For a Few Days

121/2 Wall Paper at 8c. We will have what we advercise when you sall. Ask to see the bargains.

E. N. HUNT, 190 Dundas Street

of a true woman."

"Sir, you are deceived. I am sure

"I am not. The error is yours. Reflect, Rowland, upon her behavior towards you; upon her anxiety, her excitement during your election. Are you so bad a studier of human nature

Rowland's head was drooped on his

"Father, I repeat you are mistaken.

Lady Mary may like me, but she does not love."

"My son, have you the courage to risk this avowal from her own lips?

Trust me, you will never hear it. She love," substituted the baronet, avoid-try? Will you not make her happy? Where in our circle of friends can "Nowhere, sir, I contess; but —"

"But do not let another win her,

Rowland. You have seen it your duty to marry. Let Lady Mary be your selection Do not hesitate. For her sake

The following afternoon, at about the same hour, Rowland appeared in the library. None but one ever knew of the fierce fight which had been fought over those mementos locked so carefully away.

"Well, Dowland?" said the baronet,

interrogatively.
"I yield, sir, to duty," replied the young man. "And go at once to learn my fate. I dare not delay."

"Thank you Rowland. Thank you, my son, exclaimed the baronet, warmly pressing his hand. "I will never forget this; I hold it as a sacrifice for That sir, trust me, has had weight," he rejoined, as he quitted the room.

Three minutes later Sir Merton heard a light step in the corridor. He open-

His surmise was correct. Lady Mary had crossed the corridor, and her hand was extended to the hande of the drawing-room door when her guardian overtook her.

"My dear," he said, in a tone of gravity, deeply impressed with affection, as he placed his fingers on hers,

Rowland has a brilliant career before him, whether he treads the path or abandons it is in your hands. Have prayer of your father's oldest friend.

she could reply, moved hurriedly away, leaving Lady Mary bewildered, amazed, to enter the drawing-room; when, however, she did so, Rowland's presence immediately offered a solution to the original

(To be Continued.)

MARVELOUS ESCAPE

Mill Hand Fell Headfirst Down an Elevator Shart-Likely to Recover.

Hespeler, Ont., May 13 .- Archie Fennell, an employe in the Brodie woolen vator to stop, when the gate, which was secured in an unright position, became unfastened, precipitating Fennell head first down the shaft, a distance of almost 60 feet. When near the bottom the young man came in contact with the lifting cable, which he grasped, and a second later landed on top of the eledownward, thus breaking the fall to a great extent. His injuries, though very serious, are not likely to prove fatal.

He is, of course, badly bruised, and his hands and one leg are badly lacerated.

GOAT'S FATAL $10 DINNER.

tite of a pet goat was excited to Frackville, Pa., May 13.-The appehigh degree by Charles Wagner, of this place, who tickled the animal's nose with a $10 bill. The goat suddenly lunged forward, snatched the greenback, chewed it up and swallowed it.

The goat was promptly killed and the bits of the bill were taken from his stomach. They will be sent to Wash-

Old People's Health.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE

PILLS THE REMEDY TO KEEP

PEOPLE PAST MID-LIFE STRONG

Any 'person 'advanced in years who is troubled with palpitation or any heart weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness impaired memory, lack of energy and vitality, will find nothing equal to Mil-burn's Heart and Nerve Pills for restoring the health and strength and keeping

Mrs. C. H. Dobson, a fine old lady wonderful Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I have been troubled for some time with a pain in my left side and a fluttering around my heart, which weakened me so that I was scarcely able to move.

"The least excitement would jar my nerves, and my heart would almost leap into my throat. My appetite was poor and I was very miserable indeed. "I took Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and got great relief and am still continuing their use. They have allayed the fluttering sensation around my heart, improved my appetite very much, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as an excellent remedy for all heart and nerve troubles.

living on Steadman Street, Moncton,

N. B., made the following statement: "I am 70 years of age, and do not like to exert myself very much, but it is a pleasure to tell how much I value those the energy and activity unimpaired.

ington to be redeemed.

AND VIGOROUS.

.DE.

plead to you for my son." Stooping, he kissed her, then, before pity on him and me. It is, Mary, the sake.

ed the door quietly.

said, and the baronet consented.

