

MADE IN TORONTO

About the Wonders of the Klondike

Illustrating His Address With Magic Lantern Views—Interests the People.

The Growing Time in the Klondike. "Four Years' Retrospect," the title of an address delivered yesterday afternoon by Mr. F. C. K. O., Crown prosecutor for Yukon, who has resided at Dawson for the past four years, and is qualified to speak upon the subject. The lecture proved unusually interesting and entertaining, and was illustrated by lantern slides. The development which has occurred in methods of transportation, commerce, in production of gold, population, in the building of trails, the construction of schools, churches, and other life, were all noted. Mr. O. commenced by pointing out the position of the Klondike in the continent of gold camps, extending from the northern boundary of Columbia to the Arctic Ocean. The area of the Klondike proper was given at 14,000 square miles, containing 100,000 miles of streams. The area of Klondike proper was 800 square miles, with 50 miles of gold-bearing stream actually being worked. The arrangement and nature of the Klondike was explained, and it was pointed out that in four years the Klondike had produced $72,750,000 in gold, or seven-eighths of the total product of the Dominion in 40 years.

Slides were exhibited showing the difficulties of entering the country in 1898, and others showing the Pullman cars of the Yukon and the Pass Railway, which now carries the system of carriage on the Yukon routes to Dawson. Particularly interesting were the slides of Dawson as it was today, showing real estate and personal assessments of $11,847,840. Adding the value of the Klondike, $76,313,500, to this assessment, the value of steamships, $10,000,000, and realty and personality of $46,228,680, exclusive of the value of railways, roads, and public buildings, a marvelous showing in the opinion of four years. Statistics were quoted showing that there were 1,465 horses, 268 dogs, and 3,318 dogs now in the Klondike, valued at $516,885. The Klondike closed with a most interesting reference to the social life of Dawson, accompanied by many views of parties, balls, banquets, and cabin interiors, etc., etc. The chair was occupied by Prof. R. Wright, and much interest shown by the large and select audience present.—Toronto Star.

Spanish Relic.

At Santa Rita, N.M., March 16.—Roscoe Rodgers, son of a ranchman at Santa Rita, while hunting near the base of the mountains, discovered an opening in the rocks which he proceeded to investigate. The entrance was somewhat overgrown with shubbery, and, being removed, revealed a floor of this was well covered with a varied assortment of Spanish and Indian relics. There were Spanish saddles, bridles, and lances, with Spanish names inscribed thereon; bows and arrows, and a pair of red rusted armor showing to what service the owners had put them. A powder horn was also well preserved. The number of the saddles was beautifully carried, though greatly decayed, the stirrups were of fine wood. The outfit was composed of some Spanish officer. A human being, stretched full length on the floor, the high chest of which designated him as a Spaniard, probably one of the uprising of 1808, when the Spanish were at Santa Rita. Against this relic the Spanish built a rude sort of fort, the remains of which will be seen at that camp.

Interrupter Rebuked.

At Dawson, March 16.—One of the remarkable demonstrations of sympathy for an actress and disgust for an ignoramus ever witnessed in this city came to the front in the last act of "Sapho" last night at the Seattle theater.

TEACHERS CONVENTION

Public Reception Saturday Night

Addresses by Prominent Citizens Who Are Interested in Educational Matters.

The first teachers' convention ever held in Dawson came to a happy termination Saturday evening, after a session of two days. The closing exercises were held in the kindergarten department of the public school building and were in a measure of a public character. Invitations had been extended to those interested in educational matters and some 70 or 80 ladies and gentlemen responded by their presence. Principal G. P. McKenzie, who was president of the convention, called the meeting to order and in a few happy words of felicitation introduced Dr. Alfred Thompson, who spoke entertainingly a short time upon matters apropos of the occasion. Dr. Thompson was followed by Mr. F. T. Congdon and United States Consul Saylor, the latter expressing his surprise at having found such excellent educational advantages to be had here, a fact which everyone arriving from the outside for the first time can scarcely believe. Mr. Charles Macdonald gave a short address, as did also Rev. Dr. Grant. Papers upon various subjects were read by Mr. McKenzie, Mr. Patton, Dr. J. N. E. Brown and Miss Edwards. Mrs. Devening contributed much to the evening's enjoyment, her rich, beautiful soprano being heard in several selections.

For the ensuing year Mr. McKenzie has been elected president of the convention and Miss Keyes secretary. Congratulations by those present were freely extended to the teachers for the excellent progress made during the past six months.

Drains Are Opened.

