HOW THE DEAD LIVE

Conan Doyle Tells What He Believes About Existence of the Next World.

In the next issue of The Sunday World, Sept. 7, appears the second instalment of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's deeply interesting article on the "New Revelation." In it Sir Arthur gives the results of his investigations into what happens to the spirit after it has left this earthly body. His thesis sets forth that immediately after death the spirit enters a state of rest, and apparently does not take up its abode in the first sphere of ghostly existence for several weeks. In this region, the spirits abide for a time and then pass on to another sphere, from which communication with this earthly sphere is cut off. He finds that in the spiritual world immediately next to this, the spirits wear clothes, but do not eat, and that they even have occupations. Written in the inimitable style of the great author, the article has a charm and a fascination to which a person rapidly yields his attention and interest. Whether Sir Arthur is right or wrong is a question. But it is certain he believes he is right with all the intense sincerity of his great mind. Read what he says in The Sunday World.

URGE GOVERNMENT FOR FURTHER AID

Premier Promises G.W.V.A. Consideration of Plan for Financial Commission.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—During the four-day executive session of the Dominion command, G.W.V.A., which concluded last evening, a conference was held with the prime minister. Sir Robert L. Borden, to urge the implementation of a commission to determine the practicability of extending further financial aid in the re-establishment of returned men. This action was taken in furtherance of the demands made by the annual Dominion convention at Vancouver, when the now famous "compromise" resolution was adopted.

After a thorough discussion of the subject the premier gave his assurance that the decision of the government would be announced at an early date. The representatives nominated by the G.W.V.A. for the proposed commission have been summoned to Ottawa to act in conjunction with a sub-committee of the Dominion executive in anticipation of early developments.

Provincial Proposals.
The provincial secretaries' conference, which was held immediately prior to the Dominion executive committee meeting, brought forward numerous recommendations affecting the internal administration of the organization. These proposals, which will have a telling effect upon organization activities, will be put into operation immediately by the Dominion command.

Arrangements were completed for the referendum upon the subject of membership qualifications, which will be taken upon a fixed date in the month of February next year. The procedure, which was decided upon, will be conducted with the object of disposing finally of this vexatious question.

The G.W.V.A. for the proposed administration of "The Veteran Limited" was accomplished.

G.W.V.A. LINKS UP WITH THE U. S. BODY

Organization Across the Line Now Virtually American Command of Veterans.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The Great War Veterans of Canada have linked up with their comrades in the United States. During the meeting of the Dominion executive of the G.W.V.A., which closed last night, Lieut. Frank C. Badgley, well-known Ottawa boy, held a conference with the members with a view to the affiliation of the G.W.V.A. and the British Great War Veterans of America, of which Mr. Badgley is president, with headquarters in New York.

As a result of the conference, the following recommendation was made and adopted:

1. That a fraternal and international affiliation be established between the G.W.V.A. of Canada and the British Great War Veterans of America, upon condition that the latter organization adopt the main principle of the constitution of the G.W.V.A. of Canada.
2. That this affiliation be cemented by an interchange of fraternal delegations, and.
3. That the facilities of each organization be placed at the disposal of the other, for the purpose of advancing the interests of former members of the British forces.

This means that the United States organization will virtually become the American command of the G.W.V.A., and that returned Canadians will be afforded facilities in every city where a branch of the organization is formed.

MEN BEYOND BORDER SEEK AFFILIATION

Francis C. Badgley, president of the British Great War Veterans of America, was in the city yesterday visiting W. E. Turley, provincial secretary of the G.W.V.A. Mr. Badgley has just come from Ottawa, where he was successful in securing the consent of the Dominion executive of the G.W.V.A. to affiliate with the British Great War Veterans of America. This latter organization commenced about six weeks ago and has now a membership of over 4,000, composed entirely of men of the British forces who have seen service overseas and are now residing in the United States.

NEW BRANCH PLANNED.

Veterans in the Danforth Park and Woodbine districts have for some time been discussing the advisability of forming a branch of the G.W.V.A. in the vicinity. A strong committee has been appointed, headed by Charles Webb of 1612 Woodbine avenue, to make a thorough canvass of returned men in the district. The first meeting is called for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, with over 200 members, a record for a branch in the process of formation.

