And yet wonder is expressed about the exhaustless supply of ammuni-tion to the guerillas! It is as plain as the nose on a man's face that the supplies are going in from the same sources as the men have gone in from. Kruger, Leyds and the other Boers are looking after these things at the European end, and so long as Great Britain can be hoodwinked into paying a large share of the expense in curred by those carrying on the war against her, so long will the fight con-tinue. On the whole we believe great care is exercised by the canners of this country in the preparation of their goods for the market. Unfortunately, however, cases of alleged poisoning, fatal and otherwise, are from time to time reported in the papers, and business suffers greatly therefrom. In order to ascertain reliable information as 300 dozen Fine Huck Towels, in fringed and hemmed ends, colored and plain borders, Irish and Scotch makes, superior to the danger from canned foods, the inland Revenue Department sent circulars .19 to 4000 medical men thruout the Dominio
