

LUCIUS RICHARD O'BRIEN, P.R.C.A.

Born at "The Woods," Shanty Bay, Ont., August 15th, 1832, the second son of Lieut.-Colonel G. S. O'Brien. He was educated at Upper Canada College and entered an architect's office, 1847. He subsequently studied and practised as a Civil Engineer; and, in both of those callings, established his proficiency as a draughtsman. In 1872, when the Ontario Society of Artists was formed he was asked to join it; and, in the following year, was elected Vice-President, an office which he held until 1880, when he was appointed President of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art, founded in that year. He remained President for ten years, being succeeded by Mr. Jacobi, 1890. His diploma picture, "Sunrise on the Saguenay," is in the National Gallery, Ottawa. He died in 1900.
