War Veteran Beat Gardiner After Extra Hole for English Championship.

Muirfield, Scotland, June 11.—Cyril J. Tolley of Oxford University, and a former officer in the British Expeditionary Forces, won the British amateur golf championship today. He defeated Robert A. Gardiner, Chicago, in the final after a hard-fought, sensational match, which was all square at the 36th hole, and necessitated the playing of an extra hole.

Tolley, who is 34 years old, served in the British Tank Corps, and was a prisoner in Germany for thirteen months. The title had not been contested since 1914, when J. L. C. Jenkins won it. He was eliminated last Wednesday in the fourth round.

Today's match was a battle royal from the start. At the end of the first round the American was 3 up on the Englishman, but the young veteran fought back, and made it all square at the 36th, only to lose the extra hole.

This was the second time in the history of the British championship that the United States entry had reached the final. Walter J. Travis beat Edward Backwell for the championship in 1904.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It fades, turns gray and looks streaked. Just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Weyb's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of recommended ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

RED-HEADED NEGRO SHAMROCK'S MASCOT

Mother of the Boy Makes Offer on Sir Lipton's Arrival in New York.

New York, June 11.—Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the Shamrock IV, which will try to lift the America's Cup in the coming yachting classic, arrived here today on the steamship Celtic.

Sir Thomas said he was confident his vessel was the superior of either Vauville or Resolute, her American rivals, and had no doubt he would carry the coveted trophy back to England with him. He expressed impatience to see many questions about the yacht's preliminary trials.

Sir Thomas brought with him a golden eagle, formerly a part of a saloon decoration of the Yacht America, which was presented to him by two friends. The eagle as an emblem of "good luck," will be placed on board the challenger.

Sir Thomas, brown as a berry and beaming with good nature, greeted his friends with a smile of confidence. "I now have the best outfit that I ever sailed," he said. "I feel that I should lift the cup, as I have now reached my majority—21 years—in yacht racing."

He said that he would give his immediate attention to his two yachts now here, and added that he had received an offer for a new mascot—a 15-year-old negro boy described as being "as black as the ace of spades and having red hair." The offer, he said, came from the mother of the boy, a resident of New Rochelle.

REPUBLICAN POLICY AFFRONT TO LABOR

Prepare for Revenge. The American Federation of Labor was preparing tonight to take revenge upon the Republican party for ignoring labor's platform demands.

The matter will be placed before the annual convention of the federation here tomorrow for action. Labor leaders announced. They said that the first step would be the condemnation of the Republican party. It is then proposed to appeal to the Democratic party, promising organized labor's support, if it will accept labor's policy, in its platform.

President Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders were in session here tonight, discussing the situation and preparing a plan of action to be placed before the convention.

Labor leaders close to Mr. Gompers, however, asserted tonight that the action have no effect on the non-partisan political program, and there was not the "slightest possibility" of labor putting a party in the field this year.

Plumb on Railways. The Plumb plan of public ownership of the railroads with Democratic control was outlined to the convention by Glenn E. Plumb, of Washington, originator of the plan, in an address in which he asked the endorsement of his proposal by organized labor.

The solution of the whole railroad problem, he declared, was in the hands of organized labor—men who had neither wealth nor power, but only the good of the community and fellow-workers at heart.

James Simpson of Toronto, vice-president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, said today that if the federation wants to discuss Ireland, "that is their privilege."

LESSONS IN REVENGE.

"I was once 'tired' out of school for fighting with the teachers," said a writer in a New York periodical. "But it taught me one of the first lessons I ever learned. I was then only a little shaver and he was a great big giant. My heart was more in the out-of-doors than in books, and I've no doubt I was at fault. But he gave me such a vicious kick downstairs that I vowed to myself that giant who he was, I would some day get even with him."

"Shortly after I graduated from the mechanical engineering course at Yale, my father died, and I visited Detroit. Meanwhile, I had entered the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Altoona as a special apprentice, and as I had stretched up to over six feet, weighed one hundred and seventy-five pounds, and had muscles well hardened by heavy work, I felt fit to tackle the fellow who had kicked me out of school so brutally. But when I ran across him he was not the giant of my boyish conception. He was just a little bit of a shriveled-up chap, and instantly all my thirst for revenge vanished.

"Then and there I decided that revenge was a thing not worth while; that it was senseless and even despicable. That first lesson has guided me ever since in all my relations with men. Revenge can hurt only the man harboring it."

The more money you save the more respect your heirs will have for you.

A clash occurred during the session between Herrero and General Francisco Murguia, former minister of war, when the latter denied the statement that he had offered Herrero money. The court stopped the dispute.

Herrero declared that the officer who gave him the information that Carranza had committed suicide was only a cub.

Herrero admitted having professed loyalty to Carranza and to having afterwards ordered his forces to attack the president, but said this was done to obtain information regarding the strength of the presidential escort. He stated he had received orders indirectly from Obregon to take Carranza alive. The president's forces however, learned of the intended attack and began firing, preventing his capture.
