

OBITUARY

MRS. BERGIN

Guelph Evening Mercury, Nov. 8

In the passing away of Mrs. Bergin, Guelph loses one of its oldest and most respected residents. She was a daughter of the late Bernard McTague, one of the early pioneers, and was born and lived all her life in Guelph. She was the widow of John Bergin, who, for many years, was in the harness business on Macdonnell St. She was a most devoted member of the Church of Our Lady and was one of the first pupils who attended Loretto Academy. Mrs. Bergin was of a bright and cheerful disposition, which endeared her to all who knew her, and will be sadly missed by her family and friends. She is survived by one son and six daughters, Rev. J. I. Bergin, S. J., rector of St. Stanislaus Novitiate, Guelph; S. M. Vincent, St. Joseph's Hospital, Hamilton; M. M. Adelsna, Loretto Community, Stratford; Mrs. T. J. Keenan, Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, Miss Rose Bergin, Guelph; and Mrs. Claude McAstocker, Havre, Montana; one brother and one sister, Mr. Michael McTague, Guelph, and M. M. Scholastica, Loretto Community, Hamilton. The funeral took place from her late home, 56 Waterloo Avenue, on Friday morning, Nov. 7th. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady at 10 o'clock by her son, Rev. J. I. Bergin, S. J., with Rev. F. W. Doyle, S. J., as deacon, and Rev. Mr. Smith as sub-deacon. In addition to a large congregation, the pupils of Loretto Academy, St. Agnes and St. Stanislaus schools, and the novices of St. Stanislaus Novitiate assisted at this most impressive service, while the funeral Mass was sung by the Novitiate choir. At the close, Mr. James Gallagher sang very beautifully "My Soul, What do I Render the Lord." The pallbearers were her grandson, Edward Keenan, Guelph, and five grand-nephews, Joseph McTague, Jack Sweeney, Thomas and Joseph Collins, Guelph, and Wilfred Kelly, Stratford. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. J. I. Bergin, S. J., assisted by Rev. M. Quirk, S. J., and the Novitiate choir. Those present from out-of-town were, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelly, Miss Kathleen Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McTague and Mr. George Downey, Stratford; Mr. P. J. Downey, Orillia, and Mr. James Bergin, Fergus.

GIFTS OF JEWELS TO NATIONAL SHRINE

Washington, Nov. 7.—Two gifts of collections of jewels, totaling in value several thousand dollars, have just been made to the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception here. The precious metals and stones in them will be used, as in the case of other such gifts, in making sacred vessels for the Shrine.

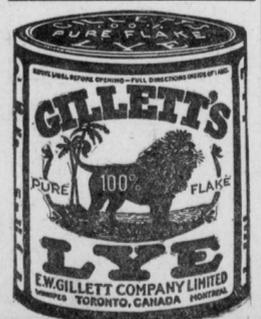

One collection comes from a woman in Brooklyn, and includes two gold rings with large and beautiful diamonds, a stickpin with diamond, garnet and pearl setting, a pair of diamond earrings and a gold bracelet set with diamonds. The other collection is from a Washington woman, and includes six gold bracelets, two gold watches, one silver watch, five gold rings, five gold chains, and one gold necklace and three breast pins.

Recent gifts of money include $4,000 from a man in Lancaster, Pa., and $1,000 from a man in Parsons, Pa. The Daughters of Isabella have just turned over to the Shrine authorities $9,000 of the $10,000 the order pledged for a chapel in the basilica in honor of Queen Isabella.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Report of the Third Annual Convention of the Diocesan Sub-Division of The Catholic Women's League of the Diocese of Antigonish held at North Sydney, N. S., Tuesday and Wednesday, October 14th and 15th, 1924.

The Third Annual Convention of The Catholic Women's League of the Diocese of Antigonish, which took place on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 14th and 15th, at North Sydney, is said to have been the most successful held since the organization of that body. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning His Lordship Bishop Morrison celebrated Mass for the delegates at St. Joseph's Church, assisted by Revs. W. F. Kiely, pastor, and D. M. McEachern. During the Mass, which was a Low one, Farmer's Kyrie, and the hymns "Veni Jesu" and "Holy God, we praise Thy Name," were beautifully rendered by the choir. At the close of the Service, His Lordship gave a short instruction to the delegates, choosing for his text: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom," and admonishing them to always bear this in mind in all their undertakings. The delegates then proceeded to Empire Hall, where the Convention was opened by the Chaplain, Rev. W. F. Kiely, with prayer. The National Ode, "O Canada," was sung followed by an address by the Local President, Mrs. Richard Hickey. Rev. Father Kiely next addressed the delegates on the aims and principles for which they were banded together in this Dominion-wide Association, after which the Diocesan President, Mrs. Matthew Ryan formally opened the Convention, and in a simple and pleasing manner outlined the aims and objects of the Organization.

