U.S. and Germany Need Not Lead To War At

SOME PRECEDENTS QUOTED

This evening at Irishtown a public meeting was addressed by Dr. E. A. Smith, John A. Doherty, of Moncton, and James A. McQueen, of Shediac. To-Profitable, and Few Hostilities Have Followed Since

The meeting which held in Moncton tonight in the interests of the government did not materialize. Premier Murray was advertised as the principal speaker but today the announcement was made that he would come later in the campaign.

Everywhere the opposition candidates before the preliminary dance is over some spectator intervenes and the prospective combatants shake hands and adjourn to the nearest dispensary. That is to say, nations at war invariably sever diplomatic relations, but this fact of it-self does not mean a state of warfare.

His Remedy and Book Sent Free. Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did meither! He cured himself instead.

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

Anyone can use the same methods it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

stance of diplomatic relations being severed without actual warfare, even though each of the nations involved was fighting the allies of the other. That is the case of Italy. For months after Italy had been at war with Austria and had severed her diplomatic relations with Germany she was not at war with that power. Finally the declaration was made last September, but even yet the injury that Italy and Germany have been able to inflict upon eacn other has been triffing and almost wholly confined to German submarine attacks.

The Italian Mystery.

The case is by no means parallel to that now existing between the United States and Germany. The reason for Germany refraining from declaring war upon Italy and resisting all Austria's entracties to send an army against her was plain enough. Germany had invested tremendous sums of money in Italy. Italians, oward Germany had invested tremendous sums of money in Italy. Italians, could write off all debts they owed to Germans. There was not consult in Germany to make the deal an even one. Moreover, there were many valuable German ships in Italian ports. These were not property in the lations of the deal an even one, Moreover, there were many valuable German ships in Italian ports. These were not premitted to sail of course, and were eventually taken oved by the Italians of the were requisitioned, and the Italian government. They were merely requisitioned, and the Italian government. Kaiser Doubles in Cross.

With Severe Case of Piles

Eventually Germany was able withdraw most of her capital from Italy, the necessity for any longer keeping up the pretence of peaceful relations ceased, and war was declared. Germany's course throughout was clear and logical, but no satisfactory explanation of Italy's failure to declare war when she might have protected field by it has been given. At the time when Germany and Italy were nominally at peace the Kaiser was promising that if the Central Powers succeeded they would re-establish the temporal powers with the probably had no intention of thus turning back the hands of the clock, for he has always posed as a great champion of Lutheranism, and even in the stress of war is giving some attention to plans for the clebrating this summer the four hundredth anniversary of the publication of the ninety-five theses on the subject of indulgences.
