

The New Passenger Stmr. 'Wilfred C.'

Will leave Black & Flinn's Wharf, Upper
Water Street, at 9 A M, and 1.30 P. M.
sharp

The Managing Committee have gone to considerable trouble and expense to have this one of the best picnics in the history of the School. All kinds of amusements to attract the attention of the little ones. Refreshments will be provided, and meals can be had on the grounds.

Donations should be at the Vestry Tuesday evening early.

Scholars and friends will gather at the Church Wednesday morning, at 8.30 o'clock, where tickets will be distributed, thence to the boat. Music will be furnished on the passage and on the grounds.

It is expected that the adult members of the School will purchase boat tickets, as the expenses this year will be heavy, and the treasury will not stand a very large deficit.

This is a splendid opportunity to give the children a day in the country after their hard winter's study; and even if it is a trouble or inconvenience to us grown-up people, we should deny ourselves, and remember that in thus causing pleasure, we are doing it unto the least of one of His children, and doing it unto Him.

Remember the day and price of the ticket.

Tickets 25c., Children 15c., Two for 25c.

To be had from any of the Committee or at the boat.