Saturday last one of the fire engines was employed for several hours in opening the Princess street sewer alongside the Fairview hotel, affording an outlet to the miniature lake that has been in process of formation all winter at the corner of Princess and Second avenue, a complaint of which was laid before the city council at the special meeting Wednesday evening. At the rear of the lot upon which the laundry is located near the corner mentioned is a spring that has been open all winter, the overflow causing not a little trouble to a number of the residents in that vicinity. Nearly all the lateral drains, those flowing direct into the river, are now open and ready to carry off the surplus water from the flat and side hills.

Calico Ball Tonight.

The calico ball this evening in the A. B. hall given under the auspices of the Arctic Brotherhood promises to be one of the most largely attended and thoroughly enjoyable affairs of the season. There has been no dancing whatever during Lent, the six weeks' refrain from social gaieties acting as a revivifying tonic to the Terpsichorean appetites and tonight will doubtless see the capacity of the large hall taxed. Freimuth's orchestra will be in attendance as usual and Griffin will do the catering.

Today a Holiday.

Today being a holiday, Easter Monday, the quietness about town is second only to the general Sunday air that pervaded the streets on Good Friday. The banks, courts and all the government offices are closed.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Regina Hotel.—Chas. M. Logan, Whitehorse; Wm. Blick, Whitehorse; Mrs. Adele Fancher, San Francisco; R. McDonald, Seattle; C. M. Bell and wife, Grand Forks.

Empire.—J. A. Carmichael, Butte, Montana; Dan McDonald, Seattle; C. J. McDonald, Seattle; R. P. McLennan, city; John Vachestrum, city; Agnes O. Kelley, city; D. H. Morin, Burlington; W. Thibaudeau, Fortymple; George Apple, city.

Frozen at Nome.

Nome, Jan. 6.—John W. Waldron, a well-known mining man of Council City, was found dead on the trail leading from Council City to Fox river on or about December 26. A correspondent at Council City writes under date of December 28: "Please Choral Concert.

The next rehearsal will take place tomorrow (Tuesday) evening in St. Paul's Church instead of tonight, at 8 p.m.

THIRTY DAYS TO SOBER UP

Is What Kittie Howard Got Saturday

Had Been On Protracted Drunk—Prevo Fined $5 and Costs for Assault.

In the police court Saturday morning Kittie Howard was committed to jail for a period of 30 days to give her an opportunity to recover from the effects of a protracted spree. She pleaded guilty to the charge of drunk and creating a disturbance at the Standard theatre on the 24th inst., and as she had not fully recovered from the effects Saturday, as a kindness to her the magistrate ordered her committed for the period mentioned because he had concluded from the information he had learned of her that she would be in the same condition before Monday had she merely been fined and let go.

Spanish Relic.

At Santa Rita, N.M., March 16.—Roscoe Rodgers, son of a ranchman at Santa Rita, while hunting near the base of the mountains, discovered an opening in the rocks which he proceeded to investigate. The entrance was somewhat overgrown with shubbery, and, being removed, revealed a floor of this was well covered with a varied assortment of Spanish and Indian relics. There were Spanish saddles, bridles, and lances, with Spanish names inscribed thereon; bows and arrows, and a pair of red rusted armor showing to what service the owners had put them. A powder horn was also well preserved. The number of the saddles was beautifully carried, though greatly decayed, the stirrups were of fine wood. The outfit was composed of some Spanish officer. A human being, stretched full length on the floor, the high chest of which designated him as a Spaniard, probably one of the uprising of 1808, when the Spanish were at Santa Rita. Against this relic the Spanish built a rude sort of fort, the remains of which will be seen at that camp.

Interrupter Rebuked.

At Dawson, March 16.—One of the remarkable demonstrations of sympathy for an actress and disgust for an ignoramus ever witnessed in this city came to the front in the last act of "Sapho" last night at the Seattle theater.

Spanish Relic.

At Santa Rita, N.M., March 16.—Roscoe Rodgers, son of a ranchman at Santa Rita, while hunting near the base of the mountains, discovered an opening in the rocks which he proceeded to investigate. The entrance was somewhat overgrown with shubbery, and, being removed, revealed a floor of this was well covered with a varied assortment of Spanish and Indian relics. There were Spanish saddles, bridles, and lances, with Spanish names inscribed thereon; bows and arrows, and a pair of red rusted armor showing to what service the owners had put them. A powder horn was also well preserved. The number of the saddles was beautifully carried, though greatly decayed, the stirrups were of fine wood. The outfit was composed of some Spanish officer. A human being, stretched full length on the floor, the high chest of which designated him as a Spaniard, probably one of the uprising of 1808, when the Spanish were at Santa Rita. Against this relic the Spanish built a rude sort of fort, the remains of which will be seen at that camp.