"Give me a day to consider," he you find my ward's equal?"

chest; he was silent; then he ex-

as not to understand such signs?"

Rowland, giving her his arm, they quitted the ante-room; in doing so, they came face to face with those of whom they were in search—Mr. Rylands and his daughter.

As Marian beheld the two together a hardness contracted her lips, which all the future smiles with which she strove to adorn her pretty countenance, on hearing of her cousin's success, could not soften. "Affairs are advancing far too quickly," she thought. "It is well the Darnleys have arrived in town today. It is my last card, and I must not delay in playing it." Before the evening was over she found an opportunity to inform Lady Mary of Capt. Jack's presence in Lon-

Her ladyship was far too well bred to display any emotion; yet the color did slightly mount to her oval cheek, the glance of her eyes waver-indica-tions which confirmed Marian's belief, and filled her with delight.

CHAPTER XIL "Rowland, can you give me a few minutes in the library?" So spoke the baronet, as he quitted the luncheon table the noon following the return from Colndale. "Certainly, sir. I can come at once," replied his son, rising, and following his father, leaving Lady Mary alone. On reaching the library, Sir Merton threw himself in his study-chair, and paused, reflecting. The step he had resolved to take, the task he had set himself, was no easy one, and he felt it Believing the business had to do with the election, Rowland waited for his father to speak. Finally, the baronet began in a grave, but kindly, tone.

"Rowland, I am aware of the delicacy, also the difficulty, which attend object to which I desire to draw your attention; but I pray you to bear with me, as your father. Tie young man started. The truth instantly flashed across him. His brow contracted with pain, as much as anger. Averting his face quickly, his hands involuntarily clenching, he said, in a

"Father, spare me! Are you not aware-do you not know it is impos-

"I know, Rowland-I am aware," proceeded Sir Merton, with much feel-"that you are my pride, my joy, hope. As my years advance, as active life declines, my delight is to see it repeated and carried on in you. I am aware you are my son-my son Rowland—and the last true

Gower of our ancient race.' The other abruptly bent forward, his elbows on his knees, his face buried in his hands. Was that a stifled groan that broke from his lips?

"Rowley, my boy," went on the bar-onet, affection in every accent, "I have, I am sure, no need to tell you—a gentleman in race, in justifiable pride, in ambition, and in heart and soulof the duty which rests on your shoulders as the last of the Gowers. It is mills here, had a miraculous escape your duty, not your affection, I would from death on Thursday evening. He entreat you to consider. I was leaning against the elevator gate will not speak of the past, save that on the fourth flat watching for the eleconscious that you can recognize the imperative necessity for your mar-riage without help from me."

There was silence. Rowland did not start erect, and repeat that it was impossible. His father had struck a strong cord. Only those born, and proud, of an ancient race can understand the pride there is in the knowledge, also the fear there is in the thought, that the race, time-honored, should through them, become extinct, wiped from society's roll. But could he be false to his love, though its object had been false to him? It seemed possible. It was agony past contemplation. But this time the power was in the baronet's hands. He held it in the word "duty." He marked the speechless suffering in his son's pale, drawn face; but he was pitiless. Skillfuly, insidiously he argued, pleaded, reas-oned. He put it in all lights—the strongest that, even as a sacrifice of self, Rowland should bow to duty. Beginning for some minutes to reflect, Rowland, rising, paced the room. In less than half an hour he came back, and, leaning on the back of his "If it really be my duty-if my race lemand it of me-so must it be. Fa-ther, what do you wish?"

The baronet could not refrain from starting as he marked the great change already in his son's countenance. For a second, pity strove to dominate desire. Only for a second. Banishing the emotion, Sir Merton rejoined: "My dear Rowland, that you should wed Lady Mary."

"No, answered the other resolutely.
will marry, if it must be; but not 'Good heavens! Why?" ejeculated the baronet, amazed. "I could not so insult her, sir, I honor, I venerate her too much. She is too beautiful, too good, to be wedded to one who cannot giver her a heart."

"Let her be the judge of that," remarked Sir Merton, quietly.

"How?" and Rowland glanced quickly up, questioning.
"My boy, I am assured Lady Mary

Appetizing

For this season of the year when fresh vegetables are scarce.....

