Guelph Evening Mercury

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 24, 1878.

Advices from Lennox indicate a majority for Mr. Cartwright as great, if not greater, than what he had at last election.

Mr. O'Reilly, M. P. for Renfrew, has announced his intention of giving the new Government a free, manly support.

The Tory papers state that there are now 700 signatures to the petition against Mr. Glass, and that the recent meeting which got up the memorial comprised thirty persons. The Globe's London correspondent says the memorial lists numbered sixteen only.

The new Tory Association just established in London does not appear to be a very successful institution. The London Advertiser says:—

"Most noticeable is the absence from the reports of the two meetings of the names of many leading Tories who worked with Sir John A. Macdonald up to the time of the Pacific Scandal developments. Making the perpetrator of the Pacific Scandal the chief corner-stone of the organization, instead of repudiating both the crime and the criminal, the organizers are driving honest and intelligent Conservatives from the ranks. Having re-drawn party lines and re-boasted the tarnished flag of Toryism, the old Hinckley and Baldwin elements refuse to march under any such banner. Toryism will not save itself by adopting a nom de plume so contradictory as 'Liberal Conservative.' It is a compliment to Liberal principles that the Tories should be compelled to rig themselves partially out in the clothes of their opponents, their own having become soiled and shabby. We are reminded of the famous saying, anent the English Reform Bill, the Tories caught the Liberals bathing and stole their clothes."

Is there any Danger of a Revulsion in Canada?

The Monetary Times, one of those papers which "ought to know," has the following:—

"The panic in New York has set many persons thinking whether matters in Canada are in a sound position, and whether there is any danger of commercial disasters here. There cannot be a more practical subject to think about, and to assist them we propose to notice a few points which bear directly upon it. "1. Panics and revulsions invariably follow an abuse of credit; widespread credit transactions, inflated credit business, inflated style of living, extravagant expenditure, extravagant speculation, enormous borrowing, are all necessary beforehand. "2. In Canada we have had our transactions on a gold basis. We have at present no heavy railway expenditure going on; no unusually heavy credit transactions; no heavy borrowing operations; no extraordinary expenditure, nor more than ordinary speculation. We have had trading by individuals and more than enough of it, now as at all times: had borrowing now as in former years, and there are traders now as at all other times that are doing business on far too slender a basis of capital. But there are not many more of these than ordinary. We have no great mania afloat. People are not crazy with any notion of getting up companies, or working mines, or felling forests. In the last it is true, there has been a remarkable activity, followed by a remarkable dullness. But it is a natural reaction, nothing more. Even in the lumber trade there have been few failures affecting Canada, and the trade now is no worse than it has been before, when nobody dreamed of revulsion or anything worse than losing profits. "3. The country, as a whole, is curtailing expenditures and increasing income. We have been favored by Providence with a good harvest; all our farm products are realizing very good prices. Barley, our poorest crop, is actually bringing us more money than the fair crop of last year, owing to enhanced prices. We have shipped 500,000 bushels less to Oswego alone, and have received $400,000 more for it. Wheat is a very fair price, so are butter, cheese, wool, and peas, and we have very large quantities of them all. On the other hand, we are buying less; consequently we must be owing less, and reducing the debt we owe abroad. These are not the precursors of a revulsion, but the reverse. If the harvest had been bad, as was feared, doubtless we should have had severe troubles to individuals this winter. But even then, our traders were generally forewarned, were curtailing business, and we should have probably gone through without any national calamity. But, as it is, we believe the country is sound on the whole, though there are plenty of unsound people in it; and there is no reason why we should not continue sound, if we are economical, reasonable, and prudent in our modes of doing business."

Breakfast.—Epp's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is 'get all'—'James Epps & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London.'"
