Dear Mr. Mackenzie King:

If you are not too busy to see me, I should be glad to call upon you at any time that may suit your convenience after Friday morning, up to that date I am busy with this week's issue of "The Canadian Mail". I hope it is not too late to add my personal congratulations on the satisfactory settlement you effected of the Grand Trunk Railway strike. If you are unable to see me during the limited time that you are to be in London at present, possibly you may be able to give me an interview when you return from the continent.

I am,

Yours very truly,

Robt. Wilson
EDITOR.
