Job Printing Executed!

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A mother of two young girls under twenty writes to ask me if I do not think it wise for her to inspect her daughter's letters to men.

I can't tell her. I don't know the daughters. I hope it isn't.

But I can tell her one thing, and that is, if I were she, I would much rather inspect the men than the letters.

Inspecting letters is chaperonage and I don't believe in chaperonage. Or at least only as a last resort.

If you have daughters that you have reason to think cannot be trusted out of your sight, why you must chaperon them, of course.

But isn't it infinitely wiser to spend your life trying not to have that kind of daughter?

Conventional chaperonage is a system of watching that just naturally invites the victim to try to elude it. And however careful the system may be it is pretty likely that the girl who really wants to do wrong will "find a way."

Emerson says: "Build walls as high as you may, you cannot keep out temptation."

So it seems to me that the safest chaperonage a girl can possibly have is a bringing up amid ideals of conduct and expectations of her that will make wrong doing something not to be thought of, and give her that within herself which will successfully combat temptation.

Such an atmosphere will build an infinitely stronger wall between her and sin than any chaperonage.

But there is one way in which this atmosphere can be penetrated and that is by the persistent influence of the wrong kind of man.

That was what I was thinking of when I advised my friend to inspect the man rather than the letters.

The unwise mother, it seems to me, is not the one who fails to chaperon her daughter everywhere or know just where she is on every occasion, but she who fails to know just what kind of a man her daughter is with.

Bring your daughter up to think of wrong doing as something with which she could not possibly be associated. Impress upon her your trust in her and the obligation of honor which that imposes. Try not to put her in the way of unnecessarily great temptation. And above all, insist that every man with whom she is at all intimate shall be brought into the home. That you shall know something of his family and his past history, and that what you know shall meet your approval, and I don't believe you'll need to inspect your daughters' letters or chaperon her on every occasion.

Then there are merchants and clerks to be considered. The merchants have "tied up" a lot of money in new goods and are employing extra clerks. Those clerks must be kept "marching time" until say the last week of the Christmas season when they will be subjected to an unrealizable, strenuous, nerve-racking time of it just to show goods. WON'T YOU, as far as possible, TRY TO MAKE IT EASIER FOR THE CLERKS, BY BUYING EARLY?

And you, Mr. Merchant, it's time you got busy with your special Christmas sales. ADVERTISE THE LOWER PRICES YOU OFFER TO EARLY SHOPPERS. IT WILL PAY.

Now here's an opportunity where everyone can help. Will YOU help? Remember: Only a few weeks to Christmas. The earliest bird captures the fattest worms. SHOP EARLY. IT WILL PAY!—Ex.

Secret Sessions for Reciprocity.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—There is no official news of yesterday afternoon's proceedings at the reciprocal conference, as it is announced that the first thing agreed upon on Saturday was that no individual party to the negotiations shall make a statement to the press. An official statement may come only in parliament.

There have been reports that the conference will take up the question of pulp wood and that John Morris, chairman of the paper committee of the American Publisher's Association, was in Ottawa to lay his views before the commissioners. There is nothing in the story and it is highly improbable that any reference to the provincial regulations on the export of pulp wood will be a matter of reference during the proceedings here. One of the things which may affect the pulp parlors is the result of the state elections to-day. The American delegates will be affected in their views by the Democratic win. Their real work is to provide material for President Taft's message to Congress in December.

Counterfeiter Caught.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Suspected of being one of a New York gang of counterfeiters who have been passing bogus quarter dollars in this city, Giuseppe Galucci, of New York, was arrested to-day after a struggle, by United States Secret Service agents, as he was about to board a train for New York in Board Street Station.

Matthew S. Griffin, Chief Federal agent here, and Tyrell, his assistant, accosted Galucci just as he was passing through the train gate. As Griffin grasped Galucci's arm the man thrust his other hand into his pocket and drew a revolver. Tyrell, close behind his chief, caught the suspect's wrist, and the two agents succeeded in disarming the prisoner, although he put up a fight. He was taken to the Central Station and will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Craig in the Federal Building to-morrow. When searched a package containing 120 of the bogus coins was found in his pocket.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvellous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and yet a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Household Notes.

