CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The declaration of the Methodist Conference at Winnipeg this week, in favor of taking the Canadian civil service out of politics, was closely followed by the introduction of Mr. Fisher's civil service bill in the house of commons at Ottawa yesterday. This bill creates an independent commission with power to hold examinations and to make all appointments in the civil service on merit, as determined in these examinations. At first the law is only to apply to what is called the inside service at Ottawa, but provision is made in the bill for bringing all the outside service under this commission and its system of appointment.

Merit, in the examinations, and of promotions in the service on the record made by civil servants after appointment. Honestly administered, this bill is the beginning of a sweeping reform that will be hailed with satisfaction by the whole country. Mr. Borden was able to endorse it and to say that it was on the line of his Halifax platform, while Mr. W. F. Maclean declared that the sooner the new law was extended to the outside service the better, more especially to the employees on the government system of railways and to include the appointment of postmasters in cities and towns.

Politicians themselves have come to see that patronage of this kind is a burden rather than a blessing, and that the time has come to abandon it for ever. England long ago found the wisdom of a non-partisan appointed civil service, and rapid strides in the same direction have lately been made in the United States. The movement is now under way in Canada, and The World believes that the public opinion of the country will not only appreciate the change, but insist on its fullest and ampest application.

Parliament is again doing business on the bill, and the public will appreciate any and all progressive legislation it likes to pass these days, even if the session is over long and the warm weather at hand.

INTERNATIONAL HOSPITALITY.

Since the inauguration of the Anglo-French entente cordiale, the exchange of visits by representative bodies has become one of the distinguishing features of the new internationalism. The progress of this movement, which on every ground ought to be encouraged and promoted, has been rapid, and it promises to become an important factor throughout the civilized world. Hitherto in British arrangements for the reception and entertainment of visiting delegations has been left very much to private hands, with results that have been entirely satisfactory. But it has come to be realized that personal intercourse is so valuable an aid to international peace and amity as to deserve official and governmental recognition, and steps are now being taken in London to establish a permanent organization for the dispensation of the national hospitality.

Replying the other day to a deputation, Mr. Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, stated that the government had decided to set apart a sum "for the purpose of regularizing in Britain that hospitality between nations which has been a marked feature of recent years. The premier, answering a question put by Sir Edwin Cornwall, M.P., who as chairman of the London County Council first suggested a congress of capitals, referred to the lack of machinery for carrying out the nation's desire for international friendship, and the indication of government sympathy thus given is likely to bear fruit. Sir Edwin Cornwall has placed before the cabinet a scheme for the creation of an organization to be maintained and controlled by the government under the suggested title of "The British International Hospitality Centre," with a central office and an adequate staff.

The objects of this organization, as proposed, are stated to be the enabling of colonial and foreign visitors to get into closer touch with British national life than is at present possible, by affording them more ready means of obtaining information concerning national, municipal and other public institutions, and access to these institutions, and also by assisting them to pay visits and to pursue their studies and enquiries in whatever direction they desire. The organization would also facilitate and encourage the interchange of visits and the provision of suitable hospitality by appropriate authorities in the United Kingdom. It is further suggested that a consultative committee be appointed to guide the policy of the centre, to advise the government as to suitable occasions for the extension and character of national hospitality, and to act as intermediary between British and colonial or foreign municipalities and scientific and other societies desirous of exchanging visits. Sir Edwin Cornwall considers that the communication of experiences and the comparison of methods among men engaged the world over in municipal affairs could not fail to have beneficial results. Indeed, an organization of this kind would probably be the herald of a world-wide movement for the establishment of similar departments designed to facilitate international intercourse. No more hopeful and helpful tendency could be imagined than that, already so conspicuous in the twentieth century, making for increased personal acquaintance among men of different countries. It is being aided by the cheapening of postal rates and the improvement of traffic communication, and in many other ways signs are multiplying that a new and better era is at the dawning.

FREEMASONRY AND RELIGION.

"Minett" Muskoka is informed in reply to his query that the Roman Catholic Church strictly forbids membership in any society whose members take an oath of secrecy, and especially Freemasonry.

Apart from church rule there is nothing to prevent a Catholic from becoming a Freemason.

A TARIFF COMMISSION.

