JOHN BURNS' BOOK.

He is to Write About Canada After a Four Week's Tour.

John Burns, the English labor leader and member of parliament, has spent nearly a month in Canada, has travelled through the Rockies and back, and now knows so much about the country that he is about to write a book. One wonders if Mr. Burns knows anything about the Regina district in Saskatchewan. Of course, he saw the city, if he went through there in daylight, but did he see the surrounding country, with its miles upon miles of golden wheat, thrashing as high as forty bushels to the acre? Why it would take a month to see that district alone. The farmers there are not pioneers; they are mostly wealthy men with fine houses, luxuries galore, and the chances are that daughter has been to the ladies' college and is spending the afternoons in the drawing room, playing Beethoven's Appassionata Sonata on a Goursay piano. For the Goursay is known in these western lands as known as an instrument that is thoroughly high-class. As a matter of fact, the people out there are not satisfied with cheap articles; they want the best on the market. It is not surprising, therefore, that the other day Messrs. Goursay, Winter & Leeming, Toronto, forwarded to their Winnipeg branch house a whole cartload of Goursay for distribution to western purchasers. One of these, Mrs. (Rev.) T. R. McNair, is residing in Regina, and, inasmuch as she won in Ontario a high reputation as a teacher of the piano and Chambers Lodge, No. 1, A. O. U. W., will meet tonight in their lodge room, Orange Hall, German street, instead of Monday evening.

A picturesque visitor to the city is Capt. Zacharie Surrette, who as captain of the Gloucester schooner George S. Boutwell, rescued the Canadian crew of the wrecked Glasgow steamer Warwick, off Grand Manan, the last of December, 1898. This rescue, which was made in the teeth of a blinding gale and thick snowstorm, is one of the most thrilling in the annals of the city.

The Watte Comedy Company played to great business at the Opera House yesterday. Hundreds of people were turned away both at afternoon and evening performances. The audience seemed to be pleased with the efforts of the company, and applauded generously.

The body of Miss Mary Short, daughter of the late William Short, formerly of this city, whose death occurred in Vancouver on the 15th inst., will arrive here today and the funeral will be held from German street Baptist church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The C. P. R. messenger boys have a good thing this year in the way of a Christmas card. A splendid picture of the operating room of the commercial office on Prince William street is found on the inside and below are the words: "Through the coming year may all your messengers be bearers of good news."

William Pugsley, Jr., received a letter yesterday from his friend, Herbert J. Ross, the Rhodes scholar, from McGill, who is at the present time at his father's home in Hamilton, Ont., spending the Christmas vacation.

Among the season now in port is a young man by the name of Hearst, a resident on the Allan line. Mr. Hearst, who has had a more varied experience than falls to the lot of a student, is a linguist. He speaks no less than nine languages and is a very versatile man.

One of the oldest and best known residents of Wolfville, John W. Hardwick, died at the home of his brother, William Hardwick, on Wednesday, after a short illness, aged 75 years. He was a native of New Brunswick and was well known by old and young.

His quiet and original personality was a great asset to the community. He was a member of the old land-marks of the town.

The beautiful prayer book and vest in memory of the late Canon DeVeber, has been purchased by the church, and a short dedicatory service was held before the regular service last Sunday. The book, which was purchased by C. Ernest Fairweather, is a handsome piece of church furniture. It is of quarter bound, with a leather cover, and is in harmony with the pulpit, having two panels in front with a cherub's head between them. The latter is the following inscription: "In loving memory of Rev. W. H. DeVeber of Christ's Church Cathedral, and rector of this parish 1859 to 1885."

The book is large enough to accommodate two clergymen, and on one side is a pinned sheet of paper with the letters "I. H. S." while on the other side is placed the DeVeber crest.

A number of Connecticut hardware manufacturers, headed by Sargent & Co. of New Haven, are said to be looking for a site in Canada for the purpose of establishing a branch factory for this country. It is said that Ottawa is one of the places being considered. Sargent & Co. is one of the largest firms of the kind in the United States.

