ROYAL COMMISSION ON NOVITIATE AFFAIR

Resolution of Hughes Calling for Parliamentary Inquiry is Withdrawn on Promise of a Royal Commission---Meighen States That Men at Guelph Novitiate Were Not Liable for Military Service.

Ottawa, April 7.—Following a promise by Hon. Arthur Meighen, acting minister of justice, that a royal commission will be named to inquire into in Bavaria was officially proclaimed the Guelph Novitiate affair, Sir Sam today, a despatch received here from Hughes' resolution calling for inves-Munich says.

The official proclamation as given out by the Munich News Agency and transmitted by the Havas correspondent, is addressed to all "workers' councils." It announces that the united proletariat of Bavaria assumes, by means of the workers', soldiers' and pressants' councils all power.

Hughes' resolution calling for investigation by a parliamentary committee was withdrawn tonight by Sir Thomas White, who stated he did so at the request of General Hughes.

The investigation by the royal commission will not begin until the return of Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, who is chiefly interested officially in the matter.

General Sir Sam Hughes moved for by means of the workers', soldiers' and peasants' councils, all power.

People's commissions will replace the former ministers, the proclamation says, and associations of employers and officials are in agreement with the workers. Everything belongs to the community, it adds, and in conclusion decrees that April 7 be observed as a public holiday.

Ontario assembly yesterday, the administrative framework of the O. T. A. is practically admitted to be a wreck, and will be abandoned forthwith. The principle of prohibition contained in the act has been rescued and will be submitted to the people to say whether even that is worth saving. The government retains only the license commission, and assumes direct responsibility for sale and distribution of liquor pending the verdict of the people.

To a rather thin house, Premier Hearst made the long-expected announcement. The main point in his reference to the O. T. A. is that all amendments that are to be made need not be dealt with at the present time. There are doubtless more coming. He stopped, however, to mention the one formidable amendment providing for the sale direct by the government of all liquors that can lawfully be sold under the O. T. A.
