Her Prepossessing Manner I his Mora ing Gained Permit 16 Visit the Jail. "May I speak with the Chief?" Officer Groves courteously bowed and directed the lady into Mr. Young's private office at the police

She was comparatively young and decidedly preposessing, dressed with exceptional taste and of very modest and cultured demeanor. She desired audience with Comeron, the convicted forger, now in Castle Mercer awaiting sentence, to whom she claimed relationship. She made a very earnest plea to both Chief and Magis trate, but they maintained discreetly that it was essentially the province of the sheriff to issue such permits as requested. She was accordingly directed to Harrison Hall where her appealing blue eyes and ladylike mein played havoc with the Scottish discreetness of the Crown Attorney, and he issued the permit instanter. The little lady registered at the Garner as Mrs. Cameron, but Detective Mahoney is under the impression that she has made a mistake. says he thinks he could refresh her memory as to her identification by addressing her as Maude M. Fredericker,-Mrs. Maude M. Fredericker, by the way. According to Mr. Mahoney's story, the lady was formerly a Toronto girl but moved to Ohio with her husband. There, it is thought, she met Cameron, and is now negotiating for a di-vorce from Mr. Fredericker.

It is understood that she intends to make a personal plea to Judge Houston for leniency in sentencing Camer-on at the court to-morrow. Whether her eloquence will be sufficiently conyincing remains to be seen. Cameron, the prisoner who recently pleaded guilty to forging bills of various denominations, comes up for sentence to-morrow, while Chene, his alleged confederate in the counterfeiting business, will be arraigned before Judge Bell to elect. Provincial Detectives Campeau and Mahoney are to-day completing the details of the Advice to Mothers. If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely-a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.
