OUR CITY.

Now is the time to get together in the work of bolstering our good city. Send her further to the front in the ranks of enterprise and progress. Opportunities to do so confront us all every day. Utilize them.

Let us be civic patriots with energies consecrated to the betterment of the community. These are not idle words - empty talk. They are real and earnest counsel for us all. Let us adopt them. .

WHAT ABOUT DOMINION DAY?

The holiday arrangement which circumstances forced upon the people of Chatham this year might be a good one to perpetuate. For the first time in many years there has been no celebration on the 24th of May, while the hope is that July 1st will be one of great events in the history of the city's celebrations. Heretofore the the Queen's Birthday has been one of Chatham's big days, so to speak. While the Queen was alive there was, perhaps, no objections to such an arrangement; but now would be a good time to make a change. Canada's birthday ought to be observed above all other holidays by Canadians. There is undeniably a lack of Canadian sentiment among the people of this country. It would probably not be hard to find Canadians who are so ignorant of the history of this country that they do not know why July 1st + anxious to have their streets gridironis kept as a public holiday. It is not so long ago since there were some cars flying, and they very willingly such people in Chatham; there may be some yet. But little has ever been thing they asked. Once the streets done in Canada to cultivate a Can-, were handed over to these railway adian sentiment. Canadian writers are better known to foreigners than ' trol, all the verbal promises, made be they are to Canadians. For many, veare it was actually a question in Canadian politics whether we should look to Washington or follow of Chatham know how it is themthe old flag. It is generally supposed that there is no sentiment in business ; but every- Now that Tom is very rich and owns body knows that without an inspiring national sentiment no people ever amounted to anything. What are Humors? They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursng the veins and affecting the tissuez. They are commonly due to defective diges tion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves ?-In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? Ey

-why it is that people will not come to church in the summer solstice. We do so because the force of habits acquired during the winter may need a considerable amount of resolution to break. And we hope the pastors will take this little reminder in good part morning and at least give the suggestion a fair trial. If we mistake not it will aid materially the Great Cause to which they are consecrated.

ARE THERE ANY "TOMS" IN CHAT-

HAM ?

It is wonderful how the average voter will allow a smart politician demagogue to pull the wool over his eyes. There is form Johnson, who was a few months ago elected mayor of the city of Cleveland, Ohio. Tom has made a fortune counting up into millions out of the ownership of street railways and franchises that probably never cost him a dollar. The people were ed with railway tracks and to see the consented to give the promoters everycorporations, and the people lost confore the granting of the privileges, were forgotten, and the railway magnates became the boss. The people

But to get back to Tom Johnson: more millions than he can ever spend he has become a great philanthropist and is in favor of all the reforms the most wild-eyed cocialist can dream of. Tom is in favor of reducing street this is his great hobby, for by advoexcepting himself. A rich demagogue who will pretend sympathy for the hard-fisted gons of toil can always pull the wool over the eyes of the average citizen, and Tom is playing that role very successfully just now. The world has its Tem Johnsons in every quarter, and even here in Chatham we can turn up one, now and then, who pretends great sympathy for the trials and tribulations of the poor workingman, while he is working him for all there is in it to lift himself up into popularity or to add to his bank account. It is always cafe to keep an eye open while under the hypnotising influence of the Tom Johnsons.

Pardon us, if we mention it, but The Planet speaks for itself.

Fire Chief Pritchard and his splendid corps did excellent work this It would have been very unfair if | we hadn't been allowed that little sensation of our own this morning. There are still two weeks left to put on some energetic finishing touches to Chatham's big Dominion Day celebration.

The Toronto World says that the mayor of St. Catharines is "pig-head-ed." But we suppose that the rest of his body will be sufficient to distin-we thought that she would outgrow guish him from a citizen of Toronto, says the Hamilton Spec.

Permit us to explain that in the title of The Planet's new and thrilling story which opens in this issue-"A Humble Hero"-there is no insinuation east against the young men who so successfully saved the judge's life.

.If the engineer is correct in his statement that the current expenses of the Public Works Department are but 33 per cent. of what they were formerly, he deserves a cordial vote of thanks

It was a pleasant sight to see the cricket and baseball clubs in harness again yesterday, and both placed victories to their credit. May the season for both continue as prosperous as it opened.

Whatever happened the movement to secure the election of our public school trustees by the city at large? Every thinking citizen seemed to favor, the proposal to do away with the antiquated and pernicious ward sys-

we thought that she would outgrow Unfortunately this was not the her condition. For days at a time she was unable to take out of doors exercise; she became listless, her ap-petite failed her, and as time went on she could not stand without supporting herself against something and at times she would fall in a faint. I called in a doctor, but his medicine did not help her and she was growing weaker than ever. Another physician was then consulted, who pronounced her case one of gen-eral debility, and gave me very little hope for her recovery. Some months ago while reading one of the daily papers I came across the case of a young woman cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I determined to give them a trial. After she had used about three boxes the color began to come back to her, cheeks and she began to grow strong-er. Greatly encouraged by this, she continued to use the pills for several months and now she is as well as any girl of her age. Her appetite is good and she has gained thirty-five pounds in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have built up her system and have made her healthy and active after doctors failed to benefit her. I be-lieve that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest known medicine for growing girls, and I would advise their use in all cases similar to that ·Chatham is a city of churches and its people are largely church-goers. But in the summer months we have been often forced to the conclusion that the religious bodies of this good city were handicapped in their endeavors to retain the interest and attenlance of the public by the length of the sermons preached by their ministers, and that it would be in the in terest both of humanity and of religion to institute 'a campaign in favor of a short summer sermon.

And now the season of hot Sundays is upon us again. In the winter the long sermon is not nearly such" a drawback. It is inadvisable of course, and the public, including even the thinking public, would likely prefer the church where the minister remains strictly on the right side of thirty minutes. But in winter the churches are confortable, the atmosphere is somnolent, the mind is less wilted and more active and perceptive. In summer the long sermon is a torment - nothing less It cannot do good, however able and well thought out it may be, because "its hearers are simply incapable of attending to one-half of it, and it has the effect of scaring away from the church many a man who would be glad to worship within the limits of human endurance, and would enjoy and be better for a little homily, forceful, but not complicated, of ten to fifteen minutes' duration.

Permit The Planet, therefore, commend these considerations to the ed mayor of Cleveland. Then he in favor of the single tax plan and wants to have the real estate pay all the expenses of city gov ernment. Tom has the great bulk of his wealth in bonds and mortgages and bank and other safe stocks, and if all the taxes be raised on real estate, of which he owns but little, he will not have much tax to pay. Tom is a longheaded fellow, and knows how to save himself from the tax-gatherer.

Tom Johnson has still large inter ests in street railways, and the remediate improvement. The suggestion was a good one and should be acted markable thing about it is that he upon.
