Two Vets Help Carry Braves' Pitching Load

MARQUARD

Showing—Other Teams

Stronger.

(By Henry L. Farrell.)

New York, April 17—(United Press)
—Just for the reason that the New York Yankees are expected by the majority of the baseball critics to be set for another stroll *to the championship, the American League pennant race has the possibility of a tremendous sensation that would develop if the Yankees should not live up to form.

It is more or less accepted if the Giants should falter in the National League, one of two contending teams would win the pennant, but in the American League it would become almost an open contest if the Yankees should happen to stumble and fall by the wayside.

On the assumption that baseball is too uncertain to accept the position of the Yankees as impregnable, five or six teams stand for the pennant in the American League.
Since 1914, when the Boston Braves upset all calculations in the National League by trailing behind the pack untill July and then stepping out and winning the pennant, a critic can give any team a pennant chance without risking his hide before the pistol of an assassin.

Four new managers have been appointed in the American League since the season closed last fall, one team has been completely reorganized, one

The Boston Red Sox have been reorganized from top to bottom with new owners and a new manager. The club has been strengthened by the addition of Steve O'Neil, one of the great catchers; by Wambsgans, a fine second baseman; bobby Veach, slugging outfielder, and by Dudley Lee, a rookie shortstop, who has been hailed as a sensation by veteran baseball scouts.

By the use of substantial cash, Connie Mack has added to the Philadelphia
Amar Bishop, a promising second baseman from the fine Baltimore, club.
For two years Mack hasn't needed much to be "up there," and perhaps these three players will be needed in getting George Burns back from Boston, a position that has been toning the pennant in the American League.

team has been tremendously strengthened, and one has been improved.
Lee Fohl, with the Boston ited Sox; Frank Chance, with Chicago White Sox; Buck Harris, with the Washington Senators, and George Sisler, with the St. Louis Browns, are the new pilots. Because they have new managers, who may introduce new policies and whose leadership may exert some kind of a new inspiration, these clubs cannot be figured on past performances.

Quite naturally, Babe Ruth will be a feature of the American League. The Babe, when he starts out to slide, will attract almost as much attention and as much conversation as he did when he was in the zenith of his power. There is no reason to predict that the Babe is going to slide this year. On the contrary, there are abundant causes to believe that he will be as valuable to his team and as spectacular a player as he ever has been.

Perhaps Ruth will not make a new home-run record. He has announced

Fred Clarke, one of the greatest out-fielders, one of the greatest out-fielders of all time, made a tour of the major league baseball camps this spring in the interest of a firm manufacturing baseball paraphernalia.

Clarke, who has been actively out of baseball for some years, was impressed by three things—a lack of good throwing outfielders and the scant attention paid to base running.

The former star outfielder, who had established themplotted the Pittsburg Pirates to a plitchers who had established themplotted themplotted that he will fail to break his own record, but he will be an interesting Babe to watch, even when he is failing. He says that he wants to win the batting championship of the league and it is quite possible that he will succeed. The Babe, getting two out of three or three out of four every day, with a homer or two scattered among the more humble hits, will be a tremendous card, and he will keep the league in conversation even if the Yankees win the race on one leg.

The fight for second and third places, which carry a cut of the world's series money to the winners, will have to be the feature of the race if the Yankees run to form, and it should be a good fight to watch.

While there are two teams in the National League race that can be assigned to the last holes without much of an argument, there isn't a team in the American League that is sure of finishing seventh or eighth.

Strength among the clubs that will challenge the Yankees for the championship is more evenly divided than the contending power in the National League and it is bound to result in a more interesting contest. record, but he will be an interesting

"More than one big league manager is going to be much disappointed if certain highly touted recruits fail to come through."

There is no denying the correctness of Fred Clarke's sizeup of the pitching situation. Most of the managers frankly admit a weakness in this department of the game.

"In the old days, the outfielders in spring training paid almost as much atacy in their throwing.

Absolute Beard-Softening now an accomplished fact—science calls it DERMUTATION.

It is a Universal Product—Works in Any Water—Any Clime—At Any Temperature of the hair of your beard from wiry stiffness to a soft, pliable condition. Hairs under this new Mennen process offer no resistance at all—the razor blade simply sweeps right through "Dermutation" is the transformation

Mennen Dermutation works, regardless of the hair's position

It is only necessary that the hair be outside the skin for Mennen lather to be brought in contact with it and dermutation starts. The hairs lose their horny, stiff character and become soft and limp, offering no resistance to the cutting edge of the razor. Hairs in this condition need no props or support to jack them up so that the razor can cut them. If the hair is on the outside of the skin, the razor is sure to get it.

And Dermutation, or absolute beardoftening, is not the only point of uperiority of Mennen's.

Mennen Shaving Cream softens the beard equally well, whether you use cold or hot water. Mennen's keeps uniform under any climatic condition of heat or cold. It will also yield a copious lather in hard or soft water, for certain elements in its composition will soften the hardest water and neutralize the irritating, drying salts in alkaline waters.
