

EGGS FEATURE OF EASTER MARKET

Maple syrup was offered in small quantities from 23.25 to 23.50 per gallon.

There was the usual supply of green straws offered, no changes in prices being noted.

Apples were scarce, but sold at prevailing prices.

The operations surrounding the dealings in stocks, grains, etc., in cities where no exchanges exist is a constant source of curiosity on the part of the average citizen.

The average broker's place of business is a busy spot. On entering the board room the first thing noticed by the visitor is the quotations board.

The quotations are printed by a ticker or received by private wire in telegraph code.

The banker, the merchant and the investor living here, far in the interior, enter this broker's office, give an order to buy or sell some stocks or bonds.

He has probably never given a thought to the rapidity of the service. He has become so accustomed to it that his curiosity is not aroused in the least.

He knows two definite points with relation to his order. The first is his order, which is entered in the ticker or on a board.

He is not familiar with the vast organization which connects the link between the home office and the exchange.

Bradstreet reports 230 failures for the week, compared with 271 for the preceding week and 515 one year ago.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Although business conditions in virtually all lines of trade and industry continued to show marked improvement, stock and bond prices lost ground during the week in response to heavy speculative selling.

While these reserves furnished an excuse for repeated assaults on the general list, the course of prices indicated that the market had developed an over-bought condition, with the professional speculators for the rise unable to attract a sufficiently large outside following to maintain the upward trend.

Although predictions as to the duration of the present bull market, which has run, with few exceptions, for nearly two months, vary from a few weeks to nine months, there is a consensus of opinion that the public is much more discriminating in its choice of stocks and that speculative excesses in the last phases of the market will not become as violent as they were in 1919.

February railroad statements, on the whole, were rather disappointing, but this was explained in part by the fact that a year ago the shipments in February were larger than usual, in anticipation of the miners' strike, and that this year the unusually severe storms greatly retarded the normal flow of traffic.

COMMENDS WARNING OF LOCAL BODIES

Toronto Saturday Night Refers To Advice On Safe Investments.

A favorable editorial comment is continued in March 31 issue of The Toronto Saturday night on the attitude taken by the local Chamber of Commerce and London City Council regarding the resolution re the purchase of stock in unknown companies.

The editorial says: "The London City Council and Chamber of Commerce, of London, Ontario, are acting up to the best traditions of such bodies and showing a commendable understanding of the responsibilities to the community which they serve, by sending a notice to every house in London warning investors against the imroads of rapid-fire stock salesmen."

The comment deals with the resolution presented by the Chamber of Commerce and adopted by the City Council at a recent meeting. The resolution follows:

"Whereas it is a matter of common knowledge that many people of this city and district have, within the last few years particularly, sustained loss by the purchase of stock in incorporated companies of a highly speculative and even in some instances fraudulent character."

And whereas restrictions placed on the sale of stock in incorporated companies by three Canadian provinces and 41 out of the 48 states of the United States, have a tendency to make this practice a highly speculative and even in some instances fraudulent character."

Therefore, be it resolved that the London City Council and Chamber of Commerce issue a warning to investors to thoroughly investigate all stock-selling proposals placed before them before signing applications for stock, and to bear in mind the fact that while there are many safe channels for investment, there are also frequently offered to the public investments which are more or less a gamble and should not be considered for a minute by those who have no money to lose."

NEW INSPECTOR OF CADETS HERE

Lieut.-Col. G. H. Gillespie Takes District Office.

Lieut.-Col. George H. Gillespie, recently appointed inspector of cadets in Military District No. 1, took over the duties of his office at Wolsey Barracks this morning, succeeding Lieut.-Col. McCrimmon, who has been transferred to Toronto.

Col. Gillespie marks the beginning of his work by announcing that plans are under way for holding what will probably be the greatest cadet camp in Western Ontario's history, which will probably begin the first week in July. Every school in this district will be urged to send representatives.

The 1923 cadet camp will have for directors of its physical activities representatives of the Ontario athletic commission, which has headquarters in Toronto. This is a distinct departure in cadet camp administration.

Col. Gillespie states that he is very pleased with the condition of the cadet movement in this district, which has been so ably supervised by Lieut.-Col. McCrimmon.

Kingston is the new cadet inspector's home. He was born and brought up in that city and spent many years of his military career, to date, there. His work in connection with the Canadian cadet movement has received the highest recognition both from official sources and from citizens at large.

DRIVER UNAWARE THAT TRUCK HIT HYDRO POLE

Smash Deprives Perrin's of Light Tonight.

Hydro will not gleam tonight in front of the D. S. Perrin Company's offices on Dundas street, the reason being that a heavy truck, which was being driven away from the curb about 11:45 a. m.

There was a loud crash, but it went unnoticed by the driver of the truck, who proceeded merrily on his way with the top of the truck covered with glass.

At the same moment several blinds in the Perrin office were raised simultaneously and pretty stenographers used a horrified gaze on the street, trying to see at least a couple of feet cars locked in deadly combat.

However, there was nothing to see except a heavy truck pulling slowly down the street, so the blinds were again lowered against the blinding rays of the sun and peace descended once more on the West End of the city.

OPEN NORTH END HALL APRIL 15

Branch Fire Department Has Sufficient Equipment.

REMODEL EAST END HALL

The North End fire hall, which was closed by the City Council last year, will be reopened on April 15.

Major Wenige, accompanied by a number of aldermen, paid a visit to the various halls yesterday and it was decided that the North End branch could be opened in two weeks with what equipment the department has on hand. It will be impossible to secure motor equipment in time for the opening and horses will be placed there, three on each shift.

It is also proposed to remodel the East End town hall. The fact that this is being considered early in the year, with the municipal elections still away in the future, is evidence that some action will probably be taken, some of the aldermen suggest that the hall can be remodelled for office use and still leave sufficient accommodation for public meetings.

The advisability of moving the East End fire hall towards the south end of the hall and leave space for a garage for the fire department is also being considered. The whole question will come up for final consideration at the next meeting.
