ARRANGING FOR CARE OF AUSTRIANS AND GERMANS

It was officially announced that the order in council has for its object to ensure an effective control and supervision over persons of alien enemy nationality residing in the country. In enacting it the government quite realizes that there is a very large proportion of these residents who are perfectly peaceable citizens and in no sense a source of danger to the country. It also, however, realizes the necessity of putting itself in a position to distinguish between the loyal and the disloyal, and to provide for the care of those who may be animated by hostile intentions, or who may be a source of danger either by their country or by reason of their seeking to leave the country with the view of joining enemy forces.

In order to attain these ends, the provisions of the order enact that in different cities, towns and other places, throughout the country, where persons of alien enemy nationality may be found in considerable groups, regular offices shall be established and registrars appointed. It is made the duty of all persons coming within the category of enemy nationality to report themselves to such offices within a month after proclamation of the creation of the office in the city or place in which, or in the neighborhood of which such persons may reside.

The registrar is empowered to examine those persons upon all matters bearing upon their nationality, their disposition and intentions and their situation from the point of view of their being able to provide for themselves. He is empowered, in cases where as a result of examination, he feels satisfied that the person examined may be allowed to leave the country, without danger of his aiding the enemy either by active service or otherwise, to grant to such person a permit to leave the country.

As regards those to whom he would not feel justified in issuing such a permit, whenever that appears a safe and proper course and where they are in a position to maintain themselves, they may be allowed to remain at liberty, subject to the obligation of regularly reporting.

As respect to those with regard to whom the registrar after examination would not deem it proper in the interest of the public safety, that they should be allowed to be at personal liberty, or if so allowed, would not be in a position to maintain themselves, they are to be interned as prisoners of war and treated as such persons, in accordance with the general rules of international law, more particularly those enacted by the Hague Convention. Such persons while kept under guard are not to be imprisoned in any penal institution and provision will be made for their maintenance, in cases of men of this class who have wives or children dependent upon, the latter will be permitted to remain with them if they so desire, and be accounted for in the same manner as persons of this class, would be prisoners of war, their custody and the manner of providing places wherein they may be interned, and for their maintenance will rest with the military authorities.

There is a further provision with regard to persons of alien enemy nationality desiring to be naturalized. This provision requires that in addition to compliance with the conditions for naturalization imposed by existing laws that such persons shall in addition produce a certificate showing that they have been duly registered and the approval of the registrar of their application for naturalization. The government confidently expects that through the means provided it will be made possible both to assure to such persons of alien enemy nationality as may desire to remain in this country, the protection to which they are entitled and at the same time to facilitate with those with regard to whom there may be reason to fear that they may prove a source of danger in a manner that will protect the country against any such danger and also fully comply with the requirements of the international law with regard to persons so detained.

PUNY HAD BECOME WORLD'S BEST JUMPER

ALMA W. RICHARDS, WINNER OF OLYMPIAN HIGH JUMP, CLEARING 5 FEET, 1 INCH, DURING THE CENTRAL A. A. U. OLYMPIAN TRY-OUTS AT EVANSTON, ILL.

When the word reached Provo, Utah, that Alma W. Richards had won the running high jump in the Olympic games, staid Mormons smiled and the younger generation whooped it up. No one was particularly surprised, as Alma Richards has a habit of doing things. But everyone was happy. They call the winner of the great jump "the Mormon giant" and he deserves the title. He is a self-made athlete and his winning of world-record comes after years of endeavor and a determination inherited from the men who established the Mormon religion and made the desert blossom. He hails from a family of athletes. The son of Morgan A. Richards, he was born at Parowan, Utah, and is just 21. When a child he was an invalid and was sent from the city into the fields to find the health and strength which nature had denied him. His quest was successful, and today he is a big, strapping fellow, clean-limbed as a greyhound and as tough as rawhide. Life in the open, athletics and clean-living backed by determination, accomplished the miracle. Richards is a Brigham Young university student. He first competed in athletics three years ago and his best jump was 5 feet 7 inches. Two years ago he competed at the university and was beaten in every event in which he entered. Undiscouraged he entered the games held the next fall and won every event he entered, making a state record of 6 feet 2 3/8 inches in the running high jump. Before he went east, Richards had defeated the famous world's record holder, George Horine of Leland, Stanford, just as he defeated him in Sweden. Richards went to the Olympic try-outs at Evanston, Ill., and won the high jump with ease, reaching 5 feet 1 inch. He is an unassuming chap, but full of confidence in his ability.

