Newfoundland Highlanders.

HAVE SECURED COMFORTABLE QUARTERS.

The headquarters of the Newfoundland Highlanders is now situated in the Parade Rink, Harvey Road, where the Brigade meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week. The officer commanding, Lt.-Col. Paterson, O.B.E., and the staff of officers comprising Major W. H. Herder, 2nd in Command, Capt. H. H. Ross, Adjutant, Capt. H. McNeil, O.B.E., Quarter Master, Capt. C. C. Oke Paymaster, and Company officer, Capt. Angus Reid, Capt. H. Mitchell, Capt. Andrew Clouston, Lieut. K. Trapnell, Lieut. J. Paterson, have been untiring in their efforts ever since last spring to bring back the Brigade to its former pre-war strength. Their devotion to duty has resulted in their objective having been practically attained, when some three weeks ago a gang of carpenters were put to work on the interior of the building for the purpose of fitting up quarters for the officers and lads of the companies. Nine of these rooms are now available, consisting of an Orderly room, Officers Mess, Companies . B. and C., Non-Commissioned Officers, Band and the Quarter Master Stores. The fitting up of these quarters will be attended to by the occupants of each room. This arrangement will be made for the best interests of the brigade, enabling the members to carry out their duties in a manner much more satisfactory than has already prevailed. The officers and N.C.O.'s are now busy preparing for a dance to be held in the C.C.C. Hall on November 9th, which promises to be the most successful social event held for some time past. The orders for the week are that all uniforms in possession of members and ex-members, are now being called in to the Q. M. Stores. A large shipment of new uniforms has arrived and are rapidly being prepared for issue. Ex Sergt. Major Neil Patrick, is now conducting an N.C.O.'s class and the men are rapidly becoming proficient in their drill. A company of juveniles between the ages of 12 and 16 years has been formed with Capt. A. Clouston in charge. The Newfoundland Highlanders can now boast of three Companies, A.B. and C. Mr. Gunn has offered his services as far as the pipers are concerned, while a fife and drum band will be in evidence in the not distant future.

Come to St. Joseph's Hall Thursday, November 9th, for Grand Dance and Hot Supper. Tickets: Gent's, $1.00; Ladies, 70c. Bennett's Orchestra.

Obituary.

M. J. SUMMERS.

At his sister's residence, Prescott St., Mr. M. J. Summers, the well known dry goods man of Water St., passed to his eternal reward at 6 o'clock last evening. The late Mr. Summers was, up to a week ago, in seemingly good health and no thought was entertained that the call was so near. Deceased was of a quiet and amiable disposition. Through his integrity and genial manner he established a business which has become one of the most thriving in the city. Left to mourn are a widow, two sons, and four brothers, P. J. Summers, Deputy Minister of Justice, Denis, Avalon Wholesale Dry Goods, John, in Montreal and Thomas in Halifax. One of his sons, Frank, made the Supreme Sacrifice in France during the July (1916) drive. Harold who is studying for the priesthood received Deacon's Orders only last week. The other son, Vincent, has been assisting at the business. To the sorrowing relatives general sympathy will be extended. The funeral takes place on Sunday afternoon from 73 Prescott St.

Can be Applied Here.

STERN ECONOMY ESSENTIAL.

In a speech made by Lloyd George recently to Unionist-Liberal candidates, he said things which can be well applied here.

For instance, read this: "Stern economy is essential, and upon that I want to say one word. All I should ask for is that the new Chancellor should pursue the policy of old, relentlessly examine all expenditure in every department, cut down every superfluous item, everything the country can dispense with without injury to its efficiency."

Doesn't that exactly fit here? Read this: "I support any party and any Government that pursues a policy of peace, of economy, of steady progress, neither revolution nor reaction, and does it efficiently—because there is nothing worse than a man with high purpose and an inefficient hand, because the higher his purpose the greater damage he does to that purpose. And therefore it must be government that efficiently conducts the affairs of the coutnry."

If the "high purpose" of Squires or Coaker were admitted, would anybody claim that either of them is "efficient," or that our government efficiently conducts public matters. Read this: "The dangor is that the very determined people who are down below, resolute, untiring, with a great gift of organization, with a great pugnacity, and with the recklessness which comes from fanaticism may drive them to courses which their own judgment would not justify. That is the danger . . .

"There are resolute, determined men who are out to destroy. Honestly so, because they want to rebuild on a totally different basis, in a totally different manner. Are you quite sure, are they sure, that the Conservative Party alone can defend that fabric, those institutions and those principles?"

Is not the danger from Coaker the same? Can the sensible people of this Colony defend the fabric from the Bolshevism of Coaker and crew?

Bumper Programme at The Nickel.

JOHN BOWERS STARS IN SOCIAL DRAMA.

"An Unwilling Hero" is the title of the feature attraction at the Nickel last night, which was so enthusiastically received by local fans. John Bowers, the popular American matinee idol, was seen to advantage in the leading role, and Molly Malone appeared in the supporting cast. The story is a delightful society comedy-drama adapted from O. Henry's famous story, "Whistling Dick's Christmas Stockings." The short subjects which completed the programme were particularly interesting.

Norma Talmage will be seen at this theatre shortly in her greatest story, "The sign on the Door." There will also be shown at an early date that famous story of the early days of America, namely "Rip Van Winkle" starring Joseph Jefferson, the man who made this characterization famous on the legitimate stage. Watch the advertisements in the paper for showing dates of these big productions.