Interrupter Rebuked.

At Dawson, March 16.—One of the remarkable demonstrations of sympathy for an actress and disgust for an ignoramus ever witnessed in this city came to the front in the last act of "Sapho" last night at the Seattle theater.

Spanish Relic.

At Santa Rita, N.M., March 16.—Roscoe Rodgers, son of a ranchman at Santa Rita, while hunting near the base of the mountains, discovered an opening in the rocks which he proceeded to investigate. The entrance was somewhat overgrown with shubbery, and, being removed, revealed a floor of this was well covered with a varied assortment of Spanish and Indian relics. There were Spanish saddles, bridles, and lances, with Spanish names inscribed thereon; bows and arrows, and a pair of red rusted armor showing to what service the owners had put them. A powder horn was also well preserved. The number of the saddles was beautifully carried, though greatly decayed, the stirrups were of fine wood. The outfit was composed of some Spanish officer. A human being, stretched full length on the floor, the high chest of which designated him as a Spaniard, probably one of the uprising of 1808, when the Spanish were at Santa Rita. Against this relic the Spanish built a rude sort of fort, the remains of which will be seen at that camp.

Interrupter Rebuked.

At Dawson, March 16.—One of the remarkable demonstrations of sympathy for an actress and disgust for an ignoramus ever witnessed in this city came to the front in the last act of "Sapho" last night at the Seattle theater.

Spanish Relic.

At Santa Rita, N.M., March 16.—Roscoe Rodgers, son of a ranchman at Santa Rita, while hunting near the base of the mountains, discovered an opening in the rocks which he proceeded to investigate. The entrance was somewhat overgrown with shubbery, and, being removed, revealed a floor of this was well covered with a varied assortment of Spanish and Indian relics. There were Spanish saddles, bridles, and lances, with Spanish names inscribed thereon; bows and arrows, and a pair of red rusted armor showing to what service the owners had put them. A powder horn was also well preserved. The number of the saddles was beautifully carried, though greatly decayed, the stirrups were of fine wood. The outfit was composed of some Spanish officer. A human being, stretched full length on the floor, the high chest of which designated him as a Spaniard, probably one of the uprising of 1808, when the Spanish were at Santa Rita. Against this relic the Spanish built a rude sort of fort, the remains of which will be seen at that camp.

JUST IN - JUST IN - JUST IN
...OVER THE ICE...
Two Hundred Thousand Havana Cigars

Benj. Franklin, La Africanos,	Henry Clays, Magnificos,
Velasco's Flor de Milanos	El Triunfos,
Adelina Pattis, El Ecuadors,	Henry Upman's, Bock & Co.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CAMEOS.
TOWNSEND & ROSE, Importers

publish a notice of the sad death of John W. Waldron, which occurred here a few days ago. The particulars are as follows:

"His body was found on the trail leading from here to Fox river by Bill Brookings and companion, who were on their way to the Fox river road house, about three-quarters of a mile from this city. Waldron had been attending to his mining interests on the upper Fox, and was on his way to this city to attend a Christmas entertainment given by the Arctic Brotherhood, of which he was a prominent member. His body was found prostrate on the trail, and his faithful dog was nestled underneath his coat, and apparently had not deserted his master for one moment, as the beaten snow had shown.

"Waldron's age was 49 years. He was born in Illinois, and lived in Everett, Wash., about three years, where he was engaged in the wholesale business, and was prominently identified in the politics of that city. He spent about four years in the upper Yukon previous to coming here last spring.

J. B. Noll, who reached Nome from Council December 31, says that Waldron undoubtedly froze to death. He was found lying face downward on the trail, and it is thought that death occurred the evening of December 24. The thermometer registered 28 below, and quite a strong wind was blowing. Waldron wore a sealskin coat, but had on rubber boots.

James Wilson, a Solomon river mining man, and two other men were badly frozen on the night of January 3, a half mile from Solomon river. A blizzard was raging, and the party became lost, not more than 100 yards from the trail, and were forced to camp out all night. When found next day by Sam Pruden and George Markham, Wilson was demented and both hands were frozen as hard as a brick. He was taken to Johnson's road house, where he was being cared for as well as possible.

E. E. Flemming and Stuart Fleming, who reached Nome January 4 from Council, stated that a blizzard raged with unusual violence down the coast for several days. They also report heavy trails.

Jealous Fiddlers.

