After the war was over soon after enlisted in the Ninth Lanc ers and left for the scene of the Indian mutiny. Here he was wounded on different occasions, and had the medals and bars bestowed upon him for both Lucknow and Delhi. The year 1860 found him in China, where he fought in the heart of several engagements and narrowly escaped with his life One day in company with another soldier he was scouting, and greatly to his surprise found himself in ambush, By making a flying jump over a ravine and mowing their way through the two scouts finally effected an egress, although their wounds were many and severe. After his exploits in Chin. he returned to India and was soldier ing there for fourteen years. Mr. Gor tried and trusty warrior and spent 26 years of his life in the service of his country.
Geo. McMillan, John W. Sutherland, George Williams and Wm. Johnson left here today for Australia. They go via C. P. R. to Vancouver, thence via the steamer Miowera, leaving Vancouver May 8. They are engaged there by a local firm, and intend putting down wells for water.