Large 3-lb. tins French String Beans, 20C. Rodel French Peas, 15c. Rodel Mushrooms, 28c.

Whole Tomatoes for slicing, 20c. Canned Corn, Peas, Tomatoes, Beans French Kidney Beans, Succotash, Baked Beans, Tomato Sau ce. California Prunes, 8c. per lb. California Silver Prunes, 121/2c. per lb. California Dried Peaches, 10c. per lb.

Fitzgerald, Scandrett & Co

would hold the destiny happier if you were the bridegroom, than to wed other who adored her." "You don't mean, sir-" and nowland stopped, the color rising to his "That she loves you, Rowland. Loves you, not with the foolish, evanescent, butterfly idolatry and fluttering of a school-girl, but with the sincere passion

"The Season" Seems To Be in Full Swing.

Greatest Interest Centers Round the Queen's Next Drawing-Room.

Joseph Chamberlain Secures $1,250,000 for Birmingham University-Interesting Ceremony in Which the Queen Will Participate.

[Special Cable Letter to The Advering the name he dreaded. "There are no confessions to make. Will you not tiser.]

London, May 13.-With beautiful summer-like weather this week, the season seems to be finally in full swing. The hotels, picture exhibitions and Rotten Row are crowded daily, while numerous parties given by hostesses prominent in the social world, fill every night. The polo season has opened at Hurlingham and Ranelagh, and the country clubs are also attracting large numbers of fashionable peo-

THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO LONDON. The greatest interest centers in the Queen's visit to London, next week, to hold a drawing-room and lay the foundation stone of the Albert and Victoria Museum at Kensington, Tuesday's drawing-room, naturally, will be the most brilliant of the season. There has been a rush of great ladies to attend this particular function, but a great deal of heart-burn-ing has been occasioned by the system bellot which the new lord chamberlain has inaugurated, and under which many prominent people are excluded. By this novel mode of selection the names of well-known peeresses and of people unknown to fame are mixed together in a manner very distasteful to the former. Several titled ladies, when they found that they had been unsuccessful in the bailot, made representations to the highest quarters, with the result that even at the last moment there have been changes in the list. In spite of this a number of well-known ladles had their claims ignored. Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, wife of the United States ambassador here, will present to the Queen, Mrs. Alfred Parish, her sister; Miss Jennings, of New York, and Miss Nora Neff, of Chicago.

A SENTIMENTAL VISIT. The Queen is to come from Windsor on Monday, and will visit Kensington Palace, where her old apartments have been renovated preparatory to opening the palace to the public. Her Majest's visit will be of a sentimental nature, as the rooms where she lived as a young girl have been restored to their former condition. Her bedroom contains showcases filled with her old toys, and her doll's house stands upon a table in the ante-chamber.

THE RACING. The smart racing set, headed by the Prince of Wales, has been at New market all the week, where Tod Sloan, the American jockey, gave wonderful exhibitions of horsemanship, and gained some of his victories by his amazing skill and judgment. Sloan now holds the record for the Newmarket course, which, up to Thursday, was 52 wins and 52 losses. vator, which, happily, was still moving A SUCCESSFUL BEGGAR

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain blossomed forth this week as a successful beggar in the cause of philanthropy. He recently asked $1,250,000 for the Birmingham University, and Mr. Andrew Carnegie's gift practically completes the sun required. The conditions of Mr. Carnegie's donation meet the warm approval of thep ress. The Daily News suggests that Mrs. Chamberlain's sweet compulsion was instrumental in securing Mr. Carnegie's handsome contribution. Mr. Chamberlain, on Wednesday, presided at a dinner in aid of a fund for the establishment of his school of tropical medicine, and by the time the coffee was reached, subscriptions amounting to £15,800 had been announced. Mr. Chamberlain, in the course of an interesting speech at this dinner on "The White Man's Burden," dwelt upon the fact that the greatest enemy of the white man was not the hostility of savage chiefs, the influence of barbarous customs, or the physical difficulties of tropical countries, but malarial fevers. A new school, devoted to experiments and research for remedies for tropical diseases will be situated in the vicinity of the docks, where subjects are never lacking. WELL TREATED.