Dish cloths should be boiled every day in water to which has been added washing soda or a teaspoonful of kerosene.

To drive away red ants place sprigs of parsley wherever the ants are noticed. It should be renewed twice a week.

Finger marks and stains on porcelain, wood and window panes can be easily removed with coal oil on a clean cloth.

If fish are fried on a pancake griddle they will not stick and can be taken up without danger of their falling to pieces.

When too busy to bandage a small cut on the end of a finger, put a bit of clean linen upon it and then put on a thimble.

If a piece of wooden material is scorched, rub the spot with soft bread. When the scorch disappears, follow with a soft brush.

Not everyone knows that tan shoes can be dyed black. The cost is small and the result is that the shoes will serve through the winter.

If a sweater needs washing, try drying it on a coat hanger. It will not be so liable to stretch and will keep its shape much better.

A combination of onion juice and rum is a homely tonic for falling hair. Let two large onions remain over night in a pint of the spirit.

Lay in a supply of scrub-brush cloths for floors and cheese-cloth bags to slip on brooms and brushes to wipe down walls and wood-work.

New gloves which are being treasured against the time of being worn, should be wrapped in paraffin paper.

It will keep them from changing color.

A flannel dipped in spirits of ammonia is very good for removing the white spots on the dining room and kitchen table, caused by wet dishes.

Dish cloths may be kept odorless by having a solution of soda in a marmalade jar beside the sink and placing the cloths in this when they are not in use.

To keep blue clothes from fading, try adding bluing to the starch. They will retain their color better than if put in the bluing water and then starched.

An old-fashioned beef stew may be much improved by adding a cup of stuffed olives, a dash of paprika and a teaspoonful of minced parsley just before serving.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited, Gentlemen,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT on my vessel and in my family for years, and for the every day ills and accidents of life I consider it has no equal.

I would not start on a voyage without it, if it cost a dollar a bottle.

Irish Party Fund.

New York, Nov. 9.—Before sailing on Saturday John E. Redmond, the leader of the Irish parliamentary party, who has been touring America in behalf of the Irish cause, said that he and the other Irish parliamentary visitors had received during their visit pledges of $150,000 in aid of the Irish cause, and expected $50,000 additional. This sum was twice raised by him on his trips here two years ago.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Invigorates

Only a Few Weeks To Christmas.

Our message to-day is a short one, but if followed it will help business and benefit in all directions. It is summed up, condensed, crystallized, epitomized in the two words "SHOP EARLY."

We want the suggestion to strike everybody "good and hard"—everybody, all ages and classes—everybody, buyers and sellers. Christmas is almost here—only a few weeks away. The merchants have been buying and selecting, and preparing for the buyers for months past. Many of them are already inviting patronage.

YOU know whom you intend making happy with your presents (if you don't you should), and by buying early you give your friend the advantage of choicest selection. You get "the best pick" for him or her. The early bird catches the worm. You have more comfort for yourself while shopping, and you make it easier for those who serve you to wait on you.

Last Christmas—did you doubtless remember—you delayed buying for some friend until Christmas Eve or the day before. Was the choice perfectly satisfactory? Was there not a secret regret that you had not selected earlier? Did you get any presents from a friend and then "kick yourself" for not having given more thought and more care to the selection YOU made for that friend? Now surely you won't let these misadventures occur again this year.

Then there are merchants and clerks to be considered. The merchants have "tied up" a lot of money in new goods and are employing extra clerks. Those clerks must be kept "marching time" until say the last week of the Christmas season when they will be subjected to an unrealizable, strenuous, nerve-racking time of it just to show goods. WON'T YOU, as far as possible, TRY TO MAKE IT EASIER FOR THE CLERKS, BY BUYING EARLY?

And you, Mr. Merchant, it's time you got busy with your special Christmas sales. ADVERTISE THE LOWER PRICES YOU OFFER TO EARLY SHOPPERS. IT WILL PAY.
