Situation Alarming.

C. C. James. Deputy Minister of Agriculture, regards the situation as elarming and nothing less than a copious downpour of rain can save the grain crops and grass from withering beyond any hope of saving. There have been a few local thunderstorms, and on Tuesday night a portion of the western section of the province was well drenched by a steady fall, but the general situation is far from ressuring. Everything in the fields as withering under the scorching sun, and moisture is more badly needed now than at any time in the past several years.

The hope of the Deputy Minister is that the long delayed showers may come in the next day or so. The indications point that way, he thinks and the benefit to the farmers would be inestimable. Mr. James says the fruit crop promities to be heavy, despite the holding off of the much-need ad rain.

with which the market was turned was a fair indication that the heavy clearing out had had a vast effect in improving the situation for the future. The turn at New York was mainly brought about by a reduction in the Bank of England rate to 3.1-2 per cent. This rate has remained steady at 4 per cent. Since last October, and was generally taken as a fair augury of a return to somewhat easier money rates.

The final shake out in the stock markets after the serious reaction of the past ten days wound up yesterday morning with an erratic movement. Many local speculators spent a restiles period on Wednesday night, and came down yesterday morning in fear and trepidation as to what would be the result of the market's action.