CANADIAN BALL LEAGUE DIFFICULTY

There is no time like the present for men with enough sporting blood in their veins to become baseball club owners, since unsettled conditions in the Canadian league have reached a stage where several franchises could be secured for considerably less than has been asked for them in the past. Parties interested in a number of Canadian league clubs, who have lost more than they have been in the habit of losing because of the bad season just closed, would take anything that looked reasonable for their holdings.

There are a number of clubs, whose owners are tired of being a part of an organization which harbors a team like the Ottawas, at the distance from the circuit that the capital is. Few clubs in the league can boast ever having made enough money on the long trip to Ottawa that really netted them any substantial gain. There are not a few clubs in the organization who would welcome the return of the old six-club league which Knotty Lee organized in 1911.

Class "C" baseball which pays a dividend is preferred over one which was added to the circuit in 1912 along with Ottawa and as money getters to the other six clubs on the circuit, have been sad disappointments. At the present time it is planned to add Montreal to the circuit, this city becoming inadequate in furnishing sufficient following to be retained in the International League another season. From all accounts the Quebec city has given the class "A" league no little concern even as far back as the old Eastern League dates. Just whether Montreal would take to Canadian league ball after it supplanted the International League brand, is also another problem. With its population, the Eastern metropolis should well be able to support either International or Canadian League for that matter, but it does not. This experiment would be worth while as long as Ottawa is retained in the league, since Montreal on the circuit would break the eastern trip to London and Toronto, which was not done and was not even given an opportunity to do, since most of the clubs on their trips to Ottawa failed to stop off either going or coming on the eastern trip. Summing it all up 1915 may either see a six-team league in the western section of the province or else Montreal added.

Class "B" and "A" ball in the Canadian league finds it difficult to survive where cities like St. Thomas, Brantford and Peterboro are concerned, so it is only reasonable to believe that a class "C" league with the following clubs is the one most preferred: London, Hamilton, St. Thomas, Brantford and Berlin-Guelph. With Montreal in, the circuit would be composed of: Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Peterboro, London, Hamilton, Brantford and St. Thomas.

THIS DATE IN RING ANNALS

1904—Stanley Ketchel knocked out Jimmy Kelly in 1st round at Miles City, Mont. This was the bout in which the future middleweight champion of the world made his real professional debut, as it was the first in which fought for a share of the gate receipts. In his former scrap, pulled off usually in Montana dance halls, small purses had sometimes been hung up, but Stanley fought principally for the fun of the thing. He was then employed in various capacities, as a miner, cowboy, dance hall "bouncer" and restaurant waiter, and it was not until he went to California in 1907 that he depended upon his fists for a living.

1886—Ike Weir knocked out Jim Furey in 4th round at Boston.

1905—Lew Powell defeated Johnny Fry in 8 rounds at San Francisco.

1911—Joe Mandot knocked out Young Saylor in 15th round at McDonoughville.

COULD NOT REMEMBER

Kid McCoy was hurriedly walking up Powell street, San Francisco, when he was stopped and enthusiastically greeted by a stranger.

"Hello Kid," said the man as McCoy ransacked his brain to try to place him, "bet you don't remember me."
"The Kid refused to accept the bet. 'You ought to be ashamed,' continued the stranger, 'think hard and see if you can't remember me.'"
"No use," said McCoy, "can't place you at all."
"Don't you remember when I came into your place in New York and bought a drink?" asked the stranger. McCoy made a show of "sudden recollection" and then walked on.