Lieut.-Col. Alfred E. Bates, formerly military attache of the American embassy, who sails for the United States today, on board the American Line steamer St. Louis, spoke warmly to the correspondent here of the Associated Press regarding the courtesy with which he had been received on all sides since coming to London. Speaking of the Philippines Col. Bates said: ing of the Philippines, Col. Bates said: I can say, of my own knowledge, that British military men applaud our troops out there, while they regard our splendid naval officers and sailors as H. J. Childs, drug the heroes of the war. They have become as well known and highly appreciated here among service men as they are in America."

Mr. Dwight L. Moody, the American evangelist, has accepted an invita-tion to hold revival meetings at Glasgow in October next.

The International Art Exhibition, of

Which Mr. James McNeill Whistler, is the chief promoter, opened on Monday. The exhibition attracted much attention, but proved a disappointment, in that it did not equal the high standard established last year. Critics la-ment Mr. Whistler's failure to produce anything equal to his past work. INTERESTING CEREMONY.

The ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the Victoria and Albert Museum on Wednesday will be a very interesting one. The Queen will drive through the streets lined with troops, from Buckingham Palace, the royal cortege being escorted by the Life Guards. Her Majesty will be escorted by several princes and princesses and other royal personages will meet her at the site of the museum, where a raised dais will be reserved for them. A great pavilion will be erected, in which will be seated the ambassadors, mem-bers of the cabinet and leading state officials. The Prince of Wales will re-ceive the Queen, the National Anthem will be sung by pupils of the Royal College of Music. Afterwards a madrigal, specially composed by Mr. Alfred Austin, the poet laurate, will be sung to special music written by Sir Alexander Mackenzie, principal of the Royal Academy of Music. His grace, the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England, will read the prayers. The event is certain to be the oc-casion of a great patriotic demonstra-

MME. PATTI RESURRECTED. The theatrical and musical session is at the full tide of prosperity. The libraries have bought up all the seats at plays like "The Gay Lord Quex,"
"The Tyranny of Tears," and "Robespierre," which at present are the great successes of London. It is impossible to get good seats at advanced library prices under a fortninght.

The Queen has commanded Mr. Grau

The Queen has commanded Mr. Grau to give a performance of "Lohengrin" on May 24, the cast to include the De Beszke brothers, Madame Nordica and Madame Schumann-Heink.

Madame Patti makes her first ap-

Queen's Hall, on Tuesday. She is arranging for an American tour next WOMEN CAN COME IN pearance since her marriage at the Catholic Knights Finally Decide to Admit Them.

Kansas City, Mo., May 12 .- A controversy of ten years' standing was set-tled by the Catholic Knights of America yesterday, when the delegates meeting here in annual convention voted to admit women to the order. On Wednesday the resolution propos-ing this change in the constitution was voted down, failing by 32 votes to receive the necessary two-thirds majority. Yesterday there was a complete change of front. At the afternoon's session a reconsideration was moved and carried, and a vote was retaken without debate. The result was a sur-prising total of 432 votes in favor of the women to 29 against them.

The convention greeted the result with applause. Though the women will be admitted under the amended constitution they will be permitted to carry but $1,000 insurance, or one-half the amount that is allowed to men.

ARKONA.

Arkona, May 13.—The Friends' monthly meeting and the Y. F. C. A. gathering held in the Friends' meeting house here on Wednesday last were well attended, a great number from Coldstream being present.

Messrs. Dudley Schooley and Herman Marsh, both of Coldstream, wheeled from their homes to attend the Y. F. C. A. here, and also call on their numerous friends in this vicinity. Mrs. J. F. Logan is slightly improv-

Although saddened to learn that W. P. Henderson, of Port Huron, formerly of this town, has had a paralytic stroke, his many friends will be pleased to hear of his recovery. Miss Ethel Fraser, of Port Huron, is here visiting her grandparents, Mr.

and Mrs. G. M. Everest. The following is taken from the Nashville (Tenn.) American, and refers to one of Arkona's popular young men. His many friends here join in wishing him a long, happy and prosperous life:

