Premier McBride moved the adjourn ment of the debate. The House then adjourned until to Victoria, March 1st, 1905. The School Bill is still before the legislature. To-day there was added to the debate the speech of the Premier in defence of the bill, and Chas. Munro and J. Murphy in criticism of it.

The Premier, in the absence of any thing good to say of the act, found fault with John Oliver for looking to the interests of his constituents rather than the country at large. He also contended that the people of the province, as in the case of the Assessment Act, would be prepared to bear the increased burden.

Chas. Munro, who does not very fre quently address the legislature, but who nevertheless is capable of bringing a very ripe judgment to bear on public questions, and has the ability to express his opinion in the choicest language, contribuiled an address which will not be ex-celled during the whole debate. He made a deep impression on both sides of the House when he pointed out that if the bill was passed those responsible for its passage would stand convicted of owardice, inasmuch as they increased ness to come out and state that they

Question of Privilege.

John Oliver, on a question of privilege, took exception to the fact that the votes and proceedings of Friday were not absolutely correct in so far as no record was made of the fact that the Premier had moved a resolution on better terms, which was withdrawn in favor of another one introduced. The Premier said he had no objection to amending the record of the proceedings in this respect.

The Speaker said that he had agreed to the form in which the subject appeared in the votes and proceedings because the leader of the government and the leader of the opposition agreed to withdraw the former resolution. In view of this he thought the proper course would be along the lines in which it ap-

VICTORIA MERCHANTS IMPORT FROM STATES

Number of Important Changes in the Retail and Wholesale Quotations During Week.

There are several important changes in the local market quotations this week Potatoes have made another advance. The local crop has apparently become al most exhausted, or the farmers of Vancouver Island and the lower Mainland are holding back in order to obtain a high price for their product. In such a case a speedy fall in both the wholesals and retail quotations is predicted. The potatoes now on the market are mostly mported from Colorado and California as is usual at this season, eggs are becoming cheaper. They are retailing at about 27 cents a dozen. There are no changes in butter or other dairy products to record. The local market was affected yesterday by the importation of two tons of spring salmon caught on the West Coast. The fish weighed in the neighborhood of 40 pounds each, being without exception the finest specimens of salmon ever caught for the Victoria market. Appended are the retail quotations: Hungarian Flour-
