THE FIRST PLENARY COUNCIL.

Majesty's reply:

"To His Majesty King Edward VII., London,—The apostolic delegate and the Catholic archbishops and bishops of Canada, in plenary council assembled in the City of Quebec, desire to convey to Your Majesty the expression of their loyalty and that of all other Catholic subjects in this Dominion, as well as their grateful appreciation of the religious and civil liberty which they enjoy under your gracious rule. All pray that your reign may be long and peaceful.
(Signed) Monsignor Sbarretti, apostolic delegate."

"To Monsignor Soarretti, apostolic delegate, Quebec, Que,—I thank Your Excellency, and the archbishops and bishops associated with you, for your telegram of loyalty which is in all the best traditions of the church of which you are the hierarchy and of the Dominion where you are assembled. It is my constant desire that religious and civil liberty should always be enjoyed by my subjects in all parts of the empire.

"(Signed) EDWARD R. AND L."

The following address was presented to the Apostolic Delegate on the 16th inst. upon his arrival in Quebec for the opening of the first Plenary Council:

Your Excellency, and Right Reverend Fathers of the first Pienary Council of Canada:

The citizens of Quebec solicit the honor of tendering their homage to you on this solemn day on which the First Plenary Council of Canada begins its

With deep emotion they welcome the illustrious and venerable heads of the powerful and respected Church that has truly been a mother to our people, in this the oldest city of Canada, on this tock of Quebec so justly famed in his tock of Quebec so justly famed in his tock, on which our pioneer ancestors raised, with the standard of France, the venerated symbol of our redemption.

Your Excellency and your Lordships are welcome to this metropolis of so many dioceses, the first in the New World endowed with a Catholic university and which was afterwards honored with the Roman purple in the person of His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau: in this Church, finally, whose beneficent action has spread the Faith and civilization has spread the Faith and civilization throughout the continent of America, you are welcome in this basilica rendered illustrious by the apostolic labors of the venerable Francois de Laval, by the virtues of his successors, by the example of the model priests and religious, many of whom carried devotedness and faithful flocks.

Last year, we celebrated the three hundredthanniversary of the birth of the Canadian nation and every page of our history tells us that harmony, respect and confidence have never ceased to reign between the pastors and their faithful flocks.

To-day, as well as at the dawn of our existence, Religion and Country unite in striving to promote the great work of the development of our beloved Canada.

While the various elements of our population, without renouncing anything that constitutes the individuality of each one, are drawn still more closely together by growing sympathy, by a more and more cordial understanding and by increasing esteem fer one another, and strive to blend their interests; while the peoples of the Old World, greet this young nation arising in the New World, the Roman Catholic Church, ever friendthe Roman Catholic United, ever friendly to progress and ready to follow with motherly solicitude the generous endeavors of the peoples acknowledging her laws, labors to cement that Christian union, that concentration of talents and efforts so necessary for the development of a young and immense country.

We are glad to see these grand religious meetings held on the spot which was the cradle of our nationality, because they are a living proof of the progress that has been realized.

In truth, ere began the evangelization of the barbarous tribes of New France; departed the missionaries for hence departed the missionaries for every point of the horizon, bearing the glad tidings to nations plunged in the darkness of idolatry; here sprouted the fruitful seed of national education, of Catholic benevolence, of intellectual and artistic life whose flowers bloom everywhere, and here also you, the many pastors of flourishing dioceses, are met to ascertain and demonstrate what work has been done and to give a more powerful and luminous direction to future labors.

In the marvelous movement that impels us towards the development of our national resources, we applaud the action of the Church who, amidst the allurements of prosperity, reminds us how superior are the soul's interests which should never be lost sight of by nations wishing to be truly great.

When you report to the Sovereign Pontiff the work of the First Plenary Council of Canada, we beg you to express the profound respect in which He and the great mission he fulfils are held throughout Canada by all who bear the name of Christian.

While we Catholics profess our steadfast attachment to the religion of our ancestors and to the dogmas and teach-ings of our Church, the whole population glories in living in a country where evangelical morality and Christia principles are acknowledged as the foundation stone of civilization, and own confidence in the future of our beloved country is based on our faith in God.

Such are the sentiments that animate

the citizens of Quebec at this moment when we come to tender you the hospitality of this city, which holds in com-

FIRE WORKS AND SEANCE.

In the evening a brilliant display of fireworks was made from the hill, while between the ash and maple and fir trees planted years ago by the missionaries the illuminated buildings of this episcopal seat gleamed like some scene from fairyland. The windows a devandahs and gables were hung with chinese lanterns whose soft glow transformed the scene, while illuminated mottoes and banderol held many greetings and good wishes for Fathe Lacombe and the Grey Nuns.

The evening entertainment was attended by fully

Did it Ever Strike You

That: You must use as much care in selecting a Cream Separator as you do in selecting a horse Would any sane farmer select a light Roadster to do his heavy farm work? You say only a simpleton would do that, and you are right. But that is just what you are doing when you buy a skinned down, weak framed, worm geared Cream Separator. Look at it; examine all its points, and ask yourself if an excuse like that will do your heavy work in your dairy for a lifetime.

Wake up! If you want a machine that is built to do heavy work and do it easily, you must turn to the MAGNET. Study its construction—commor sense and horse sense—both will tell you to buy it because it is steady as a rock, is strong and rigid, has square gears and so easily turned children operate it, and it will skim perfectly for fifty years.

of Father Vandendaele, the handsome cavalier costumes used being procured from Winnipeg.

During the evening an address was presented by the pupils of the big school and orphanage, some fine choruses were sung and the girls' mandolin sextette rendered some good music. But the most striking numbers on the programme were the boys' bow and arrow drill of mimic Crees and Blackfeet and the jubilee scene by the girls. The charm of the boys' drill with its clever introduction of Indian steps and postures, is indescribable. The quaint garb of the boys, their sense of the thm, their quick assaults and retreats were all marvels of grace and a credit to the drill master. M. Varin.

The jubilee scene was a tribute both to Father Lacombe and to the wonderful work done by the Grey Nuns in the past half century at St. Albert. Half-a-dozen young ladies came out in symbolic divers representing various periods, then twenty little fairies in shining yellow and carrying long gold chains came on in a beautoff of the companies of the control of th