In commenting on the tariff plank of the Republican platform, the New York Times makes a suggestion for a commission on tariff matters along the lines of that voiced by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy at the board of banquet the other night. The Times says:

It is obvious that the president would require the aid and advice of experts thoroughly informed as to the conditions of trade in order to make wise and safe decisions. A board of such experts, entirely free from partisan influence, having a fairly stable tenure, would be an extremely good agency in the administration of the tariff in connection with foreign trade treaties.

"It would be still more valuable could it be adopted with reference to the practical application of the principle of tariff duties equivalent to the difference of cost in production abroad and at home. If such a board should be charged with ascertaining cost at home and abroad, and if when the duties were found to exceed for a reasonable term the actual difference in cost, the duties could be proportionately lessened, that would be an automatic and effectual system to adapt the tariff to the principle pressed, and would gradually, we are convinced, bring about a substantial emancipation of our commerce. It would at the same time accomplish a natural and powerful stimulation of American manufactures by diminishing the obstacles to profitable export and import."

A MODERN ROOF

Up-to-date department stores cover such a large square surface that it would be a great waste of space to roof them in the same style.

The new building of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, will be roofed with reinforced concrete, laid in the undulating style.

To understand the nature of draining water from a roof according to this system, imagine the surface to be marked off into large squares with "catch pits" in the centre.

These squares undulate towards the centre, and the rain water flows to the catch pits and thence into the pipes which carry the water to the ground and into the street sewers.

In this way the roof of the new building of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, will always be dry. In case of fire or need for repairs, it will be easy to work from a roof of this kind, and it also becomes a vantage point for visitors to get a bird's-eye view of the city and surrounding country.

BOARD OF CONTROL

Purchase of Hose—Grant for School Extension.

The board of control again recommends that the Gutta Percha Company be awarded the contract for 4000 feet of 1-2-inch rubber hose at $1.68 a foot.

It was decided to buy 200 feet of Canadian Rubber Company hose, and to test its quality with a view to future contracts.

The board of education was granted $8,000 for school extensions.

A grant of $5000 to the National Bantfields Association, in connection with the Quebec centenary, was voted without discussion.

The board of control is pleased with the discovery that a special act passed by the legislature on March 25, 1886, empowers the city to issue debentures in connection with drainage without affecting the city's borrowing powers.

About 170 building permits have been issued so far this month.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.

LONDON, June 17.—(C. A. P.)—At Huddersfield John Walker, who passed as a doctor from Windsor, Ont., was charged with the larceny of $25 from a woman he married here in October, 1907. He subsequently disappeared and was found in Bristol, living with another woman, whom he had married.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

In the last ten years Canada has received more than 600,000 immigrants. Of these, sixty per cent. have been British-speaking and forty per cent. foreign. More than 75,000 former United States voters will poll Canadian votes in the next Dominion election.

Lord Strathcona predicts that at the end of the twentieth century Canada will have a population twice as large as that of the British Isles.

Wonderful development calls for industry and enterprise, and perhaps we have no better example in Canada than the Vehicle and Automobile Tires manufactured by the Canadian Tire Company of Montreal. These Tires are known throughout the entire Dominion and are everywhere popular because of their reliability.

Sold by dealers and the various branches of the company, Toronto, branch, Front and Yonge-streets. Telephone Main 207.

GOLLINS RE-ELECTED ON SECOND BALLOT

Stevenson Again S.C.R. by Acclamation, and Re-Elections Testify to Executive's Popularity.

S.C.R.—Elliott G. Stevenson, Toronto.

P.S.C.R.—Victor Morin, M.P., Montreal.

S.V.C.R.—Joseph D. Clark, Dayton, Ohio.

S. Secretary—R. Mathison, Toronto.

S. Treasurer—H. A. Collins, Toronto.

S. Councillor—W. H. Hunter, Toronto.

Auditors—George E. Bailey, Antwerp, N.Y.; F. J. Darch, London, Ont.; Medical board—Dr. C. Dixon, Los Angeles; Dr. C. Day Clark, Toronto.

These were the officers elected at the independent order of Foresters at yesterday afternoon's session. The selection is in itself a complete justification of the executive policy. Mr. Stevenson was himself elected by acclamation, as were Mr. Clark, Mr. Mathison and the medical board.

For the Past S.C.R. Dr. W. B. Crane, Chrysler, Ont., opposed Mr. Morin, and was defeated by 15 to 41.

