Bolshevik Propaganda Causing Unrest In India--Military Forces Inadequate to Cope With any Uprising--Gompers Favors Treaty Ratification--Karl Trimborn is New German Premier--Hardings Nomination May Mean Democratic President.

UPRISING IN INDIA FEARED.

LONDON, June 14. Alarming confidential reports of an impending uprising in India in the autumn are reaching the Government, according to the Star to-day, which says that Bolshevik literature is known to be behind the movement. The India Office, when questioned with regard to the Star reports, declared that it had received no such information. However, the Star makes flat assertion and displays the news sensation. It is considered by the authorities at home, the Star says, "to be more than probable that the organization in Turkestan of a Red force to attack Persia and Afghanistan, is but part of a big plot, by which it is hoped to end our power in India. The opinion is expressed that should the whole Bolshevik plot mature, our present forces in India would be insufficient to cope with the uprising."

GOMPERS FOR RATIFICATION.

MONTREAL, June 14. "It is pitiable" that the United States has not yet ratified the League of Nations, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, declared here to-day in an address before the Convention of the Federation. He said if the covenant was submitted to the American people "without any other entangling questions, it would be overwhelmingly accepted." "It is pitiable" that the United States has not ratified the League of Nations," said Gompers, "but has forgotten the effort of the nations of the world over to prevent another horrible conflict, such as was started about six years ago." "The Labor Party of the Convention," he added, would "help in the re-union of the working people of the world and would help workers in the most backward countries." Gompers made a strong appeal to the Convention to support the League and "lend a helping hand to the toilers of smaller nations, and aid them to take their places among the civilization of the world."

Witless Bay Man Tells of Wife's 12 Years of Trouble

Patrick Connors Wants Outport People to Know What a Grand Medicine Tanlac Is.

"This Tanlac is doing my wife so much good that I've come for another bottle, now while I think it is my duty to make a statement about her case for the benefit of the many people in our Outports who must be suffering just as she did." The above statement was made recently by Patrick Connors, a well known and prosperous fisherman from Witless Bay, where he has lived for the last fifty years. Then Mr. Connors went on to say that Tanlac had brought health to his wife and happiness to his home.

"My wife was a very sick woman before she started to take this Tanlac, so sick, indeed, that there was very little she could eat at all but what it would cause her terrible distress afterwards. In fact for the past twelve years she has been troubled a lot with indigestion, and after every meal the gas would form on her stomach and blot her up until she would almost choke and she would have sharp pains around the heart. This distress was especially bad at night and many was the hour that she laid awake in perfect misery. Then last winter which was the worst I ever remember, she contracted a terrible cold which she couldn't shake off for a long time and that left her as weak as a baby and without any appetite whatever."

"I'd like to thank the good people who put their statements in the paper about what Tanlac had done for them, because but for them we should never have known about the medicine, and my wife would have been suffering yet. I saw by those statements that Tanlac was especially good for the appetite and the stomach, and so I sent for a couple of bottles, thinking it might get my wife to eat something for I knew she couldn't last long if she didn't get proper nourishment. The way that first bottle helped her was wonderful, and now she can eat fine and never has a bit of trouble with her stomach. She's been getting stronger right along, and it's many a long day since I saw her looking so well. I just can't find words to express my gratitude for all that Tanlac has meant to my wife, and I want to let everybody in Newfoundland know what a splendid medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Fouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv

Legislative Council.

MONDAY, June 14. The House opened at 4.30 p.m. The Bill respecting Certificates of Masters and Mates passed the third reading.

The Bill to regulate the Exportation of Salt Codfish, deferred from Friday's session, was in committee again. Hon. Mr. McNamara was the first speaker, who said although he was not a fish exporter yet he was deeply interested in the industry. He opposed the regulations and in criticizing them said that the results of last year's regulations were that he had 180,000 qtls. of fish in the country and 150,000 in foreign markets still unsold, estimating the loss at the conservative figure of $6.00 per qtl., it left us out to the tune of nearly $2,000,000. He did not mean, however, that this loss was all due to the regulations. Exporters were held up while our competitors were selling. In consequence of the regulations nearly all our journeymen coopers are out of employment, because of no demand for fish packages, and also the manufacturers of coopers' material were badly affected. Fishermen are now obliged to traverse Water Street with "yamies" under their arms, begging for purchasers. It is then under these conditions that we are asked to support the Bill. He did not oppose the regulations for the Standardization, cull, etc., of codfish, but, said the hon. speaker, "you cannot satisfactorily control the price of food products by legislation." He quoted Sir Ambrose Shea, who had said, "that the less legislation about fish marketing the better." To fix a price for our staple commodity was should first be sure that we can corner the market, or that we are the only producers of that commodity. Mr. Munn's letter in Saturday's Trade Review was read in part.

Hon. Mr. Gibbs took up the discussion next and for over an hour pointed out all the advantages the Bill would have, and also dealt with the objections to the measure which previous speakers had voiced. During the course of the argument Mr. Gibbs stated that as regards competition, he did not think that the Nova Scotians or Norwegians could catch fish any cheaper than Newfoundlanders. In fact they were higher priced men.

Here Hon. D. A. Ryan interjected and said Norwegian fishermen could be engaged at much cheaper wages and that we were now faced with greater competition than in many years.

Hon. Mr. Gibbs, continuing, said that when the regulations were promulgated last year he had consulted with the late Hon. A. F. Goodridge, who fully agreed with them.

Hon. Mr. Grieve:—That's a different story from what he told me.

Hon. Mr. Gibbs:—That might have been months after I consulted with

CLEANLINESS IS HEALTH

By the use of Gillett's Lye, house cleaning is made a pleasure instead of a drudgery. It softens the water and cleans thoroughly whether the dirt is visible or invisible. Destroys all bacteria and infectious germs, removes obstructions from drain pipes, closets, sinks, etc. Refrigerators are made delightfully fresh and clean by using one teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in two gallons of water.

Hon. Mr. Grieve:—Not export prices.

Hon. Mr. Bishop replied to some questions asked by Sir P. T. McGrath at the previous session, and gave the history of the Consorzio, and how it became necessary to fight it. He explained the action of the Board of Trade and the fish exporters, and also showed how Hawes had saved $100,000 for one shipper.

Hon. P. Templeman spoke on the regulations, and voiced a protest against having to sell through one man. In referring to the shortage turnout on the other side, he produced for the information of the House one of the scales used.

Hon. Mr. McGrath acknowledged the amount of information given him by the previous speakers for the Bill, but he noted that the Hon. R. K. Bishop, in replying to his questions, did not answer the—to his mind—most important one, namely, Have our competitors any machinery like our regulations, in operation? The question could not then be answered. Several other questions put by Sir Patrick did not bring satisfactory replies, the speaker remarking that the more questions asked the more complicated the matter becomes. He thought that the clauses introduced in the Bill at the insistence of the Opposition in the Lower House were the ones that the Hon. Mr. Gibbs placed most emphasis on. He opposed the measure and asked Hon. Mr. Grieve not to then press his motion for a six months' hoist. The committee rose at 6.30 to sit again this evening. The rest of the order paper was deferred. The House adjourned till 4 p.m. to-day.
