A DISGRACEFUL RECORD.

The Hamilton Spectator man has been thinking over the events of the past few months, and has been trying to figure out where the Laurier Government stands in the eyes of the public. The result of his findings does not produce evidence of very progressive times in Canada. afford to dress warmly enough in the Very progressive times in Canada. QUICKNESS.

HREE TIMES A DAY the year round is too often to do anything anyway but the easiest way, so we recommend everybody to use "SUR-PRISE" Soap for dish-washing.

It loosens up the grease and dirt so that they side off the dish easily. Any child can wash the dishes in a few minutes with "SURPRISE" Soap.

And it doesn't hurt the hands or make them sore and rough. There is nothing harsh about "SURPRISE" Soap, and it takes so little of it to do a big lot of work that it is the most economical soap you can buy.

"SURPRISE" costs no more than common soaps.

WOMAN'S VIEW OF POETRY.

Alfred Austen Pays High Tribute to Feminine Temperament. In a lecture at the Royal Institution, the Poet Laureate has given a graphic criticism of the respective provinces of the novelist and poet, together with ninine literary tastes, which were by means the least interesting portion of his discourse.

"To describe men and women as they

"To describe men and women as they are, for the delectation of men and women as they are." says Mr. Austin, "may possibly be the proper business, and apparently is 'at present the chief task of the novelist. But assuredly," he continues, "that is not the function of the Poet, who, if he glances from heaven to earth, glances likewise from heaven to earth, glances likewise from heaven to the seven the sent the second the second that the second the second that heaven to earth, giances likewise from earth to heaven. His enduring vocation is, while thoroughly knowing men and women as they are, to transfigure them into what they might or ought to be.
"'Man has lost his dignity, but Art has saved it. Truth still lives in Poetry;

following remarks upon woman's fiter ary taste:

"The lady," he observes, "who said the offier day that she was not much interested in politics, but that she was greatly interested in politicians, uttered a suggestive truth, not only regarding herself, but likewise regarding the majority of her sex. It is no demerit in them, but let us frankly recognize majority of her sex. It is no dental in them, but let us frankly recognize the fact.

"They are interested more in the individual joys, sorrows, sins, sufferings, and emotions generally than in national materials." and emotions generally than in national or world-wide issues. One of the greatest of poems opens with the well-known words 'Arms and the man I sing.' What is the instantaneous feeling of most women on reading such an announcement? Surely it would be expressed by the words' (Sing of the man by all means. words ('Sing of the man by all

Dickens and Hall Caine.

In noting that Hall Caine has been writing a novel to do for the drink traffic what Dickens did by his novels to reform the poor law administration, a writer in The Liverpool Post points out that Bill Sikes and the Artful. Dodger are more real historical characters than all the nameless and forgotten wretches who actually lived in Dickens' time. This is not a new thought, but it is one worth emphasizing. Pickwick existed only in the imagination of Charles Dickens, but he and his foibles, his escapades and opinions are to-day exercising an influence upon the world white thousands of actual flesh and blood Pickwicks are as absolutely out of being and memory as if they had never existed. It is the In noting that Hall Caine has been as if they had never existed. It is the consideration of things like this that makes one see that after all it is not the producer and the captain of industry who are "doing things" in the world, for they are simply following out a line blazed by a thinker in a past age. Before a house can exist in brick and stone it must exist in the mind of the long and sheltered many, and it remains to be seen whether Mr. Caine's struc-ture will be as sound

Silence Not Always Golden.

Silence Not Always Golden.

Adelina Patti, who sang to perfection before she could speak articulately, has been a vocal wonder for more than half a century. She was born of Italian parents at Madrid on Feb. 19, 1842.

At the age of seven (1850) she sang for the first time in public, in New York, and after a course of study, at the age of fifteen and a half, made her public reappearance, this time on the operatic stage, in the role of Lucia (Nov. 24, 1859), and achieved a tremendous success.

(Nov. 24, 1859), and achieved a trement dous success.

For over twenty years the "Diva" sang at Covent Garden, and it is understood that her annual earnings between 1861 and 1881 averaged from £30,000 to £35,000, and that the latter sum was largely exceeded during each of the years in which she made pro-fessional tours in North and South America.

Her share of the profits resulting from her visit to Argentina in 1888, for instance, amounted to nearly £50,000.

Adelina Patti is certainly the only woman of her own or any other epoch who has earned three-quarters of a million sterling by singing and acting in the course of four decades and a half.—London Daily Mail.

Chip and Block.

"Oh," growled Dumley, "you're too pugnacious. You're forever going around with a chip on your shoulder for some one to knock off."
"That's the difference between you and me," replied Huskey. "You go around with a block on your shoulders that somebody ought to knock off."

DON'T USE GREASY LINIMENTS.

A century ago they were popular.
To-day people want something easy to apply, certain in results, and, above all, a clean liniment. When Nerviline is applied aches and pains disappear as the pores absorb its soothing, healing properties. Nerviline penetrates to the core of the pain, eases instantly, and leaves no oily, bad smelling memory behind.
Good to take in, capital to rub en, and five times more powerful in destroying pain than any oily liniment. Don't fail to get a large 25c. bottle.