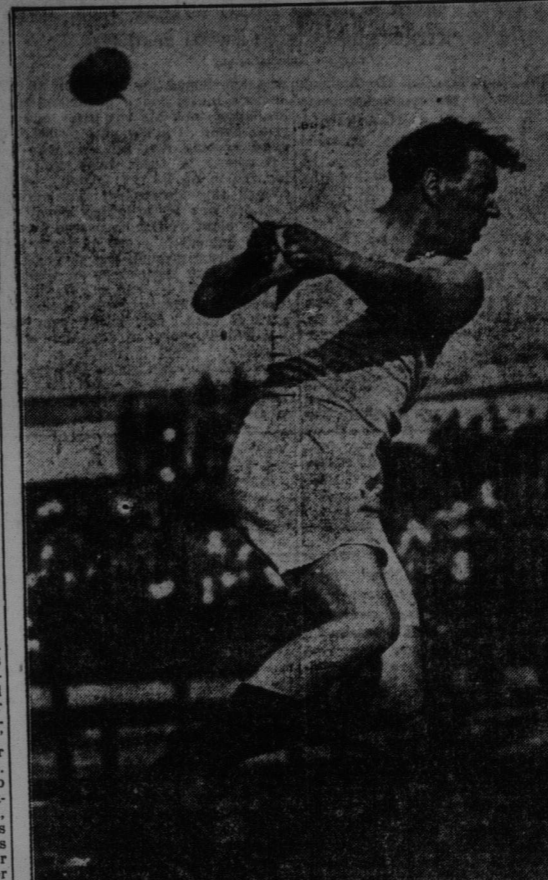

PERMITTED TO APPEAL

Washington, Oct. 28.—An order by Justice Pitney was filed today in the Supreme Court permitting the Long Sault Development Company to appeal from the decision of the New York Court of Appeals, which held unconstitutional an act of the legislature in 1913 repealing the company's franchise. The concern had a franchise to construct a dam and power houses at Long Sault Island in the St. Lawrence River. The case has been stubbornly contested.

RETIRED CHAMPION, TOMMY RYAN, THINKS LITTLE OF JIM FLYNN

TOMMY RYAN BOXING WITH JIM FLYNN AT THE LATTER'S QUARTERS.

Chicago, Flynn's manager, to train Jim Flynn for his contest with Champion Jack Johnson. After being with Flynn for two weeks and trying, during this time, to satisfy myself he was the right man to fight Johnson, I failed to see where he had one chance in a thousand to win. Jim Flynn is a light heavyweight, and he should not weigh more than 175 pounds in condition to box, being but a trifle over five feet nine inches tall, his reach being very short; and he knows nothing about fighting, save to go in and slug—and he has to go to close quarters to do that. Flynn has a bad temper and will take advice from no one. If I could see my way clear to say Flynn was an even match for John son I would be pleased to do so, but I cannot. He is too small. He may be a game man, and may believe he can beat Johnson, but I do not agree with him.

DEVORE AND IRA THOMAS ARE LUCKY

Next to Ira Thomas of the Athletics, ball players declare that John Devore is the luckiest man in baseball. Thomas was sold from the Highlanders, a tall-end club, to Detroit, and got there just in time to take part in a world's series and get some of the dough. After losing the pennant Detroit sold him to Philadelphia, where he arrived and remained to take part in three world's series and is about to have a hand in the fourth. Josh Devore was taken from Newark by the Giants and got into two world's series. After being shunted to two clubs, Josh was picked up by the Braves just in time to get with a team that will help him to a little more of the prize money.

Flynn is outclassed every way you put it, and in my opinion the match should never have been made, for it was nothing but a set-up for Johnson.

The champion is a great fighter and has every natural advantage that a man could have. He has the reach, height, weight, and is clever.

How any sane man can figure where Flynn could whip Johnson, or where he can give any kind of a fight, I can not see.
