Placentia Bay Eager to Show Bonia.

HOW SMALL HE WILL LOOK AT

THE BOTTOM OF THE POLL, Editor Evening Telegram Dear Sir .- The Squires-Coaker pol itical muzzle-loader, the so-called big gun, who thought he could shoot up Don't stand in silence wondering all the votes in Placentia Bay, has been around here wearing the most forlorn looking visage that one could possibly see. What the voters of Placentia won't do to him, I can't say, but what they will do to him is that they will teach them the greatest lesson of his life, the lesson that his wits have over-balanced him, and that any one or other of the voters of Placentia Bay has more common sense wisdom in his little toes than Bonia carries in his over-swelled cranium. Metaphorically speaking as our schoolmaster sometimes says, when using big words, we will use these toes to eject him politically when we go to mark our ballots. There may have been a few scattered voters around the Bay in favor of the Government but Bonia's going on the ticket so sickened these few that now I don't know where Bonia will get any votes for himself at all. Ur the shore, down the shore, all around the harbor arms, and everywhere at the same feeling is uppermo
