TIMOTHY EATON IS DEAD
Bullington, Saskatchewan, Jan. 30.—Timothy Eaton died at 10.30 this morning of pneumonia, following pneumonia.

Mr. Eaton contracted cold ten days ago, but his condition was not considered serious until yesterday, when he became suddenly seriously ill, and passed away peacefully and quickly. All the members of the family were with him at the last moments except his wife and daughter, who were in Ottawa. Although they left the capital by special train immediately on receipt of the news that Mr. Eaton's condition was serious, they did not reach Toronto before his death.

Timothy Eaton, the merchant-prince of Canada, was born at Clogher, near Belfast, Ireland, in October, 1835. While still a young boy he was apprenticed to a draper at Portlarnon. When he received the payment of £100 for his five years term of apprenticeship, he emigrated to Canada. This was in 1857. He first opened a general store at Kirkton, Huron Co., moving later to St. Mary's, Ont., and finally to Toronto.

He opened in 1859 his first store in the Ontario capital, a small building in which he did not even employ a clerk. Out of this he developed his present enormous business employing 3,500 men and women.

The department store system of Timothy Eaton has become so well known throughout America that agents of Marshall Field and of John Wanamaker have been sent to Toronto, at $25,000 a year, to study the Eaton system of retailing.

Mr. Eaton was a member of Trinity Methodist church, Toronto, and a liberal benefactor of the church, being largely interested in its progress everywhere. He was Associate-Treasurer of the Educational Society of the Methodist church.

In his many donations to charitable objects the deceased was guided by the influence of his feelings. If a material benefactor to him then he subscribed liberally to his cause, and with a material four years ago to the Emergency Fund for the development of the Methodist church in the west. The handsome parlors for young men in the Calgary Methodist church were also furnished by him.

Mr. Eaton was very generous always to individual cases of poverty brought to him.

On this notice, if he believed the person to be honestly desirous of advancing themselves. He took the initiative in establishing the early closing system in Toronto, and out of consideration for his employees closed his immense establishment at 6 o'clock daily and in the summer months at 1 o'clock on Saturdays.

He leaves a bereaved widow and several sons, one of whom, Mr. John V. Eaton has in recent years largely taken the weight of executive administration from his father's shoulders. Mrs. Eaton lately established and endowed the Margaret Eaton School of Expression in Toronto. Mr. Eaton was a warm advocate of Liberalism in politics.

DAILY GRAIN LETTER
Wheat.—The opening this morning was strong and a shade higher on the better cables and light Northwest receipts. Trade was of fair volume and about evenly divided. The close of wheat at 1-4 cent advance. Livestock cables were 3-8 to 3-4 higher. The Argentine news was disquieting to the bears. Wheat situation is working to show higher prices, and when the real situation becomes known, we look for a big advance in prices. In the meantime, however, the market may continue rather narrow, and for the time being we must advise buying on all soft spots and taking scalping profits.

Cats continue on their upward course, and trading was quite active today. There was a good demand for all grades of cash oats and it looks as though this demand may continue a balance of season, and more especially as exporters are receiving better bids from abroad where the situation is very nearly as bad as it is here. When we consider the small stocks, light receipts and growingly increased competitive demand the situation looks strong.

GOSSIP
New York, Jan. 30.—There seems to be a concentrated bear movement on in stock. The small holders are being forced out and the greater portion of this forced selling lands in the hands of strong interests.

New York, Jan. 30.—The severe decline in Atchouin, is said to be the culmination of a western pool in that stock. The members of the pool, it is said, will sell out about themselves and consequently there was a great deal of the stock thrown on the market for quick sale.

New York, Jan. 31.—Yesterday's stock market showed a most interesting picture than on any previous day since the present liquidation movement began. While there was still a considerable quantity of stocks for sale, there were taken and prices showed less inclination to seek lower levels and the utter abandon of the sellers that was so apparent on previous days. The New York market for the railroad shares still inviting to the investor who is quick to see his opportunity.

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—Cincinnati Price Current says: "Growing wheat unpaired by cold weather. Corn condition better. Interior grain offerings increased under better weather and acceptable prices. Packing hogs 60,000 against 63,000 last year."