Break-thieves relieved Chas. J. Ward of the One Mile House of his Christmas dinner Saturday. Two turkeys and a goose, which he had in an ice chest outside the house, were stolen. There was this, however, to buy another "gobbler" for the Christmas dinner, and this was done.

ALL IT NEEDED.

There is more real oxygen in a liquid form in the "Solution of Ozone" (the coupon kind) than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of throat, lungs, stomach, bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King," the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeport, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "Solution of Ozone" (the coupon kind).

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.

After the opening exercises of the Exmouth street school on Sunday the following Christmas programme was rendered by the children:

Christmas Greeting—Jean Magee.
Chorus—Infant Class.
Duet—Harold Hopkins and Percy Withers.
Dialogue—Nine little girls.
Chorus—Xmas Bells.
Solo—Edith Magee.
Recitation—Alice Thompson.
Solo—Hazel Hamilton.
Recitation—Helen Wilson.
Chorus—Beautiful Bethlehem Star.

During the session the annual offering for the relief and aid fund was received, amounting to $68.60.

RIOT AND SLAUGHTER IN THE STREETS OF MOSCOW.

Atrocious tales are told of the Cossacks who, piled with vodka until drunk, fired down the streets, sometimes charging with lances. The insurgents displayed great stubbornness in holding their barricades, even advancing in a mass to the slaughter. At the same time bombs were thrown from the windows of houses near the barricades occupied by the revolutionaries. The artillery was summoned and battered the houses to pieces. The plan of the insurgents, it is stated, is to hold the outskirts and gradually enclose the troops in the centre of the city. The leaders announce that an army of 30,000 is concentrated at Orel, southeast, northeast of Moscow, and will soon be ready to march to the city's assistance. The latest report is that both sides were exhausted at midnight, when firing practically ceased. The streets were in absolute darkness except for searchlights in the towers of the Kremlin and the towers of the bivarious behind barricades.

RIGA, Dec. 23, via Edithburgh.—The railway employees throughout the Baltic provinces went out on strike last night.

The newspapers protest against the false reports printed abroad to the effect that Riga was bombarded and was burning, and that the revolutionists blew up a train carrying 300 Cossacks, and the Associated Press is able to deny the rumors. The town is perfectly quiet, the inhabitants go about unmolested, street traffic is carried on in good order, and there are opera performances daily, though attended by small audiences. Soldiers and police are patrolling the streets day and night. Three cruisers are anchored in the harbor at the disposal of the Baltic governor general, Lohobuh, who has not yet arrived. Foreigners are in perfect safety at present.

The opinion that it would be a wise precaution if each of the principal cities of the Baltic were to be put in readiness in emergencies, as passenger steamers would be unable to carry refugees in case of armed opposition.

The revolutionaries continue a program of agitation, hold daily meetings, and today posted an order to partisans to disarm soldiers.

At Lohobuh the cruiser Okean and the torpedo boat Protchny have arrived. The town is in full control of the troops. The revolutionaries are quiet and holding few meetings.

At a meeting of the foreign consulate it was decided to fly the national colors over the consulates. While the town is regarded as sufficiently protected by Russian warships, foreign consuls in case of necessity could find refuge on the foreign merchant ships in the harbor, although it is uncertain if the revolutionists would respect foreign flags. Dogien is still in the hands of the revolutionaries, who have established a provisional government. The public affairs of Goldingen for nine days have been in the hands of an administrative committee. The autonomist committee has organized a police service, the policemen wearing red ribbons on their sleeves. The regular police laid down their arms and took the Russian uniforms and hats. The number was executed. The revolutionist administration has declared paper money values, and sold its securities.

The committee meets daily in the university, where 218 students are registered.

WIRELESS A BOON TO SHIPS AND LIFE.

Commander of Newport Station Prepares Instructive Record of New Telegraph System—Aids Search For Derelicts

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 25.—Demonstration of the practical worth of wireless telegraphy has been the object sought by Rear Admiral Manney, of the Bureau of Equipment, ever since the time the charge of the wireless work of the government was concentrated in his office. Principally this work has been along the line of making the system which now extends on the Atlantic coast from northernmost Maine to Key West and then jumps across to Guantanamo to Culebra and Colon on the isthmus, a practical means of communication just as accurate and reliable as would be a system of land wires and ocean cables.

