A new pamphlet discussing the Canada-U.S. Free Trade Agreement and the automotive industry has been published by the Department of External Affairs.

It is the first in a series of small-format publications designed to explain particular aspects of the Agreement in layman's terms.

The pamphlets will deal with some key economic sectors and issues covered by the Canada-U.S. Agreement. There will also be pamphlets covering the implications of the Agreement for the regions.

Distribution will be mainly in response to requests from the public either by mail or to the toll-free telephone number provided to receive orders for Free Trade kits and publications (1-800-387-0660).

For further information, call the Department of External Affairs, Media Relations Office at 613-995-1874.
