This is the way expert laundresses are taught to wash flannels in the Hampton Institute home training classes. In the words of one of the pupils, the simple process is thus described: "On Tuesday morning I make a soft soap by dissolving in water the small pieces of soap left from the Monday washing. Into a tub filled with warm water I put two dipperfuls of this soft soap. When the water is nice and soapy I put in the flannels, four at a time if undergarments, one if a shirtwaist. Where the flannels are very dirty I rub them gently with the hand, never using a washboard. After they are thoroughly clean, I put them through clean water at the same temperature, three times, and then into the extractor."

Location Mentioned. The Port Huron Iron works, which is seeking a location in this city, may possibly take over the brick building on an oldham street, just north of the C. P. R. tracks, lately occupied by the Acetylene Gas Company. The building will be suitable for the work of the company.

Headquarters Here. It is likely a union Bible class will be organized in Stratford, Brantford and Port Huron. In this case Norman H. Camp, of Chicago, will move to this city, and make his headquarters for the winter here. The London class has been largely attended, and promises to be a great success also.

Elected a Director. At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Industrial Mortgage and Savings Company, at Sarnia, Tuesday, Mr. Archibald Gibb tendered his resignation as director and first vice-president, owing to continued ill-health. At the same meeting Malcolm McCugan, of Mount Brydges, M. P. for South Middlesex, was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Gibb's resignation.

Military Signalling. The men of A Company, Seventh Regiment, are commencing the study of military signalling, using the "wig-wag" or flag system by day and the lantern system by night. A squad of six men has been selected who will be the signal men of the company. This method of communicating is very extensively used in all armies the flags or lanterns being waved on an adaptation of the Morse code. The company already has the flag outfit and the lanterns will be at once sent for from the manufacturers in England.

Pie, Hennessy, a South African veteran who is a member of the company, is an expert in the signal system and will be the mentor of the class in all probability.

FARMERS FALL OUT ABOUT A COW OR TWO. Dorchester Yeomen Alleged to Have Called Names, and Done Other Naughty Things.

Two farmers, out Dorchester way, have been having a somewhat lively dispute regarding the straying of some cattle. One is alleged to have tried to choke the other, and called him a liar and various other things. The matter culminated in two charges being brought up for decision before Squire Lacey Wednesday. The charges are designated "rescue of cattle from custody," and "assaulting and choking complainant on his own property."

Henry Piggett, of North Dorchester, the complainant, told the magistrate that he was driving from his cornfield some stray cattle belonging to Wm. Crozier, the defendant, with the intention of putting them in the pound, when Crozier came along and took force from him. The defendant, however, heated discussion ensued in the course of which, it is alleged, Crozier seized Piggett by the throat and tried to choke him, at the same time designating him a liar. At this critical moment Piggett's son came to the rescue, and throwing himself upon Crozier, saved his parent from an untimely fate. Defendant alleges, on the other hand, that Piggett's cattle were in the habit of straying on his place, and said there was a gap in a fence through which the bovines were in the habit of wandering at their sweet will. The magistrate thought the knotty points involved required some further elucidation, and both cases were adjourned till Monday.

KEILLER-BOLDICK WEDDING CEREMONY. Very Happy Event Wednesday Evening That Was Celebrated by Rev. S. B. Culp.

Mr. Sherwood Keiller and Miss Nellie Boldick, both of this city, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents Wednesday evening.

Quite a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony. S. B. Culp, pastor of the Christian church, performed the solemn nuptial rites. The bride was escorted by her maid of honor, Miss Ethel Boldick, bridesmaid. At the conclusion a bountiful repast was served, and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all. That the best wishes of their many friends go with the happy couple was evidenced by the large number of handsome presents contributed. Mr. and Mrs. Keiller will make their home in this city.
