CHILD'S PRINCESS SLIP.

seam in material and clinging in line. This seven gored princess slip with inverted pleat at the center of the back may be developed in lawn, cotton crepe, China silk or satin.

To make it requires 3 1/2 yards of 18-inch or 3 yards of 48-inch material, with 1 1/2 yards of embroidery or lace 4 inches wide for the ruffle. Four yards of insertion and 3 yards of edging complete the decorative requirements.

Fold the material, if it is 36 inches or wider, and lay parts of pattern marked with triple "T" perforations on lengthwise fold and remaining pieces with line of large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread of material.

Take the front gore, then join to this the side front. Do the same with back and side back. Close shoulder seams; then close back seam from large "O" perforation to lower edge, finish edges.

Pretty Ribbons, Rich Velvets and Silks,
Novel French Toys and New Hair
Ornaments Prove Popular at Marr's
—A Well-Dressed Window

Few pre-holiday attractions have elicited more favorable comment than that of the Marr Millinery Company which offers many pleasing suggestions to the gift-maker, at a price-range enabling Christmas shoppers to secure the most at modest outlay.

Proud in the Marr exhibit is an extensive array of dainty Swiss baby ribbons in white, pink, cardinal, old rose, blue and coquettish, in thirty-six yard ends, at 50 cents for the entire length. These will be sent by mail, to any address, on receipt of price.

Other features include a rich assortment of silk, satin and Dresden ribbons, in various widths and popular colorings, that make up beautifully into girdles, hair-ribbons, handbags, and almost countless other holiday presentables that are sure to be appreciated.

Also gold and silver ribbons, in different lengths, from 10 to 50 cents the yard.

There is also an exquisite showing of silk velvets, silks and nettings, in all prevailing shades, so much desired for reception and evening gowns.

White gloves, in long (or evening) and short lengths are also in evidence, as well as an excellent line of gloves for men.

Hair ornaments, in all the newest designs, are well to the fore, and will doubtless prove great favorites as Yuletide gifts.

The French toy section, which is already highly popular, includes "Hug-Me-Tight" kiddies, unbreakable dolls, winter boys, winter girls, country boys and girls, quaint little dolls in Dutch costume, and a wide range of animals and birds.

The array, all through, is exceptionally pleasing, and is probably the most attractive in the uptown shopping district, being supplemented by an artistically arranged window display which is attracting much attention.

Is 83 Years Old
And Her Heart Does Not Bother Her.

Thanks to MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. J. McLaren, Comandora, Ont., writes under date of February 9th, 1914, "Sixteen years ago I took back with my heart and nerves, and was not able to do anything. I tried a good many doctors, but they did me no good; in fact one doctor gave me up to die. I heard about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I thought I would give them a trial, and after using a couple of boxes I saw that I was improving. I kept on using them for quite a long time. I am eighty-three years old and my heart does not bother me at all.

"I am raising a little girl who was never very strong, and the doctor said that she had palpitation of the heart, so I started to give them to her. She is now twelve years old and they are doing her more good than I can possibly tell you. I would advise anyone who has a weak heart to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as they have done wonders for us."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; for sale at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TRULY HEROIC.

One-Armed French Soldier Shows Sublime Self-Sacrifice for Country.

A certain English naval officer who had the misfortune to lose a leg in a shark encounter, was beset wherever he went with questioners, eager to know how, when and where he had met with his loss.

He finally invented an expedient for suppressing his tormentors. He would promise to answer them one question, but only one, on the subject. The question invariably was, "How did you lose your leg?" and the invariable answer, "It was bitten off," which, of course, left his hearers ten times more curious than ever.

A Hungarian statesman used to rid himself of tiresome visitors in much the same way by relating the following story: Once, when in Paris, Napoleon paid a visit to a hospital for old soldiers. Among those there was an old man who had lost an arm. The Emperor asked him: "Where did you lose your arm?" "At Marengo, sir."

"Then, no doubt, you curse the Emperor and your country for your fate?" "On the contrary," said the veteran,

"for the Emperor and my country I would sacrifice my other arm."

"I can hardly believe it," said Napoleon.

The soldier immediately drew a sabre from its sheath and lopped off the other arm. At this point the Hungarian would pause and look at the visitor, demanding, "What is your opinion of such an action?"

"A most sublime act of self-sacrifice," would be the enthusiastic response.

"With, however, one flaw," would come the withering comment. "Pray how could a one-armed man contrive to cut off his only remaining arm?"

The story never failed to produce the desired effect.—Washington Times.

Testifying in the Bath, Me., police court, a woman gave her age as thirty-five. She was followed by her son, who said he was thirty-two.