Thence were two candidates for the second ballot, when he had 88 votes. He had 81 votes on the first ballot, when Dr. H. A. Collins, N. B., dropped out. The other candidates, with their second ballots, were: D. W. Henderson, 65; Judge F. H. Emerson, 60; J. R. S. McCann, Kingston, 4.

Three ran for the S. Councillor's chair. Mr. Hunter got 107 votes, George A. Ellington, Chicago, 16.

Messrs. Bailey and Darch had 156 and 127 votes respectively for the auditorships over S. P. Cochran, Pennsylvania, 42, and Sam Martin, Ireland, 40.

Emerson, Hand, one of the chief promoters of the order in California, was presented with a loving-cup.

It is expected that the court will close to-day, the reports of committees being ready to present.

The late Dr. Orlovskaya, the great chief of the order, is to be honored by a suitable memorial. Edward Botterell, James B. Halkett, E. C. Sumner, Dr. T. Millman and Hon. D. A. Atkin were appointed a committee to take charge of the matter.

The total disability department is once more united with the mortuary department.

Candidates for initiation will after Sept. 30 be reckoned as at their age on their nearest birthday, instead of their last birthday, as heretofore.

Financial secretary and treasurer are not to be combined in one person in local courts.

MAY COMPEL THE C.P.R. TO OPERATE THIS LINE

Attention of Minister of Railways Drawn to Lack of Service Across North Toronto.

OTTAWA, June 17.—(Special.)—That the railway commission has power to order the Canadian Pacific Railway to operate its main-line from Leaside Junction across the north of the city to West Toronto, was the intimation conveyed in the reply of Hon. J. P. Graham to W. F. Maclean in the house this afternoon.

During a discussion of an amendment of W. B. Northrup (Hastings) to authorize the commission to compel the Grand Trunk to respect an agreement made by the Belleville & North Hastings Railway twenty years ago, and to operate it, Mr. Maclean said:

"I would like to call attention to a grievance of the character that exists in the riding of South York. The C.P.R. is not operating its main line—the line that was bought by the government—for five miles in South York. The people have made complaint of it several times. The C.P.R. or companies that have been acquired by the C.P.R. received large bonuses for the construction and operation of the railway, and in the City of Toronto, where that road now is, namely, from Leaside Junction to West Toronto, a distance of five miles, that road is not operated. This is passenger trains are not run over it."

"I would like to get more particulars about this. Mr. Graham, 'I am inclined to think that the commission have it within their power to deal with this. Would you not, Mr. Northrup, to impinge any motives to himself. There had been no influence or belief on his part to prevent the passage of Mr. Northrup's amendment. Mr. Graham did not want to entail much work on the commission, which was appointed to see that the traffic of the country was carried on with the least possible expense at a minimum of cost. It would not do to load up the commission with cases that should be left to the courts."

Divisional Court. Peremptory list for 11 a.m.:

1. Bismet v. Teskey.
2. Moss v. Moss.
3. Moss v. Moss.

Rose A. Clarke of Toronto has begun an action against Michael J. Cummings and Sarah E. Cummings to have a certain deed between the defendants of Brunswick-avenue, Toronto, set aside as fraudulent and void.

The non-payment of certain notes, amounting to $300, has led the William Davies Company, Ltd., to take proceedings against G. J. Watts of Thamesville.

Before the divisional court, Mr. J. B. MacKenzie moved for an order nisi compelling the informant and conviction of Michael J. Cummings to show cause why the conviction of Patrick Body of Bancroft, for selling liquor without a license, should not be quashed. The order nisi was granted on condition of the deputy attorney-general.

J. F. H. Usher of North Toronto has been named as the plaintiff in an action brought by Stuart B. Playfair to recover $1017.39 balance owing on an overdue note.

Charlotte Alice Mansell and her husband, Richard Mansell of Toronto, have had some differences between them. Mrs. Mansell has been suing for $1000 a week alimony and the interim costs until the trial of the action.

Hamilton, brought an action against E. R. Clarkson, the manager of an oil company, to recover money paid for stock and to compel him to return the stock and $5000 for damages for false and fraudulent representations. Chief Justice Mowbray at the trial gave judgment in favor of Clarkson. Clarkson appealed to the divisional court, which yesterday dismissed the appeal with costs.
