separate school question. Premier Laurier has come down. His concession was made under great pressure of circumstances. Mr. Fielding and Sir Wilfrid Laurier have given the credit of having brought the prime minister to time. What is believed to be the concession is the dropping out of the second clause of the separate school section of the bill which reads: "In the appropriation of public moneys by the legislature in aid of education and in the distribution of any moneys paid to the said province arising from the school fund established by the Dominion Lands Act there shall be no discrimination between public schools and the separate schools and such moneys shall be applied to the support of public and separate schools in equitable shares or proportion."

Objecion Not Removed. The dropping of this clause, though it does not remove the objection to the upholders of provincial rights, is more than...

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Laurier Has Climbed Down

To Prevent Disruption of Party Prime Minister Offers Compromise.

Mulock and Fielding Given the Credit for the Present Outcome.

Objecions of the Upholders of Provincial Rights Not Removed. From Our Own Correspondent. OTTAWA, March 2.—As a result of negotiations which have been in progress all day, basis of compromise has been reached which will settle off the threatened seceding of the provinces over the separate school question. Premier Laurier has come down. His concession was made under great pressure of circumstances. Mr. Fielding and Sir Wilfrid Laurier have given the credit of having brought the prime minister to time. What is believed to be the concession is the dropping out of the second clause of the separate school section of the bill which reads: "In the appropriation of public moneys by the legislature in aid of education and in the distribution of any moneys paid to the said province arising from the school fund established by the Dominion Lands Act there shall be no discrimination between public schools and the separate schools and such moneys shall be applied to the support of public and separate schools in equitable shares or proportion."

Objecion Not Removed. The dropping of this clause, though it does not remove the objection to the upholders of provincial rights, is more than...

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

Mr. Sutherland's Absence. Mr. McLean of York, raised the point that Hon. Mr. Sutherland had been absent for some time and that Mr. Hyman was acting illegally in his place as cabinet minister. He intimated that Premier Laurier had no right to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation in his pocket and suggested this would be a good time to test public feeling in Ottawa by making Mr. Hyman a cabinet minister and thus opening his seat in London. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that Mr. Sutherland tendered his resignation and assured the house that Mr. Hyman was not acting illegally in temporarily discharging the duties of a minister absent from the house. The day was devoted to intercolonial railway estimates.

THE MURDERED GRAND DUKE SERGIUS

VIEW OF THE KREMLIN. GRAND DUKE SERGIUS. NICHOLAS GATE WHERE GRAND DUKE SERGIUS WAS KILLED.

Mr. Murphy will ask: Is it the intention of the government to provide in the estimate for a ferry across the Fraser river in Quebec? Mr. J. A. Macdonald will ask: I have a number of questions to ask the minister. Mr. J. A. Macdonald will ask: I have a number of questions to ask the minister. Mr. J. A. Macdonald will ask: I have a number of questions to ask the minister.

Winnipeg, March 2.—A meeting of the House of Bishops of the province of Rupertland was held this morning at St. John, when their lordships selected Bishop Matheson for the position of Bishop of the Diocese of Rupertland and Father Lambie for the province with the title of archbishop.

Mr. Sifton's present position is not causing him any undue sufferings. There is no certainty that the compromise proposed will satisfy the Northwest members. The principle of provincial rights is a question which is being raised in many quarters. It is a question which is being raised in many quarters.

Mr. Sifton's present position is not causing him any undue sufferings. There is no certainty that the compromise proposed will satisfy the Northwest members. The principle of provincial rights is a question which is being raised in many quarters. It is a question which is being raised in many quarters.

Mr. Sifton's present position is not causing him any undue sufferings. There is no certainty that the compromise proposed will satisfy the Northwest members. The principle of provincial rights is a question which is being raised in many quarters. It is a question which is being raised in many quarters.

Mr. Sifton's present position is not causing him any undue sufferings. There is no certainty that the compromise proposed will satisfy the Northwest members. The principle of provincial rights is a question which is being raised in many quarters. It is a question which is being raised in many quarters.

Provincial Legislature

Criticism of the School Bill is PETERING OUT in the Debate.

Opposition Finds Little But the General Statements to Offer.

Bowser, McInnes and Williams Elucidate Subject and Other Matters.

Thursday, March 2. THE House assembled at 2 o'clock and after prayers read the order of business. Mr. Tanner rose to move the second reading of the bill respecting the manufacture, inspection and storage of explosives. The Premier pointed out that in the nature of things it was not within the competency of a private member to bring in such a measure, at the same time signifying his willingness to go into the matter if the hon. member would give fair consideration to his proposals. Mr. Tanner then withdrew the bill.

The School Act. Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Mr. Bowser continued the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act. He pointed out that the government and the province was to be congratulated upon the fact that they had not only been able to grapple with such an important question, while some ill considered criticism had come from the opposition, but that they had been able to bring down a bill which they considered would be a step in the right direction. He pointed out that the bill would be a step in the right direction.