ORGANISTS' GUILD ADDS TO STRENGTH

Famous Players Provide Rich Musical Feast at Convocation Hall.

That the Canadian Guild of Organists is now in a very flourishing condition was demonstrated at the tenth annual meeting which opened in St. James' Cathedral Parish House yesterday morning. Dr. A. Ham presided, and there was a large attendance.

George Crawford, secretary, submitted the annual report, which showed an increase in membership, and a high standing in the profession having joined during the year.

Election of Officers.
The following officers were elected for the ensuing twelve months: Patrons, His Excellency the Governor-General, Sir Frederick Bridge and Sir Walter Parrott; president, Dr. A. Ham, organist of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto; vice-presidents, Dr. Percival Hilsley, William Arthur Dorey, R. Tattersall and C. E. Wheeler; secretary, George Crawford; council, H. A. Fricker, A. H. Montgomery, A. E. Egge, Dr. Dorey, Dr. E. Macmillan and E. G. Kilmer; board of examiners, Dr. Ham, Dr. P. Hilsley, J. Vernon, A. Dorey, H. William, C. E. Wheeler, R. Tattersall, Dr. Dorey and J. Beader.

The members of the Guild visited the Exhibition yesterday afternoon, one special object being to hear the Band of the Grenadier Guards.

A. Williams very kindly arranged several items to organ music, the brilliant playing and effect highly delighted the visiting musicians. A notable place arranged was Caesar-Auguste Franck's "Redemption."

There was a large and appreciative audience in convocation hall, Toronto University, last night, when an organ recital was given by distinguished members of the Guild.

Richard Tattersall played Bach's Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor in his own artistic style. This piece occupies a foremost place in the list of the great master's compositions. The subject of the fugue is brilliant, as well as tuneful, and composed of a number of the allures of the movement.

Mr. Tattersall also brought out the beautiful qualities of the fine unit of the organ, and his great effect met with well-merited applause.

H. A. Fricker, M.B.A.C., F.R.C.O., played Caesar-Auguste Franck's Prelude, Fugue and Variations, his execution being at once masterful and brilliant, and the composer could have wished for no finer interpretation.

There were some delightful passages, and the general rendition was obviously most pleasing to the audience.

Remarkable Composition.
Another treat was furnished by Healey Willan, F.R.C.O., in his own introduction, passacaglia and fugue. It is a remarkable composition, and Mr. Willan can be readily followed in the theme displayed consummate skill. Being his own work he was naturally at home with it, and may have added to the wonderful effect produced. Certainly nothing finer could be desired, and it is no detraction to the other players to say that the item stood out pre-eminent among the pieces of the evening.

Mr. Willan was rewarded with many rounds of applause for his great effort, which was an entertainment in itself.

E. E. Wheeler, F.R.C.O., also distinguished himself in his performance of a sonata in E minor and Bonnet's Sonnet d'Enfant and Romance Sans Paroles. The three movements of the sonata were more interesting than the first opening with a free treatment, while the other two were well contrasted. Bonnet is a young French organ virtuoso, and the two splendid short numbers so finely played by Mr. Willan are regarded as typical of the melodic originality and artistic treatment found in the composer's works.

Dr. Ernest Macmillan, F.R.C.O., gave an artistic interpretation of Willan's finale from the Eighth Symphony, and his playing was highly appreciated.

The University Organist.
F. A. Moore, the accomplished university organist, also shared in the big honours of the evening. He first played Caesar-Auguste Franck's piece, Heroique, which is expressive of sorrow and resignation, the brooding melancholy of the offering being followed by an elegiac movement in the major key.

The first theme is then renewed and leads to a climax of great power, from which the second or resignation theme finally emerges triumphant. Mr. Moore's playing, almost needless to add, was superb, while the appreciation of the audience was made strikingly manifest.

Mr. Moore further played Rapsodia Italiana, by Pietro Alessandro You, who is now recognized as one of the leading concert organists of the continent. The work, written since Italy joined the allies, is dedicated to his brother, who was a medical officer at the front. It is built on themes of Italian patriotic songs and dances and provides some delightful organ music, of which Mr. Moore made the most. The whole program was a rich musical feast.

Dr. Ham tendered the hearty thanks of the Guild to Toronto University for the use of the hall.
