

- Taschereau, Henri E., member for Beauce, his dissent from Cartier on Confederation, 238; his fears, 239.
- Thomson, Poulett (Lord Sydenham), 72.
- Tilley, Sir Samuel Leonard, at Quebec Conference, 192; his government defeated on Confederation, 244; his services, 280.
- Tory party, its disintegration, 109.
- Transportation, development of, in Canada, 151-158; Cartier's work for, 158-170.
- Trent affair, the, 127.
- Tupper, Sir Charles, one of the great Fathers of Confederation, Maritime union advocated by, 190; at Charlottetown conference, 190; foretells Confederation, 190; on Howe's attitude, 257; in Confederation negotiations, 192; at London Conference, 268; patriotic course on formation of first Dominion Government, 282-283; his letter to the Duke of Buckingham on a Baronetcy for Cartier, 284-285; his career and great services to Canada, 394-395; his notable appreciation of Cartier, 396-398.
- United States, its attitude to Canada prior to Confederation, 276.
- Union Act, the, 72.
- Vaudreuil, de, his tribute to the French Canadians, 5.
- Verchères, County of, Cartier elected for, 93.
- Victoria Bridge, opened by the Prince of Wales, 125; Cartier's service in securing, 157.
- Victoria, Queen, Cartier guest of, at Windsor Castle, 121; telegram of condolence to Lady Cartier, 337.
- Viger, Bonaventure, 51.
- Denis Benjamin, opposed by Cartier, 88; his defeat, 89.
- Wainwright, William, his appreciation of Cartier, 164-165.
- Washington Treaty, its provisions, 314; Macdonald's attitude, 316; Cartier defends, 316-317.
- Watkin, Sir Edward, President of Grand Trunk Railway Company, his tribute to Cartier, 166.
- Weir, Lieut., killing of, 57.
- Wetherall, Col., expedition against St. Charles, 57.
- Wolseley, Col., leader of expedition to Northwest, 304; Cartier prevents him from becoming Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, 305.
- Young, Hon. John, 106.