A secondary matter, and a very important one in the view of the Bureau, is the work done by wireless telegraph in the way of saving life and property at sea.

In order to definitely ascertain the present value of the wireless stations of the navy in this matter, Rear Admiral Manney recently sent a request to the wireless station at Newport, R. I., Commander Albert Gileves, in charge, asking for a report. In reply he learned of the following instances in which wireless telegraph played an important part:

January 3.—The Pilgrim reported that it had run down a schooner in the Sound and asked that a tug be sent to the rescue. February 5, Lightship No. 16, which was jammed in the ice and in a dangerous position off Dumlupunka, the Hiss was sent to her assistance and the lightship saved.

March 31.—The Manitou was reported with a thrust shaft fractured, and the report was forwarded to the ship's agents.

June 1.—The station notified the lightship on Nantucket Shoals to watch for a motor boat adrift.

August 22.—A message was received from the lightship that the British steamer Korran had low pressure piston broken, and the news was forwarded to the agents. The Chattanooga, on the same day reported that she had passed a sunken vessel dangerous to navigation and the news was given through the wireless station to the press, the Hydrographic office and navigators.

September 21.—German oil ship Phoebe reported that she had a collision with an unknown steamer in a fog at night.

September 22.—While the Columbia was searching for the derelict Warren a telegram from the Philadelphia Marine Exchange was received advising the latest known location of the wreck. This was transmitted to the Columbia and enabled her to find and destroy the derelict two days later.

December 8.—Steamer Cowrie reported passing the brigantine Hesperia under a jury rudder. The information was sent to her owners.

December 9.—The steamer Bayona reported that one of her main boilers was leaking, that she was returning to New York and asked that a tug be sent to meet her. The request was transmitted.

December 10.—Lightship No. 58 reported that she was in distress on Nantucket Shoals and asked help. Assistance was sent from Boston, and although the ship was lost all hands were saved.

In comment upon this record Commander Gileves writes:—"This shows what a tremendous factor wireless telegraphy is destined to become in ameliorating and, in many cases, altogether averting disasters on the high seas."

A TEN YEAR OLD GIRL WHO WRITES POETRY.

Little Miss Vera Vincent, aged ten, of 141-1/2 Waterloo street, was one of the winners in the Star's Santa Claus letter competition, sent in her letter that won the prize for the following very creditable little verses:

CHRISTMAS EVE.
Dear Santa Claus is coming
With his great big pack of toys,
To go around on Christmas Eve,
To give to girls and boys.

Old Santa is a jolly man,
He brings us lots of fun;
He goes around on Christmas Eve
With toys for everyone.

That this is not the first poetry the little girl has written is shown by a pretty letter of thanks to Santa for her present, which, with an enclosure of verse from the "Northern Messenger," of Montreal, the good old saint, has been sent to the Star for publication.

Miss Vincent closes her letter as follows:
I thank you again, and hope all the little girls and boys who have been kind to, will join with me in asking God to take care of you.

The poetry, which was published in the Northern Messenger of Dec. 22, with a line saying it was unwritten by the editor, was as follows:

GOD'S BEST GIFT TO MAN
I hear the bells of Christmas,
Telling their story abroad,
Of the beautiful, beautiful present,
That was sent from our own true God.

Oh! such a beautiful present
That ever came upon earth,
Was the beautiful, beautiful baby!
Oh boy, a Saviour's birth.

The bells were ringing joyfully,
They were heard to sweetly say,
Won't you come and see the baby,
That was born on Christmas day.

That story came to the wise men
Who lived in the east afar,
God sent a guide to the wise men
It was a great big star.

They got on their camels' backs, and went,
And an star showed the men the way,
Until it stood right over the place,
Where the dear little baby lay.

Composed by VERA VINCENT, (aged 10.)
