FANCY GOODS.

SHAVING cases, vases and toilet bottles with filigree silver coverings are seasonable novelties and quick sellers. They are not new, still they are not common.

A new thing in a footstool is an enamelled mushroom shaped stool. When decorated with bows of ribbons it is tasty.

An adjustable window blind or splasher whose length can be varied from 18 inches to 2 yards is decidedly new. It is made of fancy muslins, rod and elastic.

A new egg cosie is made of white felt to represent a chicken or perhaps a setting hen. The eggs and comb are good, and when this little cover is put over a small wicker basket which contains the eggs for breakfast, the effect is charming. The felt shape is stamped for working.

Stamped denim goods promise well for this season. Cushion covers, table covers, laundry bags, and curtains are made from this fabric in blue, red or yellow.

A toilet set with an angel form stamped thereon, part of which is to be worked, is an elegant ornament. The face is exceedingly striking.

Turquoise silk will be much used in the manufacture of the best fancy articles for the coming season. It will be used in glove cases, handkerchief folders, cosies and pillows.

White enamelled ware is being pushed more strongly than ever this season. If carefully handled there would be profit in these goods, but careless handling means a heavy loss owing to the breakableness of the goods.

All the above novelties were noticed in the stock of the Boyd, Bower & Brumel Company, which has made an extra effort in preparing a large line of samples for the fall trade.