"The wedding of Miss Elva Cecil Smith, and C. H. Thoman, of Sparta, was one of the most beautiful ever witnessed on Cookeville. The mar-riage occurred at the beautiful home of the bride's father, Capt. Walton Smith. Miss Daisy Martin presided at the piano, playing one sweet strain after another, until promptly at half-past five o'clock sounded forth Men-delssohn's Wedding March, and down the broad stairway ception hall came Misses Alma Smith, Ova Boyd, Ruth Gollithan, Grace Lee, Maggie Denny and Jessie Duke, the bridesmaids, in couples, attired in white organdies, with crimson belts and sashes, and carrying in their arms huge bouquets of snowballs. Preceding the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Ella Donelson, was Miss Bessie Arnold, who carried a bunch of ferns. The bride's loveliness was enhanced by the beauty and simplicity of her wedding gown, the sheerest of white organdies, almost covered in white satin ribbon, and a large picture hat of white chip. In her hands she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mr. Thoman, with his best man, D. H. Quarles, of Sparta, met his bride at the foot of the stairway, where a bower of ferns and snowballs had been erected, and around which were grouped the eight bridesmaids. Rev. J. W. Sneed, pastor of the Cumber-land Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The bride's souvenir to the best man was a silver letter opener, while that of the groom to the bridesmaids were silver hearts, set with turquoise, and on which were enengraved 'Cecil.' Soon after the ceremony the bridal party left for Sparta where a reception was tendered them at the Rhea House."

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a twenty-five cent bottle of Dr. Wills' English Pills, if, after using three-fourths of contents of bottle, they do not relieve Con-stipation and Headache. We also war-rant that four bottles will permaner.cly cure the most obstinate case of Con-stipation. Satisfaction or no pay when Wills' English Pills are used. J. Callard, Chemist, 390 Richmond street, London, Ont.

E. W. Boyle, Druggist, 652 Dundas street, London, Ont. J. G. Shuff, Chemist, 540 Dundas H. J. Childs, druggist, 632 Dundas street, London, Ont. C. McCallum, druggist, London, Ont. N. W. Emerson, druggist, 120 Dundas street, London, Ont. N. I. McDermid, druggist, corner Dundas and Wellington streets, Lon-

W. S. B. Barkwell, chemist, corner Dundas and Wellington streets, Lon-Anderson & Nelles, druggists, 240 Dundas street, London, Ont.

A steam whistle is no more exasperating than a canary bubbling over with song.

Ask for Minard's and cake no other. The man who lives up to his opportunities is usually too busy to live up to to his income. FAGGED OUT .- None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wenders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandetion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's

Love and the toothache are sworn enemies. To Cure a Cold in One Night

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25 cente.

28 Write for Samples and Price Lists (sent post free) and save fifty per cent. ROBINSON & CLEAVER

BELFAST, IRELAND,

And 164, 166 and 170 REGENT STREET, LONDON, W., SEHOLD LINENS From the Least Expensive to the Finest in the World.

Which being woven by hand, wear longer and retain the rich satin appearance to the last.

By obtaining direct, all intermediate profits are saved, and the cost is no more than that usually charged for common-power loom goods. Real Irish Linen Sheeting, fully bleached, two yards wide, 46c per yard 2½ yards wide, 57c per yard. Roller Towelling, 18 inches wide, 6c per yard. Surplice Linen, 14c per yard. Dusters from 78c per dozen. Linen Glass Cloths, $1.14 per dozen. Fine Linens and Linen Diaper, 17c per yard. Our Special Soft Finished Long Cloth from 6c per yard.

Fish Napkins, 70c per doz. Dinner Napkins, 81.32 per doz. Table Cloths, 2 yards square, 60c; 2½ yards by 3 yards, $1.32 each. Kitchen Table of Arms, Initials, &c., woven or embroidered. (Special attention to Club, Hotel or Mess Orders)

Fine quality Longcloth Bodies, with 4-fold pure linen fronts and cuffs, $8.52 the half-doz. (to measure 48c extra.) New designs in our special Indiana Gauze Oxford and Unshrinkable bands, cuffs and fronts, for $3.36 the half-doz.

The Cambrics of Robinson and Cleaver have a world-wide fame,"—The Queen. "Cheapest Handkerchiefs I have ever seen."—Sylvia's Home Journal. Children's, 30c per doz.: Ladies', 54c per doz.; Gentlemen's, 78c per doz. HEMSTITCHED—Ladies', 66c per doz.; Gentlemen's, 94c per doz.

