Obituary.

MISS JEANNIE CLAUDIA WATTS.
(H. F. SHORTIS.)

Sinking gradually and quietly for several weeks into the sleep that knows no waking, there passed away last night at the home of her parents, H. J. Watts of H.M. Customs and Mrs. Watts, No. 197 Gower Street, their beloved daughter Jeannie. Her death will be mourned by a large circle of friends in St. John's, as well as in Conception Bay. Jeannie endeared herself to all by her beautiful character, her deep spirituality, her unobtrusive kindness, unselfishness, and unfailing thought for all about her. She was a young lady, just blooming into womanhood. Of marked characteristics, her sweetness of disposition and gentleness of manner, her devotion to her parents are traits that will long be remembered by the many friends who mourn her loss. At no time was the beauty of her character more fully exemplified than during her illness. The deceased young lady spent some time in a Nursing Hospital, New York, where she was preparing to enter upon a career for the benefit of humanity, but was compelled to return to her native land owing to ill health. To the family of the deceased the deepest and most respectful sympathy will be expressed in their great bereavement. It will at least be a consolation to them to know that the whole community condoles with them in their great sorrow. To the grief stricken parents, her sister Mary, holding a prominent position in a Hospital in New York, her brother John, in Hr. Grace, and all relatives the Telegram extends sincere sympathy in their great bereavement. Interment will take place at Harbor Grace to-morrow (Tuesday) on arrival of the train in that town, and all that is mortal of dear little Jeannie will rest in peace in the family plot in the midst of her ancestors, relatives and friends.

JOHN CLOWE.

Ferryland was shocked on Sunday evening on hearing of the death of John Clowe, which resulted from injuries received Saturday evening. Jack, as he was familiarly called, was liked by everyone, old and young, being of a kind and generous disposition, ready to give a helping hand where needed, and his untimely end, coming when least expected, will be regretted by all. After Requiem High Mass Tuesday morning, the remains were lovingly borne to their last resting place, and the large funeral was testimony to his popularity. Deceased was twenty-eight years old, and is survived by a wife, one child, father, mother, two brothers and five sisters, one of them being in Texas, where she has entered the novitiate of the Sacred Heart. A Veteran's Funeral.

LARGE GATHERING PAYS TRIBUTE

Yesterday the largest attendance of people ever witnessed in Portugal Cove paid a last tribute to the late Charles Somerton, who met such a tragic death on Friday. The funeral took place in the afternoon, service being conducted in the C. of E. Church by Rev. Mr. Tulk. The casket was draped with the Union Jack, and the cortege included a firing party of Naval Reservists and a large number of army veterans. The L.O.A. Band attended, discoursing funeral music. Messrs. Snow, McGrath, Lawrence and Dominion Secretary Whitty, representatives of the G.W.V.A. were present and laid a beautiful wreath upon the bier of a dead comrade. Major Lindsay, O.C., C.L.B., Bell Island and Mr. N. Lodge, President of the Bell Island branch of the G.W.V.A. were also present.

STEAM SUPERSEDES SAIL.

Owing to large shipments of fish going forward by steamers, charters for vessels are hard to obtain. Some of the Danish vessels which have been in port during the past few days being unable to get local freight have sailed for Nova Scotia. On Saturday the Neptun Start, and Energie sailed for Rexton, N.B., where they will load lumber for the United Kingdom.

S. S. Cabot Meets Mishap

HAD MAINMAST CARRIED AWAY.

On Friday night, in Freshwater Bay the S.S. Cabot received damages estimated at about $1,000, whilst endeavouring to pick up the schooner Harry and Verna. A heavy sea was running at the time, and the Cabot had her mainmast carried away, her boats smashed and the davits badly bent. The Harry and Verna was only slightly damaged.
