SLIGHT ACCIDENT

An auto driven by a young lady got into trouble at the post office Tuesday evening. A car came into Water St. from Ritchie St.; a team was also on the street. To avoid a collision the lady steered the car sharply to the right and it just escaped a telephone pole, bringing up lightly against the hydrant in front of the Royal Bank. Fortunately little damage was done to the car.

LIVELY RUNAWAY
Tuesday afternoon, while coming through the Subway Hiram Farrer's coat became frightened by the breaking of the bridle, and bolted down Water street. Lineman Ed. Smith was driving and managed to keep the horse on the street, but going at a lively clip. At the post office the driver decided to jump, and landed on his feet, but a pole in the wagon hit him a stunning blow. The horse turned sharply towards the post office, ran up on the pavement and slipped in a heap at the steps. A child nearby had a narrow escape. Outside, breaking the harness no damage was done.