IISI LINER COLLARS—Ladies', from 84c per doz.: Gent-lemen's, 4-fold, all newest shapes, $1.18 per doz. Currs—for Ladies or Gentlemen, from $1.42 per doz. "Surplice makers to Westminster Abbey" and the Cathedrals and Churches in the Kingdom. "Their Irish Linen Collars, Cuffs, Shirts, &c., have the merits of excellence and cheapness."—Court Circular.

A luxury now within the reach of all ladies. Chemises, trimmed embroidery, 47c; Nightdresses, 84c; Combinations, 94c. India or Colonial Outfits, $40.32; Bridal Trousseaux, $25.80; Infants' Layettes, $12.00. (See list.)

To prevent delay, all Letter Orders and inquiries for samples should be addressed ROBINSON & CLEAVER, Belfast, Ireland. Please mention this paper.

A matinee girl says the going out of men between the acts is far less cb-jectionable than the coming back. Keep Minard's Liniment in the house No matter what happens you will always find plenty of people who pre-

00000000000000000

AND SAME LANGUAGE BOUND OF STREET STREET

Just Compare

the number of cakes and the weight of

Sweet Home Soap

your grocer gives you for 25c with what you can get of any other first-class soap, and you will find "Sweet Home" leads as usual in favor of the buyer.

LONDON SOAP CO.

••••••••••••••••••••

"There's Many a Slip between the cup and the lip"-an old saying, but a good and a true one. Apply it to the buying of Cornmeal and the same rule holds good. You often get inferior brands in place of Gold Dust Cornmeal because you do not insist on having

Gold Dust Cornmeal,

"How do I know," you say, "whether I am getting the real Gold Dust or not?" Send us a little of it in a sealed envelope by mail (if you cannot trust your grocer) and we will pay you for doing so. But you must send us your grocer's name of course-an easy thing to do for what you will get in return from us.

> The Tillson Co'y, Limited, Tilsonburg, Ont.

SHIRT COLLARS IRONED STRAIGHT so as not to hurt the neck. Stand up collars ironed without being broken in the wing. Ties done to look like new. Give me a call. If you are not suited no pay. Washing returned in 24 hours. All hand work. Best in the city. Parcels called for and delivered.

Lee Hing Laundry 467 Richmond Street.

ELECTRICAL WORK OF ALL KINDS . . .

Removed to Spencer Block, Dundse Street. Formerly at 434 Talbot Street.

To Investors

Parties possessed of funds from which they wish to secure a liberal return in interest, should invest with

The Investors' Gyarantee Company,

BANKERS AND BROKERS, Room 14, Stock Exchange Building,

11 St. Sacrament St., Montreal. By their system of investment, they can guarantee to investors a monthly profit on funds placed with them of

Not less than three per cent.

This Company offers the most complete guarantee for both principal and profit, and any investor can withdraw funds and profits to date

Giving 30 Days' Notice.

and invested.

SUMS of $25.00 and upwards received

Try Friend's Bestaurant

For. First-class Meals 20c each. 117 Dundas St.

CLARKE & SMITH, Undertakers and Embalmers Scientific work, first-class ap-

113 Dundas St. Phone 586.

An established hotel under new management and thoroughly abreast of the times. Visitors to New York will find the Everett in the very heart of the shopping district, convenient to places of anuse-

APIOL8STEEL for Ladies.

A REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES Superseding Bitter Apple, Pil Cochia, Pennyroyal, etc.
Order of all Chemists, or post free for $1 50 from EVANS & SONS, LIMITED.
Montreal, Que., Toronto, Ont., and Victoria, B.C., or
MARTIN, Pharmaceutical Chemist, South
ampton, Eng. yet

Mammoth Livery

Hacks, Coupes, Landaus, Busses and Light Livery. Saddle Horses. Sale and Boarding Stable. Open day and night. Phone A. G. STROYAN Dundas St

-MOTORS, DYNAMOS, -ELECTRIC LIGHT SUPPLIES -AND WIRING, REPAIRS.

Masonic Temple Building