North End People Proud of Season Monday

The Palace opens its fall season with even greater credit than ever to that of the city. Newly painted and creating an appearance which compares very favorably with any theatre in the Maritime Provinces; and the manage-ment feels that those attending Monday evening will be surprised at the splendid results accomplished, which will more than ever make North End citizens entirely independent of the city theatres. For the past year those living in the neighborhood of the Palace, have shown a very decided preference for its programs, and during recept months there has also been a marked tendency on the part of even those living in the city proper to enjoy at the Palace the pictures they had missed in the city, and in the future the management is anticipating even a specific property of the position of the part of even those living in the city, and in the future the management is anticipating even a specific property of the position of the part of even those living in the city, and in the future the management is anticipating even a specific property of the position of the part of even those living in the city proper to enjoy at the property of the position of the part of even those living in the city proper to enjoy at the property of the position of the property of a letter from Prof. Kent accepting the position of the part of even those living in the city proper to enjoy at the property of a letter from Prof. Kent accepting the position offered him a week ago.

The new principal expects to take the Want Ad. Way day evening will be surprised at the splendid results accomplished, which management is anticipating even a larger patronage of this character.
