Brooklyn and Boston Break Even.
Boston, May 30.—Brooklyn won the morning game today on a fine rally in the ninth after Cushman's pop was lost in the air. Hummel drove him in by a single and scored on Smith's sacrifice fly.

Boston May 30.—Boston turned the tables on Brooklyn in the afternoon game, winning 7 to 6. Unlike the morning game, it was one of free hitting and many errors, the latter deciding the contest. The crowd which thronged Fenway Park was the largest that has been a National game in this city in many years.

Brooklyn May 30.—Brooklyn won the morning game today on a fine rally in the ninth after Cushman's pop was lost in the air. Hummel drove him in by a single and scored on Smith's sacrifice fly.

Good Fielding Featured.
Pittsburgh, May 30.—Pittsburgh took the morning game from Chicago in a national pitchers' duel between Reulbach and Camnitz. Three of the six hits off Camnitz were for extra bases, but Reulbach's fielding prevented the afternoon game.

Cincinnati Lest in Evening.
St. Louis, May 30.—A batting rally led to win for Cincinnati in the afternoon game. The score was 6 to 4 in favor of St. Louis. Steele, pitching for the locals, held the Cincinnati to six hits, until the ninth, when they scored a double and a single to win.

Giants Humiliated Phillies.
New York, May 30.—The Giants took both games from Philadelphia in the morning and afternoon games. The morning game was won 5 to 1, and the afternoon game 5 to 0. The pitcher McGraw proved to be a deal with Cincinnati, made his first York debut and was pounded hard. Marquard held the visitors safe after McGraw's removal in the eighth.

Philadelphia May 30.—Philadelphia won the morning game today on a fine rally in the ninth after Cushman's pop was lost in the air. Hummel drove him in by a single and scored on Smith's sacrifice fly.

Bronchos Are Not Crowding
Into the .300 Circle

Only Two Who Have Played in More Than Five Games are Within the Magic Circle; Team Average for Season is .300

HOW THE BRONKS ARE BATTING

A.B.	R.	H.	Ave.
Meyers	11	4	.304
Rochie	64	16	.253
Hollis	55	11	.200
Streib	57	17	.298
O'Brien	59	11	.188
Flanagan	65	10	.154

The magic .300 circle of batting averages is not as yet being over-crowded by Broncho batsmen. In fact, at the present time only two Bronchos, who have played in sufficient games to be worth while in claiming the distinction: Jack Rochie and Hollis are the men. Smick Meyers is also there, but he has only played in three games and this is hardly enough to figure in the averages.

The averages which are published above will be a revelation to the fans, most of whom were under the impression that almost half of the Bronchos were batting at a .300 clip, or thereabouts. This impression was doubtless due to the fact that the long road aunts has been a disastrous one as far as the batting averages are concerned, while the games in Calgary were good for the figures.

As a team the Bronchos are pasting the ball at a .272 rate, which is a pretty fair average for a team, but is nothing to boast about.

The fact that the Bronchos are occupying such a prominent place in the batting race must be accounted for by the work of the fielders and pitchers. Although a great many games have been won by batting rallies, most of the contests while the locals have annexed were won by close fielding and by good twirling. Of the two the fielding has played the more important part.

The Bronchos this year have the strongest infield since Bill Carney's immortal nine of 1910. In fact, if the Bronchos of 1910 and 1913 were compared, the present infield would doubtless have a little the better of the argument.

The batting of Jack Rochie is the most pleasing feature of the averages which appear above. Jack stands out among all the other players. He is a full 50 points above Hollis, the other member within the magic circle.

Julie Streib comes within two points of touching the .300 mark. Julie is setting all the youngsters an example and has established himself as a best pinch hitter in the league. It is must be remembered that Julie is not quite as young as he used to be, and that he is having to take good care of his windup. Julie does not do any more sprinting than is absolutely necessary, but in a pinch he can almost always be depended upon to deliver. And the pinches have come pretty frequently this year, judging by the figures.

Edmonton, May 30.—Telegrams were sent out yesterday by President Frank Gray to the managers of every club in the Western Canadian Junior League ordering the teams to be reduced to twelve men to comply with the league rules. Manager William of the Edmonton team was the first to receive his little notice. Since the arrival of Moran there have been thirteen men on the field, but one player must go by tonight of Mr. Gray will wish to know the reason why. The men on the team at present are as follows: Spencer, Stark, Clayton, Heinrichs, Belandier, Dickson, Schultz, Reddick, Dudley, Skeels, Povey, Moran and Whitman. It looks as though either Belandier or Schultz will have to go. Bill Hurley will have to do so if pruning to get his team inside the limit.
