No License, Sale Is Off

AN AMUSING incident is told by one of the canvassers selling tickets for an automobile to be given as a premium at the coming fair for the Protestant orphans. A man looked the car over, and took out a roll of money to buy a ticket. Then he peered at the front of the car and inquired: "Hasn't the car any license?" On being informed that he had not, his further query was: "And does the winner have to buy the license himself?" "Why, sure," the astonished canvasser replied. Then I won't buy a chance on it," was the reply. Another appeared put out because he would not be promised a season's supply of gas for the car if he won it.

SPORTSMEN GET READY FOR WOODS

Game Hunting Season is to Open Next Tuesday

Chief Warden Expects Good Year—Cautions re Fires and Accidents.

Saint John sportsmen are preparing for the game hunting season, and guns and other equipment are being got in readiness. Beginning on next Tuesday the sound of the sportsman's gun will be heard in the New Brunswick woods for the hunting season will open on that day. Deer are the first that the hunter will be permitted to bring down. The deer season will begin on Tuesday. Those who delight in the bagging of game birds must wait until Oct. 1, when the woodcock and Wilson snipe season will begin. A chance at the partridge will be afforded on Oct. 20. This is later than before, and the season is to be of only 20 days' duration.

MEMBERS OF PIONEER CITY FAMILIES WED

Nuptials of A. Malcolm McGowan and Miss Marion E. McPherson This Afternoon.

Two of the leading pioneer Scottish families in Saint John will wed this afternoon, at 3:30 in Knox Presbyterian church, when Andrew Malcolm McGowan, son of Mrs. Isabella McGowan and the late J. McGowan, of 148 Lenster street, will take for his bride Miss Marion Elizabeth McPherson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McPherson, 415 Grafton street, Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony in the presence of the large family connections of the bride and groom and many friends. There will be no invited guests, the occasion being informal. Miss Florence Wilson, organist, will play the wedding music. The church has been prettily decorated by young friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. McGowan, will wear a gown trimmed with crepe de chine, with everything to correspond and will carry a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Annie Smith McPherson, who will wear an orchid crepe de chine gown and smart black hat of satin, turned off the face and will carry pink and maroon sweet peas.

After the ceremony there will be an informal supper at the home of the bride's parents, and the newly married couple will leave on the Boston boat for various cities in the United States. The bride and groom are the centre of baseball activities for the closing of the season. As president of the Trojan Athletic Club and secretary of the Gyro Club, McGowan has a large following in sporting circles and philanthropic endeavors. The bride is keenly interested in both and is anticipated with delight the attendance at the big games.

Going away the bride will wear a navy blue poiret tulle tailored suit with blond satin hat and sable fox fur, the latter the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside at 18 Exmouth street.

The girls are beautiful and valuable. Mrs. Andrew Malcolm, grandmother of the groom, has given a handsome walnut dining room suite; James Malcolm, great uncle of the groom, and David McPherson, Sr., grandfather of the bride, generous gifts of gold. From the Royden Foley concern, in whose office Mr. McGowan is employed, has been received a mahogany and bridgeable, handsomely designed. The bride, who was employed with J. W. Britton, weigher, received from the firm a chest of drawers and a table of antique design.

The Trojan Athletic Club presented a handsome silver tea service with hearty expressions of goodwill, sent through their manager, Walter Golding, Jr.

EXPECTS GOOD SEASON.

Everything points towards a very successful hunting season, according to Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon of Fredericton. He has been busy distributing the game licenses to the venorians for the hunting season, which opens for deer on Sept. 15 and for moose on Oct. 1. From almost every county in the province reports show an abundance of deer, while moose also appear plentiful. The partridge season, however, has been shortened by one week, and does not open until Oct. 20, closing on Nov. 10, both dates inclusive. The bag limit for partridge is the same as last year, six a day and 20 for the season. The woodcock and Wilson snipe season will open on Oct. 1 and close on Nov. 30.

An important amendment, passed at the last session of the Legislature and in force this season, requires all hunters who kill a moose to bring out the head forthwith and exhibit the same to a game warden. This is deemed necessary in an effort to prevent illegal killing of cow and calf moose.

The forest is reported very dry, so the early hunter will find dry walking where other years the traveling was wet and heavy. Hunters are therefore requested to be careful to extinguish their camp and cooking fires, as serious forest fires have occurred after the hunting season opened in similar dry autumns. Hunters holding licenses are not required to register to enter the forest.

ACCIDENTS.

Mr. Gagnon spoke of hunting accidents which occur from carelessness during the hunting season, and drew attention to the comparatively small number of accidents which have occurred in this province during the past two autumns. "We sincerely hope that the records established in our province during the last two years in connection with the small number of casualties in the woods during the open season will be lived up to by our people as well as by all non-resident hunters during the coming open season," said Mr. Gagnon. "It can be done if all are careful and do not shoot before they know what they are shooting at and stop to think that they will regret it if, through their carelessness, they become responsible for a human life or for a maimed body." He also expressed the hope that all hunters would co-operate with the department and the officials charged with the enforcement of the game and fire laws, so that the season would be successful in every respect.

AS HIRAM SEES IT

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—"Me an' Sir Campbell Stuart an' Lord Atholstan was travelling together today, an' he ast how the Admiral Beatty was getting on. I guess he remembered that operation might. But what I started out to say was that I hed another talk with President Beatty. He wanted me to set in at a meetin' of the Bank of Montreal—an' then set in with him an' Sir Henry Thornton fer a talk on how to lose money an' save it. I said he orto git Sile Jones on that job—fer Sile always gets it back somehow—from somebody. Well, it's great to git into the office of these fellers that kin push a button an' bring down the town—an' find they ain't no more stuck up than I be. Mr. Beatty jist made me think I was the only feller he wanted to see all day—an' that what I hed to say was to hear. They was a lot of other fellers waitin'—so I didn't stay as long as I wanted to. I want to tell you he's a good friend of Saint John—Bye Hiram."

Came to Saint John From England With Artillery at Time of Trent Affair.

Although he had been in failing health, but able to be about with unusual vigor for a man of 84 years, Walter J. Lamb died at his home, 167 St. James street early this morning. He was of English birth, coming to Canada from Ilford, near London, with an artillery regiment, Artillery, 8th brigade, at the time of the Trent affair. His wife died some years ago. She was Miss Amelia Kearns.

Mr. Lamb is survived by one son, Walter J., Jr., residing at home and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Barton, wife of Dr. Barton, of Lancaster avenue, West Saint John, and Mrs. W. D. Swatbridge, of Brooklyn, New York, who is now visiting in the city. Seven grand children also survive. The funeral will be on Monday afternoon from St. James' church, with service at 8:00 o'clock. Interment will take place in the Church of England burying ground.
