Greceries.

Trade has been pretty fair and bright. Sugars are about the same. A good deal of fruit is moving. Valencias are quoted higher, worth 7½ strong, for fine off stock, 8½ to 9c for selected. 9½ to 9c for layers. Figs in good demand, stocks very light, good many enquiries for Malaga and natural figs in boxes and bags, also for walnuts. Bordeaux and Grenoble, New dates arrived, very nice, sample quoted 6c to 6½. Very small lots imported this season. The principal enquiries have these for Christmas fruits.

Business has been exceedingly quiet since the first of December, trade being only of a sorting character. There appears to be no hope of a revival of active quieness till cold, sharp of a revival of active usiness till cold, sharp weather sets in. In the meantime the whole-sale houses have been busy taking stock, and are preparing for next season's business. Prices of goods remain firm, with even advancing tendencies, especially in silk and woolen fabrics. The recent strike among the dyers of Germany will have its effect and still further stiffen prices in hosiery and gloves, and goods of German manufacture. Considering the weather, trade has been fairly good and the prospects for spring are, upon the whole-fair. There has been very active enquiry for white wool beas and manule cloths.

Essather.

Trade in this line has been very quiet.
Houses are all preparing for stock-taking and orders are few and far between. A few local orders are Tew and Iar between. A low local dealers are looking around, preparatory to making purchases on Jan. 1, but with this exception nothing is doing. Prices are steady and there is no accumulation. Failures down east have somewhat unsettled the market, but no one liere is badly hit.
