Enthroning "Smartness"

BY EXPRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

If there is one tendency of the day which, more than any other, is unhealthy and undesirable, it is the tendency to deify mere smartness, unaccompanied by a sense of moral accountability. We shall never make our country what it should be until as a people we thoroughly understand and put in practice the doctrine that success is abhorrent, if obtained by the sacrifice of the fundamental principles of morality.

The successful man, whether in business or in politics, who has risen by conscientiousness and integrity of his neighbors, by deceit and chicanery, by unscrupulous boldness and unscrupulous cunning, stands towards society as a dangerous wild beast. The mean and cringing admiration which such a career commands among those who think crookedly, or not at all, makes this kind of success perhaps the most dangerous of all the influences that threaten our national life.

Our standard of public and private conduct will never be raised to the proper level until we make the scoundrel who succeeds feel the weight of a hostile public opinion even more strongly than the scoundrel who fails.
