

THE ETERNAL PROBLEM.

OVERDRAWN

SMILE.

Forget the labours of the day, and come,
Chase away thoughts of toil when toil is done :
And let the sunshine of the world gleam through
That downcast feeling that there is in you,
Just fool yourself that all is fine to-day,
And you can smile the worries all away.