NEW BOOK

"Little Cords." Taps from a Light Lash. By Francis P. Donnelly, S. J., 16 mo. Cloth. 288 Pages. Net. $1.50.

Those who have had the savor of Mustard Seed on their tongues, and who with laughter have winnowed grain from husks in Chaff and Wheat, will welcome this new volume of spiritual reading flavored with the characteristic Donnelly humor. Just a glance through the table of contents is an assurance of a continuation of the author's highly vitalized originality. The titles possess such a unique alluring freshness! Who can resist turning the pages and burrowing into subjects such as these: Wanted! A Vocabulary for the Profane, The Threatening, "Unless You—," Sex Consciousness in Grammar and Elsewhere, They Think They're Thinking, Am I Like That? A Cult of the Average, Novel Moralists, etc.

The dominant note of this little volume is that just as Jesus with a whip drove out the money-lenders from His temple so must we be constantly on guard to repel the weaknesses of our human nature. As the author states: "It is not so much at the desecrations of God's Temple that the gentle strokes are directed, but rather at blemishes which lessen the shining glory of His House. The Little Cords wave a gesture of warning; they do not sting ever so slightly."

All who buy this latest collection of essays on the foibles and failings of mankind will learn a score of valuable lessons at the same time enjoying a volley of humor and a work of real literary worth. They will exclaim with Father Finn, indeed, "the style of Father Donnelly is carbonated; it sparkles, it bubbles up; it is alive."

DIED

Moss.—At his home, at Open Hall, Nfld., Sept. 25, 1924, John Moss, aged seventy-eight years. He is survived by his wife and eight children, five sons and three daughters. May his soul rest in peace.

Regular $1.25 Books at 50c. and 75c.

A Limited Number ORDER EARLY 50c. Each

Deer Jane, by Isabel Cecilia Williams. A sweet simple tale of a self-sacrificing elder sister who attempts to keep the little household together in a time of grace and interest that are irrevocable.

Hawthornean, by Clara M. Thompson. A story of American life founded on fact.

Lady Annabel and the Shepherd Boy, by Elizabeth St. John. A Catholic tale of England in which the love of a humble shepherd for a noble daughter of an English family is ridiculed. In the course of time various opportunities present themselves which bring him before her parents in a more favorable light, and results in her marriage.

Merchant of Antwerp, by Henrik Conscience. A novel of impelling interest from beginning to end. Concerning the romance of a daughter of a diamond merchant and Raphael Banks, who, through the uncertainties of fortune, loses the favor and approval of their marriage, which has been withheld on account of differences in social position.

Straw Cutters Daughter, by Lady Georgiana Fullerton. An interesting Catholic story for young people.

Wild Birds of Kileevy, by Rosa Mulholland. (Lady Gilbert.)

Studies in Church History, by Bertrand L. Conway of the Paulist Fathers. This is an eminently readable and useful book, for which there should be a wide demand.—Ave Maria.

A Messianic, by Katharine Tynan.—A lightness of touch agreeable and amusing people, a story plot who all here, as always in a novel by Katharine Tynan, Ralph Hawthorne, summoned to the lovely country place, little come by the widow of his favorite cousin. His acquaintance with his cousin's widow, his love affair with young girl, and his eventual marriage with the widow, which he does not, though the world seems to think a marriage, are handled keenly and with a new point.

Mistakes of Modern Infidels; or Evidence of Christianity, by Rev. George R. Northrup.

75c. Each Spiritism, the Modern Satanism, by Thomas F. Coakley. The old Revelation is made "new" by Sir A. Conan Doyle. But the fact still remains that the Jew as well as Gentile was exorcised in the Old Testament for seeking the truth from the dead. The only novel feature of modern spiritism is its hold upon the present generation. Dr. Coakley's work is the death of a religion. The doctrine that comes to his book are clear, learned and more alive; expositions of the evil of Spiritism's claim, with a generous array of solid arguments to denounce Christianity's impregnable position.

The Conventionalists, by Robert Hugh Benson. Father Benson has the first quality of a great writer of fiction—the power to create characters. It is doubtful whether in the whole range of English novels there are to be found more perfect immed individualities than those of Lady Bradshaw and Mr. Bannister in "The Conventionalists."