Chicago, March 15.—Jan Kubelik, the violinist who has been touring this country flew into a furious rage today at the Auditorium hotel because he noticed a picture of Paderewski in the elevator. Tearing the offending print from its place he rushed up to the clerk of the hotel, and in an indignant voice exclaimed: "Thees eez one insult. For why eez him done? I have stop here like it eez my home and then I get thees insult!"

Jan's secretary, scarcely less excited, tried to quiet him. They talked rapidly in their own tongue, and the secretary, who was warning Jan to all appearances not to show his temper, threw his fur-lined overcoat over the shoulders of the violinist. Then Jan, overcome with emotion, took his secretary's face in his hands and drawing his head toward him, pressed an impassioned kiss upon his forehead.

"Eet is you who are my friend. You will tell that which I would like to talk."

He ran into the elevator, then went to his room and refused to see any callers.

own pictures adorned the lobby of the hotel, and Paderewski's posters had been put up without any intention of insulting the Bohemian violinist.

"These apologies are acceptance," said the secretary, bowing so grandly that he almost backed into Governor Yates, who was smiling over the affair. "But I must tell you M. Kubelik has no consideration for M. Paderewski as a rival. Eet eez not possible that you compare them. He would be the same mad if these pictures was of M. Sousa, thees man what plays the hand, or some singer. M. Paderewski is our friend, we have no anger with him. But to set his picture on the wall while M. Kubelik eez here—these cannot be but insulting to us."

It will be remembered that a few days ago Paderewski refused to continue a concert after he had espied the name of Kubelik upon the program until it was removed.

Chimmie—Say, d'yer know dat Billy's one o' de directors o' de Theatrical Syndicate now?

Jack—G'on! Is dat right?

Chimmie—Sure! He directs people to deir seats.—Philadelphia Press.

"Whatever became of Lamb?"

"Oh, he played the markets and went broke."

"And Wolf, what became of him?"

"Oh, he worked the markets and got rich."—Puck.

Still They Come

Our second shipment of Spring Goods have arrived. All latest styles.

SUMMERS & ORRELL

SECOND AVENUE
 PROFESSIONAL CARDS
 LAWYERS

PATTULLO & RIDLEY — Advocates, Notaries, Conveyancers, etc. Offices, Rooms 7 and 8 A. C. Office Bldg.

...J. J. O'NEIL... MINING EXPERT

Quartz mines examined and reported on. Correspondence solicited.

Address, - General Delivery, Dawson

EMIL STAUF

REAL ESTATE, MINING AND FINANCIAL BROKER
 Agent for Harper & Lydus Forensic Co. Harper's Addition, Menzie's Addition. The Imperial Life Insurance Company.

Collections Promptly Attended to Money to Loan. Houses to Rent. Gold Best Bought and Sold. N. C. Office Bldg. King St

...BAY CITY MARKET...

Choicest Meats, Poultry, Fresh Fish and Game.

CHAS. BOSSUYT - Prop.

King St., Opp. N. C. Co.

Regina Hotel...

J. W. Wilson, Prop. and Mgr.

Dawson's Leading Hotel

American and European Plan. Cuisine Unexcelled. Newly Refitted Throughout—All Modern Improvements. Rooms and board by the day, week or month.

2nd Ave. and York St. Dawson

Signs and Wall Paper

...ANDERSON BROS...

SECOND AVE.

CIGARS

We are the largest importers of IMPORTED CIGARS In the Yukon Territory — Our leaders are

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, THE GENUINE ARTICLE
 Remember there are a lot of cheap imitations on the market.

NAPOLEONS, THREE SIZES. FLOR DE MILANO, THREE SIZES.

We Want Your Business and Will Make Prices to Get It.

Macaulay Bros.

WINTER TIME TABLE—STAGE LINE.
THE ORR & TUKEY CO., Ltd.
 Going into effect Nov. 11, 1901—Week Days Only.

FOR GOLD RIVER AND CARIBOU via Carmack's and Dome 9 a. m. 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.
 FOR GRAND FORKS 9 a. m. 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.
 FOR 33 BELOW LOWER DOMINION Chase's Roadhouse, via Hunter Creek, 9:30 a. m. every other day, Sun days excepted.
 FOR QUARTZ, MONTANA AND BURKEA CREEKS—9 a. m. every other day, Sun days excepted.

Sunday Service—Leave Dawson and Grand Forks at 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

ALL STAGES LEAVE OFFICE N. C. CO. BUILDING. PHONE 8.

Watches set by departure and arrival of our stages.

DAWSON LIQUOR CO.
CHEAPER THAN EVER!
 FRONT STREET, Opp. L. & C. Deck. TELEPHONE 161