

SCHOOLS PICNIC

AT SPRINGBANK

colors of the Collegiate thrown jauntily over their shoulders. And the banner board hats they wore gave them a distinguished appearance which told with the crowd. Their drill was almost faultless, but the judges found some room for criticism in a couple of the first movements made.

Then came the girls of Grade 3. They were also dressed in white and wore the Collegiate colors, but they were more demure. Their drill work was splendid and won rounds of applause. Last of all came the commercial girls. Like the others, they were dressed in white, with the colors of the Collegiate enlivening the dainty quietness of their costumes, and they wore attractive bronze paper crowns.

Commercials Win.

The minute the band struck up the "Bonnets of Bonnie Dundee," it was plain to all that the commercial girls were in the game to win. With a precision which won the hearty approval of that seasoned veteran, Bandmaster Slatter, the young ladies carried themselves gracefully through each difficult movement, and when the drill had been finished the judges found that Grades 5 and 4 and the commercial girls were tied.

In the final competition, the commercial girls won, and they were applauded heartily by their rivals, who manifested a spirit of broadness which should prove an object lesson to many ones.

More Prizes Given.

Mayor Judd and Ald. Gillen were standing on the green at the time, and the goodwill of the losing team so moved the mayor and alderman that they and there they agreed to duplicate the prize, and thus both teams are prize-winners.

"They were so evenly matched," said Ald. Gillen, "that I think it is only fair, anyway, to give the losers a prize."

In all sixty girls took part in the drill.

The following are the names of the young ladies who took first in the competition: Jessie Duguid, Lillie Ross, Laura Doan, Madeline Nuttall, Lizzie Curran, Kate Barnes, Ida Cox, Ivy Campbell, Kate Doyle, Velma White, Mary Mowatt, Ethel Gough, Wilona Thornton, Annie LeSeur, Ethel Loney, Marguerite Kilgallon, Mamie Walsh, Merle Barnard, Veronica Crumney, Nellie Graham.

Rifle Presented.

At 4 o'clock Mrs. (Dr.) Niven, on behalf of the Daughters of the Empire, presented the Ross Rifle to the winner of the Collegiate Institute contest, Sergeant McBride. The presentation took place in the bandstand, Principal Radcliffe addressing the spectators and speaking a few words of congratulation to the winning sergeant.

Among those who took a prominent part in the sports were Principal Radcliffe, Inspector Edwards, Ald. Gillen, Ald. Booth, and the ever-welcome, irreplaceable "Barney" McCann. Mr. McCann was everywhere, and he was a prime favorite with the contestants in the several events.

That Ball Game.

One of the most interesting features of the afternoon's sport was a baseball match between the Collegiate Institute and a picked team from the schools. The game was fast, well played, as a rule, although the public school kids had a slight edge and made plays they did not make under ordinary circumstances. The Collegiate team played the better ball. They hit better and ran bases with more judgment. Hodges, at third base for the Collegiate, made the prize catch of the day. Collins pitched well and was ably supported by Brock behind the bat. Altogether, on first, played well.

For the public school, the work of the battery, Gillies and Miles, was the feature. Their work was splendid. Gillies pitched well, and Miles, for a youngster, is a star catcher. Beech put up the best fielding game, while Morgan, at first, was worthy of special mention.

The public school had one bad inning, and lost all chances of winning. The score at the end of the seventh inning was 8 to 2.

Dr. Tillmann and Tom Cousins umpired well, and J. McRoberts acted as scorer.

The Teams were:

Some Splendid Sports.

The sports were splendid, in spite of the outbursts of J. Pluvius. The afore-said J. Pluvius could never have been a kid, or he would not have cut up like he did yesterday. Every school was well represented, and the way the youngsters ran would do a man good.

Boys and girls, they all did their level best to win the prizes. Some of them lost, of course, but the prize list was liberal, and there was not much disappointment. The Collegiate sports were interrupted by the rain, but the most of them were finished. The youngsters were eager to have the races, and it would have taken considerable moisture to have dampened their enthusiasm.

The following is the complete list of prize winners, with the exception of division No. 6, composed of Simcoe, King and Colborne street south schools, where the list of winners was not kept.

No. 1—Victoria, Wortley Road and Grand Avenue.

Kindergarten, Boys—1 Sheridan B. Atkinson, 2 Raymond H. Carfrae, 3 Robert Henderson.

Kindergarten, Girls—1 Loreen White, 2 Violet Home, 3 Louise Baker.
